LONGER DRAFT BACKERS AGREE TO 2½ YR. LIMIT

AEF Foes Hold Out for 18 Months.

BY CHESLY MANLY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 1.—Senate managers of the administration proposal to extend indefinitely the service of all army personnel today put forth what they described as a compromise in order to win greater support in the senate and to avert possible defeat in the house.

The compromise suggestion was advanced during spirited debate in which it was charged repeatedly that the Roosevelt administration is preparing to send a vast expeditionary force to Europe or Africa in response to British demands for American troops.

Administration supporters on the military affairs committee met with representatives of the war department and agreed to accept an amendment to the army service extension legislation under which draftees and National Guardsmen could be retained in service not more than 2½ years, or 18 months after the expiration of the 12 month period for which they were inducted.

Agree to Release 28 Year Olds.

Senator Elbert D. Thomas [D., Utah], who introduced the 18 month extension amendment in the senate, disclosed that conferees on a bill previously passed by the senate and the house had adopted a provision for the release of all draftees now in service who became 28 years of age before the date of their induction.

This provision directs the secretary of war to release such men who request to be released "as soon as practicable and when not in conflict with the interests of national defense."

The bill in conference had provided for the mandatory deferment of all draft registrants 28 years of age or older, but not for the release of any men already in service.

Similar Power in This Bill.

The pending service extension resolution would give the secretary of war discretionary authority to release draftees already in service who became 28 before their induction and those who, regardless of age, would suffer undue hardship if retained on active duty. The conferees decided to incorporate the provision in the bill already approved, and not wait for action on the pending bill.

A unanimous consent agreement to limit debate on the service extension measure, beginning Monday, was obtained by Majority Leader Alben W. Barkley of Kentucky. With debate limited to 30 minutes by any senator on the bill and on any amendment, the senate is expected to pass the resolution by a 2 to 1 vote on Tuesday.

Altho gratified by the concessions pried loose from the administration forces, senate noninterventionists said they would not consider supporting the so-called compromise, limiting to 2½ years the time that draftees and National Guardsmen could be held in service.

Foes of AEF Stand Fat.

Administration leaders then intimated a willingness to compromise still further by accepting a 24 month limitation on the service of the citizen soldiers. Noninterventionist leaders, however, said they would not go beyond a total service period of 18 months, and some said they never will vote for any extension of the one year period for which the citizen soldiers were inducted.

Senator Robert A. Taft [R., O.], who offered a substitute plan providing for a limit of 18 months on the service of draftees, and for their release in increments of 50,000 a month, beginning next April, said he will not vote for a greater service period.

Senator Taft also offered an amendment limiting the overall strength of the army to 2 million men. The pending resolution would remove the 900,000 limitation on the number of

Demand Probe of Movies' War Propaganda

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 1.—A resolution directing the senate interstate commerce committee to investigate war propaganda in the movies and radio was introduced in the senate today by Senators Bennet Champ Clark [D., Mo.] and Gerald P. Nye [R., N. D.].

Since the chairman of the interstate commerce committee is Senator Burton K. Wheeler [D., Mont.], leader of the senate anti-war forces, the resolution is not likely to be pigeonholed.

The preamble of the resolution charges that control of the movie and radio industries "is in the hands of groups interested in involving the United States in war" and that war propaganda disseminated by radio and moving pictures "reaches weekly the eyes and ears of 100 million people."

Nye Names Pictures.

All this propaganda, the resolution charges, has been "directed to one side of the important debate now being held not only in congress but thruout the country."

Senator Nye, at a rally sponsored by the America First committee in St. Louis, Mo., tonight, discussed the proposed investigation more fully and more bluntly. The time has come, he said, when "we owe it to ourselves to speak plainly."

For many months, Nye said, the movie companies have been turning out films "designed to rouse us to a state of war hysteria." He mentioned such films as "Convoy," "Escape," "Flight Command," "That Hamilton Woman," "Man Hunt," "Sergeant York," "The Great Dictator," and "I Married a Nazi."

Cheered On by Roosevelt.

"The President himself," Nye said, "after he had forced congress to pass the lend-lease bill, in a speech to the Academy of Motion Picture Arts, complimented the industry on their help in 'explaining' the bill. In fact, only day before yesterday he had Sergt. York at the White House and told him that the new picture would do much to rouse our people.

"And now, let me ask—who are the men who are doing this? And why are they trying to make America punch-drunk with propaganda to push her into war?

"There are 10 major film companies. The men who dominate policy in these companies—own or direct them—are well known to you.

"There is Harry and Jack Cohn of Columbia Pictures. There is Louis B. Mayer of Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer. There is George J. Schaefer of R. K. O. There is Barney Balaban and Adolph Zukor of Paramount. There is Joseph Schenck and Darryl Zanuck of Twentieth Century Fox. There is Murray Silverstone of United Artists, and the great Sam Goldwyn of Samuel Goldwyn, Inc. There are the three Warner brothers, Arthur Loew, Nicholas Schenck, Sam Katz, and David Bernstein of Loew's, Inc.

Directors from Europe.

"In each of these companies there are a number of production directors, many of whom have come from Russia, and Hungary, and Germany, and the Balkan countries.

"Now, do not misunderstand me. I

SEN. LUMPKIN, WHO SUCCEEDED BYRNES 2 WEEKS AGO, DIES

Washington, D. C., Aug. 1 (AP).—Senator Alva M. Lumpkin [D., S. C.] died tonight at George Washington University hospital.

Senator Lumpkin took office less than two weeks ago, succeeding Senator James F. Byrnes who was named to the Supreme court. The 55 year old legislator was stricken with gastric hemorrhage Wednesday while preparing to leave for his home in Columbia. The gravity of his condition was not disclosed until today.

Mrs. Lumpkin and his son, Alva Jr., were here with him.

Lumpkin served in the South Carolina legislature from 1912 until 1915, and was assistant state attorney general in 1919. He was president of the bar association in 1934, and was appointed a federal District Judge two years ago.

SENATE FINANCE PLACE FOR STATE URGED BY BROOKS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 1.—Senator Wayland Brooks [R., Ill.] today protested against the fact that neither Illinois nor New York is represented on the senate finance committee, which is regarded as the senate's No. 1 committee. Michigan, Massachusetts, and Pennsylvania, he noted, each have two members on the 21 man committee composed of 14 Democrats, six Republicans, and one Progressive.

"Illinois has a population of 7,897,241 persons," Brooks said. "New York has a population of 13,479,142. I merely call the attention of the senate to this situation in the hope of obtaining more equitable representation for Illinois at least and some of the other large states which are entitled to consideration as we approach this all-important matter of deciding how we are going to collect the money to pay government bills.

"We are going to appropriate more money this year than perhaps was ever appropriated in the history of our country. It is difficult for those of us from the larger states properly to represent our people unless some member is present at the committee hearings."

A WEEK'S CRUISE AT SEA PLANNED BY ROOSEVELT

Washington, D. C., Aug. 1. [Special.]—President Roosevelt disclosed today that he hopes to get away early next week for a cruise of at least a week off the coast of New England.

He explained that his vacation plans were not to be taken as an indication that the international situation is better or worse, and added that he will be prepared, if he makes the trip, to return at a moment's notice.

He said he hopes to get far north enough to find relief from the sweltering heat of the capital. Asked whether he would go as far north as Canada, he said that would depend on whether a stop at Campobello, N. B., where he has a summer home, would be considered a formal visit to Canada.

GAS EMBARGO AIMED AT JAPAN; 175,000 FACE JOB LOSS IN FACTORY SHUT-DOWNS

Silk Stocks Frozen for Army, Navy.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 1.—The Office of Production Management tonight ordered complete stoppage of all processing of raw silk, effective at midnight tomorrow night, with the result that hosiery and silk manufacturing operations thruout the country must shut down and leave about 175,000 workers idle. The Office of Production Management is a creation of President Roosevelt. Its actions reflect his wishes, and its personnel is subject solely to Mr. Roosevelt's orders.

E. R. Stettinius.

Priorities Director E. R. Stettinius Jr. ordered the "freezing" of every bale of raw silk in the nation's mills and warehouses promptly after notification from the army and navy that the military requirements for silk in the next two years will approximate the total stocks in the country.

Plan to Revamp Mills.

The order was an amendment to one issued a week ago which froze only warehouse stocks.

While the earlier order had the effect of prohibiting deliveries of raw silk from warehouse to mills, tonight's amendment prohibits any processing of raw silk even by mills which have raw silk in their possession.

Approximately 100,000 of the 175,000 workers who will be affected by the stoppage of civilian production are employed in hosiery manufacture, the OPM was told today by Emil Rieve, president of the CIO Textile Workers Union of America. The rest are engaged in the output of silk thread, ribbons, velvets, dress goods, necktie fabrics, braids, and hat bands.

A Union Sponsored Plan.

Rieve submitted to OPM, at a meeting of silk trade association officials, textile union leaders, and defense agency officials, a union sponsored plan for converting the mills to use synthetic fibers, such as rayon or nylon, instead of raw silk.

The plan calls for federally financed expansion of rayon mills, conversion of hosiery plants to the use of rayon or nylon, and the establishment of a federal relief program for displaced employés.

Sidney Hillman, associate director general of the Office of Production Management, interviewed at the Chicago airport late tonight as he was leaving for New York, confirmed reports that he plans to appoint a committee similar to one proposed by Rieve, to work out details of reorganization of the silk industry. It will be a permanent committee, Hillman said, made up of management and labor leaders of the industry. He will name the membership next week.

Sees No Great Unemployment.

Hillman said he doubted that the freezing of the silk industry would "cause any important unemployment."

The silk factory closing order had an immediate effect on cotton prices. Price Administrator Leon Henderson announced the raising of the price ceiling, recently imposed on superfine yarns, from 11 to 24 cents. This yarn is of the type used in the manufacture of high grade cotton lisle hosiery. He left the price ceilings on lower grades at the maximum levels previously set.

A "selfish raid" by some women on retail supplies of silk hosiery was decried by Harriet Elliott, head of the consumer division of the Office of Price Administration and Civilian ply. She asked women to "voluntarily ration" stocking purchases.

Churchill's Son Appointed to Post in Middle East

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Aug. 1.—Randolph Churchill, member of parliament and Prime Minister Winston Churchill's 30 year old son, now a major in the British army, has been appointed liaison officer on the staff of Minister of State Capt. Lyttelton in the middle east, said today.

OIL SALE LIMITED TO AXIS ENEMIES

Washington, D. C., Aug. 1.—President Roosevelt today halted export of gasoline and motor oils to nations outside the western hemisphere, except to the British empire and the unoccupied territories of nations resisting aggression.

Altho the order did not mention Japan, it was obvious that the action was directed at that country. It followed the pattern of earlier steps in the President's economic campaign against the Japanese which he initiated by freezing Japanese credits in this country.

The order limits the export of other petroleum products to pre-war importations of the country seeking to make purchases in the United States, and provides for issuance of licenses on that basis.

The President's action was announced in a brief statement of two paragraphs.

Supplies Shut off Entirely.

The order directed that the administrator of export control cut off completely the shipment "of motor fuels and oils suitable for use in aircraft, and of certain raw stocks from which such products are derived," to destinations lying outside the exempted territories.

Officials explained that so far as aviation gasoline and oil are concerned, the order merely formalized a situation which has existed for some time. On July 26, 1940, export control restrictions were imposed requiring licenses for the shipment of aviation gas and oil. In practice, no licenses for such shipments to Japan have been granted since then, it was said.

However, Japan has been getting a large quantity of lower grade petroleum products, it was explained. Now these shipments are to be limited to "pre-war" quantities.

Past Exports Reviewed.

In 1936—before Japan attacked China—American exports of all petroleum products to Japan were valued at $28,873,000, of which $14,194,000 was for crude petroleum; $2,367,000 for gasoline; $9,024,000 for fuel oil, and $2,785,000 for lubricating oil.

Reflecting the Japanese military need for fuel, after Japan's attack on China in July, 1937, American exports increased to $43,279,000, of which $22,103,000 was for crude petroleum; $3,683,000 for gasoline; $7,139,000 for fuel oil, and $5,518,000 for lubricating oil.

In 1938, with the Sino-Japanese war in full swing, Japan's purchases here totaled $51,191,000, including $29,956,000 for crude petroleum; $7,713,000 for gasoline; $6,675,000 for fuel oil, and $2,614,000 for lubricating oil.

Business Nearly Doubled.

In 1939 the purchases dropped to $45,285,000, but rose again to $54,600,000 in 1940—almost double the 1936 figure.

The state department announced, soon after today's White House order, that the government had revoked all licenses issued hitherto for the exportation of petroleum products to countries outside the western hemisphere, except to the British empire and the unoccupied territories of other countries resisting aggression.

"Moral embargoes," imposed to prevent certain war supplies from reaching nations engaged in "unprovoked bombing and machine-gunning of civilian populations," have been in force against Japan for some time because of the bombing of Chinese cities and towns.

Secretary of the Interior Harold Ickes, petroleum coördinator, took action yesterday to move aviation gasoline to Russia. He recommended priorities for the manufacture of 10,000 steel drums in which the gasoline would be hauled, presumably across the Pacific, on U. S. S. R. merchantmen. Ickes also revealed that Russia had asked the United States for the use of two American flag tankers to carry aviation fuel to that country.

July 29 Set as Basis for Price Ceiling.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 1.—Prices of commodities and services will be fixed by the President on the basis of the levels existing on July 29 under the terms of the administration price control bill introduced in congress today.

The measure, embodying the recommendations of the President's special message warning of the danger of inflation, grants autocratic authority to the executive to establish ceilings on the prices of all commodities and services except public utilities, the rates of which are otherwise subject to governmental regulation.

It expressly excludes wages from regulation. It expressly provides that the ceiling on farm product prices shall not be less than 110 per cent of the parity price, which is the price which would give the producer the same purchasing power as in the period 1909-'14.

10 Per Cent Cushion Provided.

The provision of 10 per cent above parity is a cushion to offset fluctuation in the prices of farm products and assure the farmer that he will receive not less than the parity price at all times.

No attempt is made in the bill to curb instalment buying, the constitutionality of regulation in this field having been seriously questioned.

Representative Henry B. Steagall [D., Ala.], chairman of the house committee on banking and currency, who introduced the bill in the house, said prices on July 29 were chosen as the base of regulation because that was the day before the President proposed the legislation. The announced hearings on the bill will begin Monday before his committee. He plans to report the bill to the house in not more than a fortnight.

Great Opposition Manifested.

Great opposition is already being manifested to the dictatorial aspects of the proposed legislation. Under the administration bill the President could delegate the price fixing powers to Leon Henderson, the radical New Dealer who is the President's present price fixer. A movement is afoot to confer the powers on a board of several members.

The proposed price fixing powers would terminate, under the terms of the bill, one year after the President or congress declares the authority is no longer necessary.

The bill provides that whenever in the judgment of the President commodity prices have risen or threaten to rise to an extent or in a manner inconsistent with the purposes of the bill he shall establish such price ceiling or ceilings as in his judgment are generally fair and equitable to buyers and sellers, and will effectuate the purposes of the bill.

In addition to these standards the bill provides a further guide to administrative discretion: In establishing ceiling prices for all specified commodities the President is directed, so far as may be practicable, to determine and give due consideration to the prices of such commodities on or about July 29, 1941, and then adjust these base prices for any relevant factors of general applicability, such as speculative fluctuations and general increases or decreases in costs and profits.

Provides for Contingencies.

Altho it is contemplated that the President will ordinarily establish ceilings for particular commodities or groups of commodities, unforeseen contingencies may require the establishment of a more general ceiling for a large number of commodities. The reference to any "commodity or commodities" is designed to authorize such action if the need should arise.

The term "commodity" is so defined as to include not only all materials, commodities, and articles, whether raw materials, foodstuffs, or finished products, but also services rendered in connection with commodities and other services rendered by ordinary service establishments.

The definition also explicitly excludes from the ambit of regulation not only wages but public utility rates. But this provision does not permit sellers of ordinary commodities to escape from the authority of the bill by the claim that they enjoy a public utility status, or does it exempt the sale by any public utility of ordinary commercial products or services.

Statements to Be Required.

Every ceiling must be accompanied by a statement of the underlying considerations involved in its issuance. Those charged with the administration of the bill must publicly disclose the reasons for their action, thus inviting public scrutiny, and offering any person who wishes to contest the validity of the ceiling ample notice of the basis for the administration's action.

The regulation of rents is confined to preparedness area housing accommodations in a designated preparedness area which at any time subsequent to Aug. 31, 1940, rented at $15 per room per month or less and which at the time of the designation have risen 10% in excess of the lowest rent subsequent to such date.

After designating preparedness rental areas and preparedness area housing accommodations, the President may make recommendations for the stabilization or reduction of rents for arms area housing accommodations within each area so designated. State and local authorities shall have 60 days after the issuance of the President's recommendations to carry them into effect. Only if they fail to take appropriate action within this period may the President establish such rent ceilings as in his judgment will effectuate the purposes of the act.

Area Classes Provided.

Subsection [C] further provides that ceilings may be established in such form and manner and may contain such classifications and differentiations as the President may deem necessary. This is merely to assure that ceilings may be formulated in terms best suited to the particular industry or areas involved and may contain such differentiations for special factors as are essential to effectuate the purposes of the bill.

The President is authorized to acquire and dispose of commodities in order to obtain the maximum necessary production from marginal or high-cost producers without causing general price increases or otherwise to avoid price increases inconsistent with the purposes of the bill.

The 110 per cent parity price ceiling applies to basic farm products. If a comparable price for any nonbasic agricultural commodity has been determined by the secretary of agriculture under the act of July 1, 1941, then the bill provides that no ceiling may be established below such comparable price.

The bill makes violations of any regulation, order, or requirement under the bill unlawful regardless of any agreement, lease, or other obligation heretofore or hereafter entered into.

It expressly provides that nothing in the act shall be construed to require any person to sell any commodity or to offer any accommodations for rent. This is to avoid raising the question of the "taking" of any property in the constitutional sense.

The bill creates an emergency court of appeals to which any person subject to price ceiling regulations may appeal from the President's decrees. The court is to consist of federal judges designated by the chief justice.

Elaborate enforcement measures and penalties are provided. If a seller disregards the ceiling the buyer may bring suit to rescind the sale or sue for treble the amount of the difference between the ceiling price and the price he paid.

Licensing Is Provided.

The President is authorized to require licenses for any business affected by price fixing regulations. Exempt from this provision are the sale and distribution of newspapers, books, periodicals, or other written or printed material. Revocation of license would put the person or corporation affected out of business. Penalties for violation of the act are a fine of not exceeding $5,000 or imprisonment for not more than one year, or both.

In order to arm him with all the power necessary to compel compliance with price fixing regulations, the bill extends for the period of the emergency the power conferred on him in section 2 of the emergency banking act of March 9, 1933, to regulate foreign exchange, hoarding, etc. The provision puts more teeth in the 1933 act by making it possible to invoke the sanctions of the price fixing act.

Editor for Army

MRS. WILLIAM P. HOBBY.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 1—(AP).—The army has selected a woman editor to interpret the activities of Mars to wives, sweethearts and mothers.

She is Mrs. William P. Hobby of Houston, Tex., newspaper executive, the first woman legistative parliamentarian, one-time assistant city attorney, mother of two youngsters and wife of a former governor of the Lone Star State. She will head the newly created women's division in the war department's bureau of public relations.

Mrs. Hobby has written many so-called women's stories for the Houston Post. She managed to get them done while helping run the Cleburne National Bank, codifying state banking laws, joining in the activities of the Junior League and being president of the Texas League of women voters.

CANADA REJECTS SUNDAY GAS SALE TO U. S. TOURISTS

TORONTO, Ont., Aug. 1 (AP).—G. R. Cottrelle, federal oil controler, today turned down the request of the Ontario Hotel association and other groups interested in the tourist business, that United States' visitors be permitted to buy gasoline on Sunday, at least until Sept. 15.

Cottrelle notified the organization that no exemptions can be made.

J. W. Connell, managing director of the Hotel association, in commenting on the decision, said he felt that "United States dollars are more valuable than saving a few gallons of gasoline."

Motorists and tourists entering this country need have no fear of compulsory gasoline rationing, Justice T. C. Davis, associate deputy minister of national war services, said in Ottawa.

"Reports circulating in the United States that motorists in Canada will be limited to 15 gallons per month are without foundation," said the judge.

SAY ARGENTINA IS SET TO SPURN U. S. 'BLACKLIST'

BUENOS AIRES, Aug. 1 (AP).—Argentina was reported today to have decided not to support the United States blacklist of Latin-American firms suspected of trading with the axis.

Authoritative diplomatic sources who reported the decision said it was based on a constitutional guarantee that a citizen who has been doing business for a long time with another is entitled to continue his trade unless Argentine law prevents it. More of the blacklisted firms are in Argentina than in any other Latin-American country.

PROBE OF MOVIE WAR PROPAGANDA ASKED IN SENATE

8 Films Cited as Efforts to Whip Up Hysteria.

say nothing against the people of these countries. They should have here the same opportunities that are open to every other dweller in our midst. But in this great era of world upset, when national and racial emotions run riot, and reason is pushed from her throne, this mighty engine of propaganda is in the hands of men who are peculiarly susceptible to these emotions.

"Great Americans like Senator Wheeler, Col. Lindbergh, and Gen. Wood are in many places denied the use of a hall to speak up for America. But these men, with the motion picture films in their hands, can address 80 million people a week, cunningly and persistently inoculating them with the virus of war.

"Why do they want to push us into war? Well, they have all sorts of interests. But here is one I can give you. One of the leading Wall street investment houses made a study of these movie industries only a few months ago. It told its clients that if Britain loses, seven of the eight leading companies will be wiped out.

Depend on Foreign Sales.

"That report revealed that the quarters and half dollars of the American movie patrons barely pay for the cost of producing these gigantic movie spectacles. The profits depend on the sales in the foreign market, which is now reduced to England and her dominions. Take one of these companies alone. In 1940 the company collected 80 million dollars. But 8 millions of that was collected in England. That 8 million dollars just exactly represented the profits of the company. That British market accounted for the profit.

The company, it was estimated, could pay $5 a share. But if Britain loses, then that $5 would be reduced to zero.

Another company depends for 35 per cent of its earnings on the British market. The war has already cut that to 20 per cent. And if England loses, the company will lose all of that profit. Moreover, countless millions of dollars of these companies' earnings are tied up in England, held there in blocked sterling, frozen there, and they cannot be taken out unless the war ends and Britain wins. This movie industry has a stake of millions of dollars annually in Britain winning this war.

"The question is: Are you ready to send your boys to bleed and die in Europe to make the world safe for this industry and its financial backers?

Senate Inquiry Asked.

"You have a right to know all about this sordid story of war propaganda in the films, and Senator Bennett Clark and I have today called on the United States senate to investigate it. We want to know what part the government has played in this—and whether the government here, like the governments in Hitler's Germany and Mussolini's Italy, is using the films to poison the minds of the American people against most of Europe in order to plunge us into the bloodiest war in history. And for what reason? To make the world safe for British imperialism and Russian communism?"

Nye declared Maj. Gen. Charles S. Richardson has been sent to Hollywood to prepare war films, and that there are government men on every moving picture lot. He added that it appears the government is anxious to whip up the warrior spirit in young men and glorify war in the name of national defense.

Wedding Revealed

[TRIBUNE Photo.]

Mr. and Mrs. G. Raymond Chadwick at party last night to announce their marriage. She is the former Laurabelle Bundesen.

Dr. Herman N. Bundesen, president of the board of health, and Mrs. Bundesen held a postnuptial reception at their home, 7410 Oglesby avenue, last night for their second daughter, Mrs. Laurabelle Bundesen Chadwick.

It was revealed, when announcements of the reception were sent out, that Laurabelle Bundesen and George Raymond Chadwick, whom she met last fall at the American Academy of Art, were married April 19 at Mount Pleasant, Ia. Chadwick is a son of Clarence E. Chadwick, southern manager for the United Fruit company.

Laurabelle is the fourth of the six Bundesen children to be married. There are six grandchildren.

5 PCT. ADVANCE IN APARTMENT RENTS DUE OCT. 1

A general rent increase of 5 per cent was indicated yesterday for apartment tenants in Chicago whose leases expire Oct. 1. Building management firms are sending out notices that rents will be increased from $2.50 to $5 on smaller units, and as high as $15 in large units whose rent levels have been below neighboring apartments.

The management firms said that there was no agreement for concerted action in raising rents, but recalled that similar increases became effective last May 1 for tenants whose leases expired then. They said that occupancy of apartments thruout the city was close to 99 per cent and that there are fewer vacant flats than in 15 years. Even big suites, long a drug on the market, are well rented.

The record occupancy and industrial activity were assigned as reasons for the increase. Management firms said that nine other large American cities have higher rent schedules than Chicago.

Japs Defy U. S. on 'Embargo'; British See Move on Thailand

Rap Malayan 'Bar'

TOKIO, Aug. 2 [Saturday.] (AP).—The Japanese foreign office mouthpiece expressed today Japan's determination to get rubber, tin and oil in the south orient regardless of what it termed a "de facto embargo" against Japan in Malaya by the United States and Britain.

"This artificial exclusion of Japan from supplies," said the Times and Advertiser, English language organ of the foreign office, "merely hastens the course of self-sufficiency in the western Pacific."

Say U. S. Seeks Monopoly.

It pictured the United States as attempting to monopolize purchases of raw materials in the south seas and said the same situation was likely to develop in South America.

Sumner Welles, United States acting secretary of state, "talked very suavely" about raw materials being available to Japan, the paper said, but it added that the United States "effort to close markets to Japan by buying the surplus so that markets can explain they are sold out" should convince every one that politics as well as economics is involved.

Thailand Gives Japs Credit.

An agreement announced yesterday, giving Japan a credit of 10,000,000 bahts [nominally $3,600,000] for purchases in Thailand, will give Japan a chance to get rice in that portion of the Malay peninsula.

The agreement with the Thai government was taken as an indication of the difficulty under which Japan has been placed by the United States and British freezing orders.

Prepare for Action

LONDON, Aug. 1 (AP).—Japan, moving again in the direction of British interests in the far east, has demanded that Thailand [Siam] grant her military bases and control of the Thai rubber, rice and tin production, it was reported authoritatively here today.

The report found Britain herself preparing for Asiatic action, both defensive and offensive.

Japan was declared to have offered to restore to Thailand, in exchange for the concessions, the province of Laos, east of Thailand.

French Met Similar Terms.

The Japanese moved into Indo-China this week after the French surrendered to similar demands.

London sources expressed belief that Thailand had only two choices: To grant the demands or have the Japanese take what they want.

Strengthen Burma Defenses.

The air ministry announced the RAF had been considerably strengthened in Burma, which lies alongside Thailand on the west, "for both offensive and defensive actions." It added that American made Brewster Buffalo fighting planes had been dispatched to Burma and to the naval base of Singapore, which is only 400 miles south of the border of Thailand at the tip of the long and narrow Malay peninsula.

OIL COMPANIES ORDER STATIONS TO OBEY CURFEW

New York, Aug. 1 (AP).—A group of major oil companies today issued orders to their service station operators to observe Secretary Ickes' 7 p. m. to 7 a. m. curfew, while an American Federation of Labor spokesman urged the government to set a 40 hour week in the industry to hold to a minimum the number of jobs that might be eliminated.

Instructions to observe the order, effective Sunday, were sent to division managers or station operators by the Socony-Vacuum Oil company, Standard Oil company [N. J.], and the Texas company.

W. S. S. Rodgers, president of the Texas company, in a letter to employés, said the public looked to the oil industry for leadership.

San Francisco, Cal., Aug. 1 [Special].—Japanese merchants would like to see all foreign business men leave their country, but they do not want any further trouble with the United States now, Arthur T. Hellyer, Chicago tea importer, who resides in Wheaton, said here today.

Arthur T. Hellyer.

Hellyer arrived Wednesday on the Japanese liner Tatuta Maru which began unloading cargo today. He remained here for a brief rest after his experience off the California coast where the ship was held for six days before its owners decided to go into port.

Uncertain About Army Leaders.

Hellyer was emphatic in stating his belief that neither the merchants nor the common people of Japan want war with the United States, but added he was not informed on the attitude of Japan's military leaders.

"Japanese businessmen," he declared, "value American trade, and the Japanese people regard Americans more highly than they do any other foreign nationals."

Nevertheless, Hellyer was certain, President Roosevelt's order freezing Japanese credits in this country and the retaliatory measures taken by the Japanese mean the death of American business in Nippon.

"In the last few years," he said, "it has been increasingly difficult for foreigners to do business in Japan. The freezing order means the end."

In the tea plant in Japan founded by his father, Fred Hellyer, 50 years ago and now operated by him and his brother, Walter, also of Chicago, there has been difficulty in obtaining lead, paper, boxes, and other materials needed in packing.

The Hellyer plant has been unable to obtain sufficient labor this year for the first time, apparently because of Japan's increased concentration on turning out supplies for her war machine.

Sale of Tea Cut in Half.

These difficulties have cut down the amount of tea the Hellyer's have shipped to the United States from the 6,000,000 pounds of pre-war years to less than 3,000,000 pounds, of which only about a million are safely in the United States.

The Japanese common people, Hellyer said, also are feeling the hardships imposed by the long war with China.

The rice crop has been good and there is no actual suffering yet, he reported, but the pinch is felt in restrictions on food and particularly in difficulties met in obtaining necessary items for children. Just as he left Japan, he said, it was reported that eggs would be rationed.

Citing from his own experience, Hellyer said that for three weeks recently it was impossible to obtain bread in Shizuoka, where the Hellyer tea plant is located, 100 miles from Yokohama.

The Chicagoan has been going to Japan for 42 years, alternating with his brother in the annual trips. His son, Fred, still is at the Shizuoka plant, attending to preparation of shipments that now may never reach this country.

On the Tatuta with Hellyer as he returned to America were 200,000 pounds of his tea, valued at approximately $60,000.

BOY, 4, BURNS HANDS.

Brings Invitation to Gladiolus Fete

Accompanied by a carload of gladiolus blossoms, Miss Ruby Graves, queen of the Momence, Ill., gladiolus festival, and her six attendants arrived at the Dearborn street station yesterday and established headquarters in the Hotel Sherman.

They brought an invitation to all Chicagoans to visit the "world's largest gladiolus gardens" on Aug. 7, 8, and 9. It is estimated that 90 million gladioli of 260 varieties will be in full bloom on 600 acres around Momence during the festival. Special events will include a flower show, parades, circus acts, a softball tournament, and band concerts.

JAPANESE LINERS UNLOAD CARGOES TIED UP BY SUITS

Action to Clear Way for Voyage Home.

San Francisco, Cal., Aug. 1 [Special].—Silk and other cargo from Japan valued in excess of $4,000,000 was being unloaded from Japanese ships in San Francisco and Seattle tonight after the NYK line chose to risk a tieup of the merchandize rather than the indefinite delay of two of its finest ships.

The ships were the $15,000,000 Tatuta Maru here and the Helan Maru at Seattle. Both had been given final clearance for sailing today but were held in port after libel attachments were filed against portions of their cargoes.

The decision to unload climaxed hours of confusion during which the ship operators canceled previous plans to unload the cargo. Both ships had been refueled and provisioned and passengers were aboard ready for the outbound voyage.

Passengers Are Aboard.

Nearly 300 passengers were aboard the Tatuta Maru when the noon sailing time was canceled. The passengers included Japanese with American citizenship but no Americans.

The Tatuta Maru arrived here Wednesday with 243 passengers. Before coming in, however, it had joined 44 other American-bound Japanese vessels which hove to or altered course when the United States condemned Japan's move in Indo-China and froze Japanese credits here.

The ship carried $2,500,000 worth of silk consigned to mills in New Jersey and about $500,000 worth of furs, tea and miscellaneous items.

Status of Part in Doubt.

Some of the cargo on the two ships was owned by American nations or had been paid for in full prior to the freezing order July 26. It was expected this would be given prompt release but the status of other portions remained in doubt. All of the cargo remained in the technical custody of the customs service pending study of each consignment.

The NYK line has announced that both the Tatuta Maru and Helan Maru would return directly to Japan.

ARGENTINA RAIDS GERMAN CULTURE CLUB; 30 JAILED

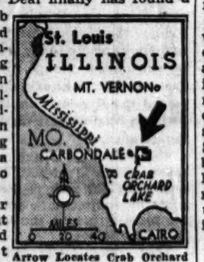
ROSARIO, Argentina, Aug. 1 (AP).—The headquarters of the German Culture Welfare association here was raided today by police who arrested 30 persons and seized a quantity of books and pamphlets, including copies of Adolf Hitler's "Mein Kampf."

The raid was made after neighbors complained of military training of young men in the headquarters at night. Rosario, with 514,000 inhabitants, is Argentine's second city.

U. S. PICKS CRAB ORCHARD LAKE AS ARMS PLANT SITE

Ordnance Works Will Cost 40 Million Dollars.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 1 [Special].—The New Deal finally has found a use for Crab Orchard lake, a boondoggling project in southern Illinois variously known as the frog pond and a mosquito breeder.



Arrow Locates Crab Orchard Lake.

The war department announced today that it had selected a 20,000 acre site on the artificial lake for a bomb and shell loading plant. President Roosevelt has approved the project which will cost about 40 million dollars, including purchase of the land.

In notifying Senator Scott Lucas [D., Ill.], of its action, the war department said the plant would constitute a complete unit for loading shells and bombs and will employ between 6,000 and 7,000 persons in peak operation. It is to be known as the Illinois ordnance plant.

On Three Sides of Lake.

The site of the project is around the north, south, and east portions of the lake, approximately eight miles east of Carbondale, Ill.

Periodically since the Crab Orchard development was begun five years ago, the 7,000 acre lake—largest in Illinois—has been considered for some industry or enterprise to serve as a tonic for the economic ills of the area.

The lake, which has been termed utterly worthless, and the accompanying development were thrust upon Illinois despite widespread protests because it was the brain child of former Congressman Kent E. Keller, a New Deal yes man when he represented the 25th Illinois district.

Remove Bodies from Cemetery.

In clearing 35,316 acres for the project, the government fought landowners in more than 100 condemnation suits and moved bodies from a cemetery in the lake bed despite the tearful entreaties of relatives of the dead.

The war department's action came in the midst of Illinois officials' consideration of a tentative offer by the federal government to lease the Crab Orchard development to Illinois for park purposes.

FINED $50 FOR ASSAULT.

Bruno Panavas, 31 years old, 4411 South Wood street, was fined $50 and costs by Judge Michael Tremko in Stockyards court yesterday on a charge of assault. Panavas was accused of beating John Bartiaki, 53, of 4521 South Wood street, on July 17 in a dispute over 25 cents.

FIRST ACCUSED RED DISMISSED FROM NEW DEAL

Miss Perkins Fires Woman Economist.

BY WALTER TROHAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 1.—Mrs. Helen Miller, an industrial economist in the bureau of labor statistics, today became the first and only employé in the New Deal to be fired for communist affiliations.

Mrs. Helen Miller.

Mrs. Miller, who was suspended July 3 during an investigation into her Red connections, was discharged at the specific order of Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins, who consistently has championed Harry Bridges, radical west coast longahoremen's union leader, in deportation proceedings brought against him.

Need for Loyalty Cited.

"The prestige of this bureau rests upon public confidence and the integrity of the information that it disseminates," Miss Perkins said in explanation of the discharge of Mrs. Miller. "This implies in turn that the bureau is composed of loyal and dispassionate civil servants.

"Such confidence is severely undermined when members of the staff of the bureau, particularly those who, like Mrs. Miller, hold responsible supervisory positions, conspicuously assist in the formation of organizations whose affiliations and basic doctrines strike at the very essence of the American system of government and who seek to extend the influence of such organizations by committee work and speeches."

Red Links Charged.

Mrs. Miller, who is from Fairbury, Ill., was suspended on charges she either was or had been a member of various organizations in which known communists have been active leaders and which have in varying degrees pursued the program and policies of the communist party. Her salary was $3,200 a year.

Canada Redrafts 30 Day Soldiers for "Duration"

OTTAWA, Ont., Aug. 1.—Thirteen hundred single men, 22, 23, and 24 years of age, who served 30 days in the army last winter under compulsory military training, were drafted again today for the duration of the war. About 4,000 men in the July draft went to camps today. The percentage of enlistment for active service overseas has shown a marked increase, officials said.

Rumania Halts Exports of Petroleum to Turkey

ANKARA, Turkey, Aug. 1.—The The Rumanian commercial attaché today informed Turkey that Rumania no longer can export oil and petroleum products to Turkey. The Russians have been bombing Rumanian wells and refineries, and Turkey had arranged to get oil from Britain.

INFANTRY MOVES INTO SMOLENSK LINE, SAY NAZIS

New Smash at Moscow Seen in Move.

BERLIN, Aug. 2 [Saturday] (AP).—German infantry divisions have been brought up to the advance lines in the Smolensk area, informed sources said early today, freeing hard hitting armored units for further penetration into Russia in this strategic front along the road to Moscow, 230 miles northeast of the city of Smolensk.

After fierce battles in which tens of thousands of Russians were annihilated, the infantry troops, it was said, have been moved into positions which heretofore had been held by the armored divisions. These normally operate far ahead of the infantry.

The German official news agency, DNB, asserted that Nevel, Novorzhev, Smolensk, and Zhitomir, mentioned in recent soviet communiques as sectors of fighting, have been in German hands a "long time."

[Nevel and Novorzhev are 300 miles and 200 miles, respectively, south of Leningrad. Smolensk is 230 miles southwest of Moscow and Zhitomir is on the way to Kiev and the Ukraine.]

Claim 35,000 Captured.

German military dispatches yesterday claimed the annihilation of the entrapped troops south of Smolensk along with the capture of 35,000 prisoners and 245 cannon. The dispatches also told of a second encircled Red force northeast of the city.

Official dispatches gave no hint of general action for the final pushes on Leningrad and Kiev.

It was admitted unofficially that soviet forces had "temporarily" driven a wedge between German and Rumanian troops on the far southern front, where it was claimed the Germans had crossed the Dniester river, but it was said that Red attempts to widen this salient had "collapsed with bloody bolshevik losses." An entire soviet division was destroyed, it was added.

In the Kiev area, it was declared that several thousand Russian prisoners had been taken in a series of victories during which Red forces of unstated size had been annihilated.

Finns Cut Railroad.

HELSINGFORS, Finland, Aug. 1 (AP).—The Murmansk railroad, strategic link between Leningrad and the ice-free port of Murmansk, has been cut in several places by the Finnish air force, the Finnish high command declared tonight. Russian transport ships and trains were bombed in the northern sector and a 1,000 ton soviet vessel was sunk, the Finns announced. They said land forces destroyed another Russian battalion which had been surrounded on the Karelian isthmus. Three Russian transports were sunk off the Russian naval base on Finland's Hango peninsula, and artillery hits were scored against two Russian gunboats on Lake Ladoga.

RUSSIANS MADE A WRONG GUESS, SAYS PROFESSOR

Russia made a strategic mistake in assuming that the German thrust into Russia, when it came, would be toward the Ukraine. This opinion was given in an interview yesterday by Paul Haensel, professor of economics at Northwestern university. Prof. Haensel, who was born in Russia but left there in 1928, was former president of the finance section of the Institute of Economic Research and consultant in the soviet commissariat of finance. He was a director of the old Imperial Bank of Russia.

Prof. Haensel said that Russian defenses and troops were concentrated in the Ukraine at the time of the Nazi attack because the Russians "thought Hitler would go after bread and oil before he attacked Moscow." The economist, however, stated his belief that Russia "can recuperate from these German thrusts."

If Nazi troops conquer their four main objectives, Moscow, Leningrad, Kiev, and Kharkov, they will gain control of 60 million out of the 170 million Russians, Prof. Haensel said. The unconquered population would be nomadic, and in Moscow the Germans would control the rail center of all Russia.

TELLS HOW REDS SMASHED CRACK NAZI DIVISION

MOSCOW, Aug. 1 (AP).—The destruction of the crack German 5th infantry division by a Russian tank, artillery, and infantry counterattack was reported today in the army newspaper Red Star by Lieut. Col. P. Shemyakin, commander of the tank force.

The German 5th division [about 15,000 men] made a forced march to the front with the assignment to occupy a sector near city "N," a railroad junction on the main highway in the Russian rear, the account said, but soviet tanks attacked and tore thru the Nazi defenses after short artillery preparation.

Within the German lines the Russian tanks swung on all sides, crushing small separated enemy points of resistance, the account said. The main forces of the Red army then entered the action and encircled the division.

Monterey, Cal., Aug. 1 (AP).—Three air corps men were killed today as two observation planes locked wings in midair. Another was injured seriously. The dead: Second Lieut. John C. Rounfaville, 21, Alto, Tex.; Private Earl E. Potter, 20, Westville, Okla., and Private Marcus W. Owen, Los Angeles, Cal. The injured flyer was Second Lieut. Burt F. Meyer, Rawlins, Wyo. One ship crashed on the beach; the other plunged into the Pacific.

SEE POSSIBILITY OF CHANGES IN FRENCH CABINET

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

VICHY, France, Aug. 1.—There was an air of expectancy in Vichy tonight as informed quarters foresaw the possibility of major political changes after two visitors conferred with Chief of State Marshal Petain. The first was Fernand de Brinon, Vichy delegate to Paris and an outstanding backer of collaboration with Germany. The second was American Ambassador William D. Leahy, who was believed to have discussed the Franco-Japan agreement on Indo-China with Petain.

De Brinon came to Vichy at a moment when Paris politicians and newspapers are calling for an overhauling of the Petain cabinet. Newspapers in unoccupied France charged that the Paris campaign was inspired only by political intrigue and that the Paris personalities who are calling for government changes in Vichy want the vacated posts.

CALL RESERVES IN PHILIPPINES FOR ARMY DUTY

MANILA, P. I., Aug. 1 (AP).—Ten infantry regiments, between 12,000 and 15,000 men, of the Philippine army were ordered mobilized tomorrow by President Manuel Quezon for incorporation into the United States armed forces commanded by Lieut. Gen. Douglas A. MacArthur.

This move, made at Gen. MacArthur's request, marked the first mobilization of Filipino reservists since President Roosevelt's proclamation of July 26 called all "organized military forces" of the Philippine government into the United States service.

The Philippine army consists of about 150,000 reservists divided into 13 divisions, of which 10 are infantry.

O'BRIEN UNABLE TO TALK BEFORE ANTI-WAR RALLY

Dr. John A. O'Brien, professor of religion in the graduate school of Notre Dame university, announced last night that he would be unable to keep an engagement to speak before an anti-war rally to be held tonight in Rand park at Des Plaines.

The meeting is sponsored by the People's Lobby for Action Now, an organization founded by Andrae B. Nordskog of Los Angeles, Cal.

ROOSEVELT CALLS RED STAND AGAINST NAZI ARMY 'MAGNIFICENT'

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 1.—President Roosevelt today applauded as "magnificent" Russia's resistance to Nazi invasion and declared it has been a sad surprise to German leaders.

To emphasize his satisfaction over the fight the soviets are putting up, Mr. Roosevelt suspended White House press conference rules to authorize a direct quotation on Red resistance.

"It is magnificent," he said, "and frankly better than any military expert in Germany thought it would be."

Mr. Roosevelt said American aid to the soviets is strictly on a cash basis because they are able to pay.

CANADIAN ARMY'S THIRD DIVISION REACHES BRITAIN

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Aug. 1.—Arrival of the two "largest convoys ever to cross the Atlantic" was officially announced tonight. The first brought the third Canadian division under command of Maj. Gen. C. B. Price, hundreds of United States technicians, and several hundred airmen trained in Canada. The second convoy carried an estimated $400,000,000 worth of supplies. It included aircraft guns, ammunition, raw materials, and food from Canada and the United States, as well as a number of American airmen arriving to join the Eagle squadron, volunteer doctors and nurses from Canada and the United States, and 250 lumberjacks from Nova Scotia.

HOPKINS AND U. S. MISSION REVIEW STALIN PARLEYS

MOSCOW, Aug. 1 (AP).—Harry L. Hopkins, United States lend-lease administrator, reviewed the results of two meetings with Premier Josef Stalin at a conference today with Ambassador Laurence A. Steinhardt and members of his own supply mission. The conference, at Spasso house, the ambassador's residence, followed last night's three hour session with Stalin and an earlier talk with Foreign Commissar Vyacheslav Molotov.

FIGHTING RAGES ON FOUR FRONTS, RUSSIA REPORTS

Claims No Substantial Change in Positions.

MOSCOW, Aug. 2 [Saturday] (AP).—Heavy fighting in the four main German drives into Russia raged thruout Friday, the soviet information bureau announced early today, but there was no substantial change in positions of the armies. Military dispatches reported the Russians knifing into gaps between Nazi units in disruptive flanking attacks.

The Red army fought off the Germans in the Porkhov, Nevel, Smolensk, and Zhitomir regions, the daily morning communique said, while the air force struck at the invaders both by land and sea.

This communique indicated a resumption of the German smash toward Leningrad after a temporary lull. The previous communique had not mentioned the Porkhov sector, which is 150 miles south of Leningrad, saying instead that important fighting was under way only in the Novorzhev area, 200 miles south of Leningrad, and the Smolensk and Zhitomir sectors. Nevel is about 150 miles south of Porkhov. Smolensk is 230 miles southwest of Moscow. Zhitomir is in the path of the Nazi drive toward Kiev and the Ukraine.

Nazis Raid Moscow.

German planes dropped a few incendiary bombs on Moscow during the night, but most of the raiders were dispersed. Two of the planes were shot down.

The Friday afternoon communique stated that the Red air force had sunk a destroyer and severely damaged two other enemy ships in the Baltic. To that toll this morning's statement added an enemy patrol ship and a 5,000 ton tanker sunk and four enemy ships severely damaged, also in the Baltic.

This communique said that 15 German aircraft were shot down in air fights Thursday as against 7 soviet planes lost.

Nazi Tanks Buried in Ground.

In one sector the Russians reported coming upon a German tank battalion near village "Y" in which the invaders' tanks were buried in the ground up to their turrets "and used by the German command as stationary gun emplacements."

"After the fighting," said the Russian statement, "the soviet tank men discovered that the hatches of some of the German tanks were locked strongly from without. When these tanks were forced open absolutely exhausted German soldiers were found inside."

PUBLISHERS FACE COURT ACTION IN INQUIRY BY FCC

Washington, D. C., Aug. 1 [Special].—James Lawrence Fly, chairman of the Federal Communications commission, today directed the commission's legal staff to begin court action to force two newspaper executives to answer commission subpenas. The executives are Edwin S. Friendly, business manager of the New York Sun, and James G. Stahlman of the Nashville Tennessee Banner.

Elisha Hanson, counsel for the American Newspaper Publishers' association, told the commission that he had advised the executives not to accept a series of subpenas from the FCC. He said the commission had no authority to investigate the newspaper publishing business or any of its interests.

FCC attorneys said they would ask a Federal District court for orders requiring appearance of the two, and if these were ignored, would bring contempt action. The commission is conducting an investigation to determine whether to promulgate rules or regulations affecting acquisition of radio stations by newspaper interests.

DIES AFTER CAR HITS TRAIN.

Jerseyville, Ill., Aug. 1 (AP).—Adrian W. Cason of Jerseyville was injured fatally today when an automobile in which he was riding struck an Alton railroad freight train in Jerseyville.

London Urges Unity in India; 'Fight On!' Called Aim There

War Threat Feared

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Aug. 1.—A call for unity among Indian statesmen to face the menace of war, which "may well draw closer to her shores from the east and west in the next few months," was made in the house of commons today by Secretary for India L. S. Amery during a debate on India's part in the war and its future status in the British commonwealth.

Opening the debate, Amery told the house, "It is today a matter of general acceptance that India should, as soon as practicable, attain dominion status."

He expressed no doubt that there is enough constructive ability and good will among the Hindus and Moslems to "find a constitutional solution."

C. G. Ammon, Laborite, urged Amery immediately to release Indian political prisoners.

Col. Josiah C. Wedgwood, Laborite member of parliament who has just returned from the United States, also advocated release of Indian prisoners as "a counter to isolationist propaganda" in America.

U. S. Traveler Speaks

New York, Aug. 1.—Dr. Peter Boike of Cincinnati, who returned from India aboard the steamship President Monroe today said current British methods of "handling the Indian situation" include the jailing of "hundreds of Mohandas K. Gandhi's followers," and the countenancing of rioting by the Hindus and Moslems.

He said he was told the British view is that "as long as they [the Indians] are breaking each others' heads, they have no time to be anti-British."

Dr. Boike, head of a health institute in Calcutta, said that Gandhi was "busily giving orientation to the country's attitude toward the war," but that the government had been fomenting division between the Hindus and Moslems by "favoring Mohammedans in the government service whether they are qualified or not." The Hindus, he explained, are the majority religious sect in India.

During the last two months, Dr. Boike said, there has been extensive rioting between members of the two sects in the streets of Bombay, Ahmedabad, and Cawnpore.

CLEARING OCEAN BY U. S. CALLED UNDECLARED WAR

America First Speaker Assails Willkie.

R. Douglas Stuart Jr., founder and national director of the America First committee, asserted last night that the war party proposal to "clear the Atlantic now" is in reality a demand that "our navy and our air force enter the war immediately as a full belligerent, carrying out the will, not of congress, but of Secretary of the Navy Knox."

In a nationwide radio speech Stuart lashed at Secretary of the Interior Ickes for using the "technique of Goebbels" in attacking those with opposing views. He took to task Wendell L. Willkie for his refusal to debate the question of war or peace with Norman Thomas, Socialist leader, and declared that entrance into war would be a repudiation of the views of 80 per cent of Americans.

Cardinal American Principle.

"Here, then, is the threat that strikes at the very heart of the American way," said Stuart. "For if there is one cardinal principle upon which this government is based, it is the principle of majority rule. The day Americans surrender this historic precept will be the day when our democracy can be pronounced dead."

"As usual," the speaker said, "the war party couches its proposals in soft, disarming terms. 'Clear the Atlantic now' they urge. What they mean to say is that our navy and our air force should enter the war immediately as a full belligerent, carrying out the will, not of congress, but of Secretary Knox.

"Once this were done, they know there would be no turning back. We would be at war. Congress and the American people could only lapse into sullen silence—their only function being to honor the dead and pay the bills, as the war went its long and weary course.

Must Frighten Opponents.

"How can the war party hope to achieve so monstrous a purpose? So base a fraud? Not by American methods, certainly; not by free speech and fair debate—rather by means as tawdry as the very end they seek. For they well know they cannot succeed until they frighten into craven silence every person who would honestly oppose their way."

Of Willkie's refusal to debate Thomas at Elwood, Ind., Stuart said, "Mr. Willkie replied, of all things that there are no issues. These are strange words coming from one who has been touring the country trying desperately to answer Charles A. Lindbergh.

"Can the real reason be that he dare not face his home town friends who heard him accuse the President of warlike views so short a time ago? Or is he simply determined still to keep the issue from the people—even the people of his own Elwood?"

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 1.—In icy anger Acting Secretary of State Sumner Welles today characterized as barefaced impudence the German suggestion that Mexico protest against the American black listing of more than 1,800 axis firms in Latin America.

Welles spared no words in denouncing the German note to the Mexican government, which instructed Mexico to lodge a protest with this country and which threatened reprisals for the black listing.

For a country like Germany, which has violated and destroyed the sovereignty of most of its neighbors, to tell an American government how to protect its sovereignty is nothing short of barefaced impudence, Welles said at his press conference.

Welles expressed this government as pleased by the various measures taken by other American republics to thwart axis activities in the western hemisphere. He said these steps are in line with the program of an united American front adopted at the Havana conference of the 26 American republics last year.

DAVIES, FORMER ENVOY, PRAISES RUSSIA'S ARMY

Joseph E. Davies, United States ambassador to soviet Russia from 1936 to 1938, said last night that he has real respect for the Russian soldier and their leaders. Davis stopped briefly at the Chicago airport en route aboard a United Air Lines plane from Washington, D. C., to the west coast. He is chairman of the President's committee for coördination of war relief work.

"I predicted that Russian resistance to the Nazis would surprise the world," said the former ambassador. "I think it already has, and I believe it will surprise the world still further. I don't believe Hitler underestimated the Red army. I think he overestimated his own.

"The Nazis will have an awfully hard job ever to actually conquer Russia."

Critics of AEF Plan Stand Firm for 18 Months.

draftees that could be in service at one time, and thus permit the induction of unlimited millions, provided congress voted the necessary funds.

Would Block Any AEF Plan.

Discussing his plan in the senate today, Taft cited the testimony of Gen. George C. Marshall, chief of staff, that a total force of 1,727,000 men is all the army needs under present conditions to defend the western hemisphere.

Senator Taft said he was satisfied that a force of 1,727,000 men, or any force smaller than 2 million, would not "provide an AEF adequate for any journey to Europe or Africa" because of the number that would be required for the proper defense of this country. His limitation of 2 million was intended to prevent the dispatch of an AEF to Europe or Africa, he said.

Senator John A. Danaher [R., Conn.] said the time table of recent events suggests "some ulterior, unspoken, unidentified purpose back of this demand" for the service extension and army expansion legislation.

Democrat Backs Contention.

Senator Millard E. Tydings [D., Md.], who consistently has supported the administration's preparedness and British aid policies, agreed with Senator Danaher.

Tydings objected to the proposal to authorize indefinite extension of the service of draftees and National Guardsmen. He said he would be willing to authorize their retention in service for another six months—perhaps even for a year—but would not vote to give the President power to keep them in service for life, or even two or three years.

When Senator Lister Hill [D., Ala.], one of the managers of the bill, said it contained a provision whereby congress could recapture the power to be vested in President Roosevelt by passing a concurrent resolution, Tydings replied:

"One of the excuses which has been offered in every parliament on the face of the earth—one of the reasons Hitler is where he is today—is that there were men who said: 'Yes, it can be recaptured.' That is the same argument that has been used in Germany, in Italy, in Russia, and in every dictatorship that this world has had since the World war.

"The way to preserve democracy is to keep hold of it and not give it away."

Army Warned Not to 'Write of Canal Defense

BALBOA, Canal Zone, Aug. 1.—Lieut. Gen. Daniel Van Voorhis today warned United States army personnel not to mention matters concerning the Panama Canal or other defense activity in personal correspondence. He emphasized precaution as particularly necessary in letters to foreign correspondents, saying certain letters already had been brought to the attention of the war department. The warning said noncompliance would subject the writers to possible prosecution under the espionage act.

FINLAND FIGHTS FOR SECURITY, SAYS PRESIDENT

Hopes to Remain Friends with America.

HELSINGFORS, Finland, Aug. 1 (AP).—President Risto Ryti told a group of foreign correspondents from Berlin today that Finland was fighting for her rights, had no imperialist ambitions, hoped to remain friends with America, and desired that after this war all nations of Europe shall live in peace.

President Ryti.

In an informal chat in Helsingfors' White House during an afternoon reception he spoke slowly and deliberately and readily answered questions, sometimes in English and sometimes in German.

"Finland's war may be summed up in one word—security," the president said.

Says Nazis Can Beat Reds.

"We are fighting because we were compelled to. We are lucky this time that we are not standing alone but have a powerful ally in Germany, which is the one large nation which can successfully defeat bolshevism."

Asked whether the breach of diplomatic relations with Britain was likely to have any effect on Finland's relations with the United States, he replied, "Not unless America becomes an active ally of soviet Russia."

"Otherwise," he said, "relations can go on normally just as heretofore. In the case of Britain, the fact that she became an active ally of Russia naturally gave rise to the possibility that her diplomatic representation here might become a listening post for the U. S. S. R. That is why we had to sever relations."

No Selfish Motives.

Ryti then reemphasized his assertion that Finland's motives were not selfish.

"In this matter all four Scandinavian nations think alike. They merely want the right to exist. Europe's new order must be one in which all nations have the feeling of being free from the constant danger of threatening war."

COUPLE MARKS 62D ANNIVERSARY.

Coldwater, Mich., Aug. 1 (Special).—Mr. and Mrs. John Coll observed their 62d wedding anniversary at their home here today.

"I HATE WAR"

In an address on Sept. 11, 1940, President Roosevelt said:

"I hate war now more than ever. I have one supreme determination—to do all I can to keep war away from these shores for all time. I stand with my party, upon the platform adopted in Chicago:

"'We will not participate in foreign wars, and we will not send our army, naval, or air forces to fight in foreign lands outside of the Americas, except in case of attack.'"

SETTLE MINING AND DOCK LABOR ROWS IN BRITAIN

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Aug. 1.—Two labor disputes in shipping and coal mining areas ended today. By a vote of nearly two to one, South Wales miners reversed their previous decision and decided to work on Sundays.

The Glasgow docks labor dispute was settled when the ministry of transport agreed to the men's demand and withdrew the new system of labor allocation under which each man must work at one particular dock instead of freelancing.

Liverpool dock workers wired Minister of Labor Ernest Bevin demanding his intervention to settle their dispute. At the same time, to prove they "have no desire to impede work at the docks," the men offered to do a four hour shift without pay. They are protesting the erection of a dockside compound in which the men were to be locked while waiting to be assigned to their duties.

NAZIS EVACUATE THOUSANDS OF BERLIN CHILDREN

BERLIN, Aug. 1 (AP).—DNB, official German news agency, reported from Bratislava today that several thousand children from Berlin and western Germany had been settled in Slovakia to escape British air raids.

This was the first German indication of any large scale new migration from bombed areas since the beginning in June of the heavy British air assault. Even before RAF raids were intensified, however, there had been reports of women and children being removed from populated centers.

Norwegian sources in London reported June 24 that a large scale exodus of German officials and citizens from northern German cities was under way to occupied Norway because of British raids.

NAZIS PROCLAIM STATE OF SIEGE THRUOUT NORWAY

Seize All Power Plants Following Clashes.

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, Aug. 2 [Saturday] (AP).—Morning newspapers reported today that German police have taken over all power plants in Norway and that a state of civil siege has been proclaimed thruout the Nazi occupied country.

Arrow shows where clash occurred.

Inhabitants of a great many districts, especially those along the coasts, have been ordered to deliver all radio receiving sets to the police, the papers said. No reason for the reported German action was given by the papers.

The Scandinavian radio said Thursday night, however, that it had received information of a clash between German marines and civilians at Alesund, Norway. The civilians tried to halt deportation of about 70 hostages collected in the city and its environs, the radio reported.

Shouts of Long Live King.

They were to be taken away in a chartered steamer at a secret time, the radio said, but the populace learned the vessel would sail during the night and surrounded the detention center in a Masonic hall.

When a deputy police chief appeared the crowd demonstrated against him and he ordered all demonstrators arrested, including some elderly women, the radio reported.

The crowds then tried to block the bridge leading to the waterfront and the police official had to take refuge with German friends, who called marines from Nazi warships to help.

The marines were stoned and flailed with umbrellas by the crowds, particularly women, and fired pistols in the air.

Fearful of bloodshed, Harold Doenneberg, a prominent citizen who was one of the prisoners, appealed for order and told the rioters they could not help. He concluded by shouting "Long live the king!" and asked the crowd to sing the royal anthem.

Bareheaded, the throng sang the hymn, then opened their ranks to let the buses thru to the pier, following them and singing Norwegian patriotic songs as the ship left.

BRITISH MINISTER HOPS FOR U. S.

LISBON, Portugal, Aug. 1 (AP).—Sir Ronald Ian Campbell, successor to Sir Gerald Campbell as British minister to Washington, took off by Clipper today for New York. Sir Gerald has been named propaganda chief for Britain in the United States.

GERMAN BUFFER STATE IN POLAND TAKES RED AREA

BERLIN, Aug. 1 (AP).—The German administered government general of Poland annexed territory today in the vicinity of Lwow, which had been under Russian rule under the 1939 Russian-German treaties, DNB, German news agency, stated in a dispatch from Cracow.

Parts of Galicia which had been under Russian dominance also were restored to the government general by the Germans. The region affected comprised parts of the old Polish provinces of Lwow, Tarnopol, and Stanislau.

The government general is the part of prewar Poland created by the 1939 partitioning of the nation as a buffer between those sections annexed by Germany and those annexed by Russia. Russia on Wednesday renounced her claim to the sections she had taken, scrapping the 1939 German-Russian treaties in a new mutual aid agreement with the exiled Polish government in London. Germany now occupies all the territory concerned.

16 British Ship Survivors Rescued from Raft at Sea

LISBON, Portugal, Aug. 1 (AP).—Sixteen survivors of the 3,433-ton British freighter Holmside were landed here today by the Portuguese freighter Saudades, which picked them up from a raft in the Atlantic ocean off the Cape Verde Islands. Some were injured by explosions aboard the ship when she was attacked and sunk at sea and all were in desperate condition for want of food and water when rescued.

Save Our Republic

"WAYS THAT ARE DARK AND TRICKS THAT ARE VAIN."

It was probably American gasoline which carried the Japanese bomb to batter the stern of the United States gunboat at Chungking. The Japanese got the gasoline. Our state department got an apology. No one asks why the gunboat should be there.

Mr. Roosevelt's explanation of the sale of oil to Japan struck the Chinese all of a heap. For two years, he said, he had been keeping the Japanese out of the Netherlands East Indies by allowing them to get their oil in the United States. The Chinese knew, of course, where the Japanese were getting their gasoline, but possibly hadn't seen the matter in the light with which Mr. Roosevelt suddenly illuminated it. They were being sacrificed to the imperial interests of the Netherlands and the British in the Malay countries. That put the fight for democracy in an odd fix.

The Chinese in Chungking say they were horrified when they discovered that it was Mr. Roosevelt's own little idea to keep the Japanese out of imperial French territory in Indo-China, imperial Dutch territory in the Netherlands East Indies, and imperial British territory by furnishing the Japanese with the fuel they needed to bomb the Chinese. And Mr. Roosevelt thought it had worked very well, indeed. For two years a bandit nation had been contained in the Chinese sphere of action and on that battle front. So long as it limited its action to dropping explosives on the Chinese and their four freedoms it wasn't molesting the possessions of the Europeans to the south.

Whether the Chinese are democrats or not they are at least defending their own territory against a powerful, if possibly overrated, military nation. They are in the fifth year of this and it may pain them to discover that what they have been doing in the great fight for our way of life everywhere in the world is to keep the Japanese imperialists out of the hair of European imperialists. Mr. Roosevelt didn't quarantine what he calls a bandit. His policy was to keep one war going where it didn't disturb European colonial investments and thus prevent another where it might. The Chinese are struggling to understand it.

SEND THE OFFICERS BACK TO SCHOOL.

A member of the advanced ROTC encampment at Fort Sheridan doesn't know when the bugle awakens him in the morning whether he is going to spend the day peeling potatoes in the kitchen or commanding the battalion of four batteries of anti-aircraft guns. Assignments to duty are shifted every day. The regular army officer in charge of the school says the practice has the double advantage of keeping the cadets on their toes and familiarizing them with every job in the outfit.

These young men will go back for their senior year in college this fall. Upon graduation next June they will get commissions in the army. They should make useful officers. Their military education will not be as extensive as that given at West Point, but it will be up to date, which is more than the majority of West Pointers in the army can claim.

The army should be putting its regular, reserve, and National Guard officers thru schools similar to that being conducted at Fort Sheridan. At present these officers know too many things that aren't so. Their training, whether at West Point or the more important post-graduate service schools, was based on a misapprehension of modern warfare. They have almost as much to unlearn as they have to learn.

Officers have little time for study and training while they are in command of troops. Their time in such assignments is consumed by routine. They should go to school, and their future in the army should depend on the showing they make in the examinations conducted at the end of their courses of instruction. Those who fail to show the mental pliability necessary to master the new principles of combat should be shunted into noncombatant posts.

THE FORTY-NINTH STATE.

One proposal for union now would make Great Britain the 49th state. The idea has some friends in England. We may doubt that it would hold many of them. That proposal would dispose of the empire. The 49th state could not be allowed to appear in the American family, holding Asia by one hand and Africa by the other. We couldn't make any use of India, British Malaya, the Anglo-Egyptian Sudan, Kenya, Tanganyika, or North or South Rhodesia, to name a few of the imperial appendages.

Of the dominions, the Union of South Africa probably wouldn't want to come in. We probably wouldn't want to admit it. It would be too much of a headache. Australia and New Zealand might want to follow the 49th state. The mileage allowance of their congressmen would be something tidy. Americans may suspect that when the British talk of statehood they are kidding either themselves or us. That they should propose a welding of the republic and the empire would be more natural. But two such dissimilar systems of government can't be welded. The best we could offer would be dominion status.

The dominions are self-governing, but circumstances take some decisions out of their hands. Mr. Chamberlain decided that a defensive treaty would be made with Poland. That decided that Great Britain would go to war and, altho the dominions separately voted their adherence, the decision was made when Mr. Chamberlain made his. South Africa did raise an opposing faction, but the dominions followed Great Britain as they were expected to. The empire control lays a light hand upon some of the constituent parts, but the light hand is sufficient. Sentiment is more effective than a compulsion which couldn't be exercised.

Most of the proposers of the union schemes are rational enough to know that Great Britain would not come in as the 49th state and that the United States would not join the empire. What they really want is a military alliance for the defense of the empire. Some of our citizens who have remade themselves into British subjects might like to go the whole road and put a lieutenant-governor in the White House, but they probably wouldn't get out a very heavy vote the country over.

RED AND BROWN IN EUROPE.

Nazi doctrines and communist doctrines are alike in their disregard of what free people cherish as the essence of life. The two systems are alike in their brutalities and their indifferences to the security, dignity, and rights of human beings. They are alike in being corrupt, grafting, and murderous at the top and slavish in the mass. They are Asiatic and have in common the deification of the ruler and the degradation of the people. Favorites acquire wealth and broad acres, the toilers are chained to their jobs, and the populations are controled by barbarous punishment and the fear of it.

These two systems, akin in many respects, are struggling for the mastery of Europe. One may gain it, altho the present hope of the continent lies in the destruction of both. The doctrines carried by the great armies now fighting are alike in their brutality, but they are different in their application. The Russian communists spread revolution by pretending that they have the new and better order of society, which they offer to all other countries that the other countries equally may enjoy soviet blessings with the people of the soviet union. The Reds have no cult of racial superiority. Their pretenses are all of equalitarianism. In soviet theory the variegated populations of the union are all of equal dignity; none is degraded by birth or condition; all people are alike.

The Nazi idea is one of superior and inferior peoples. The pure Germanic are to be the masters. All others brought under the Nazi system are to be the inferiors. Nazi conspirators can find tools in other countries, but they can't start a revolution with the idea that the object is to put a Nazi squarehead where he receives the tribute and salutes of a subject people. The Nazi occupation of a country may find some stooges, dupes, or hired men, such as Quisling in Norway, but it does not create a revolutionary force in the country. Communism has managed to find its zealots in nearly every country in Europe and they have been numerous and powerful. They have organized parties and they have profoundly affected governments.

Russian military success would result in the liquidation of the middle classes in every country into which the Red army penetrated. And when the communists liquidate they do not undertake halfway measures. They exterminate. Their theory is that the dictatorship of the proletariat cannot absorb persons who have been raised in the habits formed by private property and private enterprise. Such persons merely encumber the scene and obstruct the dictatorship. Without more ado they are put out of the way and the ground is cleared for the growth of the Red doctrines.

If the Red army moves west in Europe, the people of every country subjected to it will find that the revolution has been compelled.

A POLL OF NEWSPAPERS.

A poll conducted by the trade magazine, Editor and Publisher, indicates that the daily newspapers of this country are opposed to American participation in the war by a majority of 2 to 1. Questionnaires were sent to the 1,878 dailies and replies were received from 871. To the question, "Do you favor immediate active military and naval participation in the war?" only 250 answered Yes and 615 answered No. To the question, "Do you think the best interests of the United States will be conserved by avoiding conflict?" 512 answered Yes and 316 No.

Here is another straw in the wind and a most significant one. The great majority of the daily newspapers of this country are owned and edited by men of British descent. Likewise, most of these men find themselves in a walk of life that is most easily reached by the social appeal, the interventionist's strongest weapon. When such men are found to be 2 to 1 against intervention, the weakness of the war party is revealed. The war shouters constitute a small minority even among those who by reason of ancestry and association might be expected to approve war by a huge majority.

The division among citizens generally is 4 to 1 against war as was revealed in the recent TRIBUNE poll. When that result was announced, it put a spoke in the phony polls that have been taken to create the appearance that the American people want war. The result was conclusive as to the state of public opinion. The American democracy wants peace and, as the Editor and Publisher now shows, that is the sentiment even in the segments of our society which might have been expected to favor war.

Editorial of the Day

GEN. SUMMER.

[From the New York Daily News.]

Possibly the most important news item yet to come from the German-Russian war was a United Press report from Vichy yesterday, quoting neutral diplomats as stating that the wheat harvest in the Russian Ukraine is now under way and should be completed in two weeks.

If true, that means that if the Russians can stall the Germans on the Ukraine front for another fortnight, meanwhile rushing the harvested grain back into the interior, Hitler's boys will find the Russian bread basket empty when and if they do break in. That in turn will mean that Hitler will have to feed his Russian armies from Germany and Poland and Rumania, over long supply lines.

Napoleon had the same trouble with the Russians' "scorched earth" retreat tactics in 1812. In the end, Gen. Winter got him. It may be that Gen. Summer has gone to work for the Russians in the Ukraine.

It looks as if the peril to Great Britain and the United States is less grave than it was even a week ago—and any reason for an early United States entry into the war more remote.

THE POOR OLD WOMAN.

This column will begin the day with seven lines of silence in memory of the Auditorium, which passed into a sleep resembling death on Aug. 1 and may never awake. Let us pray for the miracle of resurrection.

Who Are All These Strangers?

After ten years or so, the Linemaster has decided that it is no use trying to get acquainted with his colleagues on THE TRIBUNE. Whenever he tries to talk with one of them the guy's telephone rings and he becomes socially hopeless. This is what is known in the trade as "reader response."

THE HORROR OF THE HORNS.

(Slightly reminiscent of Goethe's "Erl König.")

Who rides so fast both night and morn?
It is the moron with noisy horn.
He presses it gayly; he holds it down fast;
The slightest excuse brings a nerve-racking blast.

We hear him at midnight when everything's still,
Emitting the second farewell to his Jill.
The morning's faint light finds him well in his stride
As he calls for his pal and to work they both ride.
But the doorbell means naught to his ill-fitting brain

As this pest can't be checked in the life here below,
If justice prevails in the future, I know
That Gabriel's horn will be held 'gainst his ears

The Auditorium's First Romance.

With the closing of the Auditorium, memories are awakened of 50 years ago. Soon after the observation tower was opened atop the theater, a man and woman came into the Harrison street police station one night in quest of a "marryin' squire." I was south side police reporter for the Herald at the time. I overheard the man's query, addressed to the desk sergeant. Scenting a story I sidled up to the desk and joined the conversation.

The couple had just arrived from Indiana and were bent on "gettin' spliced," as the man put it, "jest as soon as we can find a marryin' squire."

Genial Tom Bradwell was magistrate at the Armory police court at the time, and it was customary for "his honor" to come to the station in the evening to approve bail bonds. While we were talking at the desk the bulky form of the "judge" hove in sight. I told him about the couple that wanted to be married. In the meantime the thought flashed thru my mind that it would be a great idea to have them wedded in the observation tower!

Always ready to help a reporter, the "judge" assented to my request that we all go over to the Auditorium.

And there, 285 feet above the street [the highest point in Chicago] Squire Bradwell performed the marriage ceremony with the elevator operator and this writer as the only witnesses.

TAKING THE COWS TO PASTURE.

The cattle, turned to pasture, made their placid way
By the worn cowpath where morning shadows lay;
With sun-warmed flanks and switching tails they paced
Or reached a flicking tongue for a sweet taste
Of the green tussock underneath the fence
Where grass grew greener and more dense;
Their udders eased from the fresh morning's milk
They cropped red clover with a shearing sound,
Wresting the crimson blossoms from the ground,
They stood at gaze within the dappled room,
Like sacrificial cattle, groomed and for the temple meet.
The barefoot boy who followed and who herded them
Made him a whistle from a peeled and hollow stem;
He piped because no shadow vexed his boyish soul,
And pegged stones at the thrumming telegraph pole.
A harp sang when each stone had reached its mark,

Are You a Clover Collector?

Did you ever find a five-leaf clover? Mrs. Erich Krueger, 3736 West 64th place, found two of them in her back yard the other day and donated them to the Line o' Type museum [a mythical foundation].

Clover bears a Latin name that means three-leafed—Trifolium. There are many species in the genus, including alexandrinum, hybridum, incarnatum, medium, pratense, and repens. "The Garden Dictionary," edited by Norman Taylor, says:

"Several of these clovers, from wholly unknown causes, occasionally produce leaves with four, or even five or six leaflets."

There Were Giants in Those Days.

What ever happened to the giant sunflowers, six to ten feet tall, that once grew on the far south side? We used to make a secret path to the middle of a field of them and build houses by merely uprooting a patch ten feet square. They were comfortably private, particularly when there was work to be done at home! Quizzicuss.

THE "POLIO" SEASON IS APPROACHING.

THE time is not far distant when we will begin to hear of an occasional victim of infantile paralysis [poliomyelitis] and we should all understand the nature of the affliction and do our best to avoid it.

Many authorities are convinced that the actual cause is a peculiar type of virus which enters the system via the nose and the throat. They believe that it travels to the spinal cord via tiny branches of the nerve of smell [olfactory], which sends twigs to the mucous lining of the airways. Others assert that the digestive tract provides an open door, and that the virus journeys to the central nervous system along the sympathetic "wires" which connect with the intestines.

Some years ago it was thought that painting the nasal passages with a weak solution of a zinc salt would protect these areas. No positive evidence has been advanced proving that this is a measure of real value. The least we can do, however, is to make certain that the noses and throats of our children are kept clean, and there is certainly no harm in using a small bit of petroleum jelly to coat the mucous surfaces.

Apparently, from the time of exposure—until the disease develops—from 6 to 18 days will elapse. As a rule, the onset is abrupt. Loss of motion in a leg, for example, may develop with no complaint whatsoever on the part of the sufferer.

Early symptoms, however, are not characteristic of any special ailment, and they frequently resemble infections of the throat and the pharynx, with irritation, redness, and congestion. Headache, fever ranging from 100 to 103 degrees F., vomiting, and either constipation or diarrhea may be present. The temperature may persist from 4 to 10 days and fall gradually.

One of the most typical signs is that the patient is sensitive to the slightest touch. This is particularly marked along the spine, and pressure may elicit a sharp response of pain. There is nearly always discomfort over the forehead, and the soreness in the back and extremities may be severe. Now and then appendicitis will be suggested because of the abdominal distress. Sometimes drowsiness will alternate with irritability.

Paralysis, if it is to come, generally makes its appearance on the third day of the illness, altho it may be postponed until the eighth day, or even later. Indications of this complication are tremors or twitchings in a given group of muscles, or increasing weakness. By and large, however, this disability develops rapidly and, after a day or two, remains stationary.

The ascending type should be watched carefully as the breathing apparatus may be blocked. If life is to be saved, the respiratory center in the medulla must be kept active. This is where the iron lung plays its vital rôle, as it can expand and contract the chest and thus supply air.

A most important remedy is the injection into the muscles of serum from one who has recovered. This same material from a healthy adult has also been employed. While positive proof of the value of this plan is not forthcoming, nevertheless a higher percentage of good results has followed the procedure. Vitamins, particularly C and B, are strongly urged, even tho there is no special evidence that they are effective.

The best possible nursing care is imperative, and complete rest is demanded, even at the risk of using sedatives. The throat must be kept free from secretions and a suction apparatus may be used. When weakness or wasting comes, the affected regions may need to be supported by pads or splints. They must not be strained thru attempts to move an arm or a leg.

The death rate is not high and we must not overrate the seriousness of this disease. The trouble is that every bad case is called to our attention, and we then think that Johnny or Susan will suffer as seriously. About 75 per cent fail to exhibit muscle deterioration.

HANDLE WITH CARE.

S. S. writes: What injury can be done a 3 month old infant by lifting it by the legs?

REPLY.

Too vigorous exercise of this character may injure ankles, knee joints, or the hinges at the hips. Discourage proud papa from swinging the youngster by the heels.

BUTTERMILK.

B. C. writes: Is buttermilk fattening?

REPLY.

No—the fat has been removed. It is the fluid which remains after the butter has been withdrawn.

A SQUALL ON THE LAKE.

Chicago, July 30.—Your mention of the squall on Tuesday evening that "caught many boaters unprepared" has a suggestion which I think does the lake an injustice. I happened to be at the beach when this came up and had noticed for more than an hour that a big cloud bank was piling up in the northwest, with occasional distant lightning. It was all the warning any one should need.

Before the wind actually came the clouds had covered over half the sky. I don't know that there has ever been a squall of any proportion that didn't give a warning in this or somewhat similar manner.

While the word "unprepared" is factually correct, it does give the impression that these boaters were not only unprepared but unwarned. Many people think of Lake Michigan as being treacherous, subject to sudden squalls, and not a body of water on which it is safe to use small boats, sail or power.

I don't aim to criticize, but to suggest that in articles such as this you drop in a word or two pointing out that altho these boaters may have been unprepared, they had plenty of warning and should have been ready for this shift of wind long before it happened. The fault is not with Lake Michigan or Chicago's weather, but with those who disregard these warnings, whether from ignorance or otherwise.

Lake Michigan is one of Chicago's assets. Shouldn't we do all we can to encourage its use and enjoyment, not with fear but intelligently and with due respect? GEORGE F. NOYES.

'FIGHT FOR FREEDOM' TACTICS.

Chicago, July 30.—A shining example of the type of persons comprising that 10 per cent in favor of American participation in the war was shown the other night in an Orchestra hall meeting of Fight for Freedom, Inc., a prowar outfit.

The meeting was picketed by a group of elderly women representing We the Mothers Mobilize. After the meeting, members of the prowar crowd jammed the streets around these pickets. Then, these "strong and fearless lovers of freedom," showed their dauntlessness by attacking the aged picketeers, shoving and pushing them, tearing the picket signs from their hands.

Is it their idea of freedom to chase a group of elderly and helpless women from the streets? If that's your idea of freedom, brother, I want no part of it!

WORKING FOR AMERICA.

St. Paul, Minn., July 30.—Congratulations on the splendid fight you are making to keep our country out of this war. If we escape most of the credit is due to your fine editorials and to the America First, and the few real American senators and Charles Lindbergh who are tireless in their efforts to save the country. MRS. C. F. HOLDEN.

A CHARGE AT PARK ENTRANCE.

Evanston, Ill., July 27.—Can some one tell me why there is a 25 cent admission charge to the forest preserve of Du Page county—Salt Creek park? It is called a parking charge, but it amounts to the same thing, because by not paying the 25 cents you are refused entrance.

C. A. S.

THE PEOPLE'S COMMON SENSE.

Hot Springs, Va., July 30.—May I say how valuable I think the Tribune poll on war sentiment has been. I was delighted when I saw the phrasing of the question, because it would surely bring in all the prowar sentiment there was. The result did not surprise me. The people of this country do not want to go to war. They are not so cowardly and unpatriotic as to feel that if Britain falls we shall fall. They have confidence in the patriotism and the courage of their fellow Americans. They exercise their common sense, at least to the point of realizing that Hitler cannot invade this country and that if he does he will be wiped out.

My one hope is that Washington will pay attention to the various polls, will cease to be provocative, will remember to be the American government, not the appendage of some other. May I add that I have appreciated and applauded the stand of THE TRIBUNE thruout this crisis. R.

WHAT DOES RUSSIA MEAN?

Chicago, July 30.—A problem which has greatly troubled me concerns Russia and the future of the world. That great country, linking Europe with Asia, is at the mercy of a political idea which aims at a system which is the negation of every spiritual impulse in the life of man, a system which instills into every child born within it a hatred of God and Christianity.

Such a nation may have an incalculable effect on world history. It is conceivable that terrible class and economic war may arise or that communist propaganda will eventually overthrow western civilization, and end by abolishing God from the whole world, especially as the masses of each country, ignorant and pliable to plausible propaganda, will be persuaded that it is in their interests.

Please say whether in your opinion this terrible menace will end in another world war or will overthrow all that is good and beautiful in life.

A. C. LINDBLOOM.

ABOUT DECIVILIZATION.

Muskegon, Mich., July 30.—Will Rogers tartly remarked after his first trip to England that he had "met many members of the British nobility who had lived their entire lifetime with a well bred butler, but even so remained as rude as ever." Perhaps this explains the incredible insolence in Wedgwood's tirade against Senator Wheeler.

Paired with this might be Kipling's blunt candor in delivering himself of the opinion that tho everything in Canada was being well done and orderly, by contrast in America one finds a frank and brutal decivilization. We over here bought huge quantities of his books and our publishers had to pay him $1 a word. . . . Did some of his tales glorifying the brutality of British Tommies by any chance aid in decivilizing us? I, for one, as a boy found these never to my liking.

F. P. ILLSLEY.

LET THE NUPTIALS PROCEED.

Chicago, July 29.—In your article, "Union How Now," you seem to regard the existence of a titled nobility as the principal obstacle to union from an American point of view. If that is so we should be within measurable distance of achieving it. When I was a British citizen I was much interested in what was called "the ending or the mending of the house of lords." That appeared to me, and to most Englishmen, to be an important issue. The abolition of titles seemed a trifle hardly worth worrying about. After more than a quarter of a century's residence in the United States I feel that while titles do Britain no harm their absence does America no good. They are just like the painted figure heads on old fashioned ships—picturesque, perhaps, and harmless, but not suited to the temper of this utilitarian age. They are not popular in the colonies and if they did not exist in Great Britain nobody would ever think of instituting them. If that is all that stands in the way all we have to do is to arrange the details, invite the guests, and proceed with the nuptials.

VINSON ASKS U. S. TAX ON HOLDINGS OF LABOR UNIONS

Plan Offered as Bill Is Pushed Toward Vote.

BY WILLIAM STRAND.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 1.—A tax on the mounting assets of labor unions was proposed in congress today as a means of raising revenue for the rearmament program.

Representative Vinson.

The proposal was made by Representative Carl Vinson [D., Ga.], chairman of the house naval affairs committee, as general debate on the new 3,529 million dollar tax bill ended. The way now is clear for final passage of the measure by the house on Monday, after considerations of amendments.

Labor union assets are exempt from taxation under existing law. Vinson asserted, however, that working men's organizations are profiting from the rearmament program and should be made to bear some of the expense of manufacturing war materials. He said the chief unions in the country had assets of $42,371,199 on April 1 of this year, a gain of $4,030,687 since Oct. 1, 1939, when the rearmament program was in the embryo stage. He attributed the gain, approximately 11 per cent, to increased industrial activity resulting from the program.

Among Chief Beneficiaries.

"Labor unions are among the chief beneficiaries of government spending," Vinson told the house. "They should be willing to make some sacrifices and shoulder their share of the burden. In this way we can avoid breaking the backs of citizen taxpayers."

The figures on labor union assets were supplied the naval affairs committee thru questionnaires sent out several months ago during an inquiry into armament strikes. The information was compiled from replies furnished by 105 unions affiliated with the American Federation of Labor and 45 Congress of Industrial Organizations.

The pending tax measure, designed to saddle an unprecedented burden on American taxpayers, is designed to produce 12,700 millions in total revenue, including 3,529 millions new revenue for rearmament. Predictions have been made of still larger levies for next year, including a federal sales tax and taxes on all incomes.

Demand Non-Arms Economy.

Many house members, in the last three days of oratory, have stressed the need for government economy in non-rearmament fields "to keep tax bills from soaring to impossible heights."

To these remarks, Representative Jere Cooper [D., Tenn.], a ranking member of the ways and means committee, declared the time to talk about expenditures is when appropriation bills are up, not when tax legislation is before the house.

Representative Robert L. Doughton [D., N. C.], chairman of the ways and means committee, admitted the need for reducing expenditures, but went on to state that congress is bound to provide funds to cover appropriations already approved.

"I am afraid we have made appropriations for many things not essential under the defense program," he confessed after a sharp exchange with economy advocates on the Republican side.

House Under Gag Rule.

The pending bill is being considered under a strict gag rule, which renders the debate of the last three days virtually meaningless. Pushed thru by the administration majority, the rule requires that the house, with one exception, must accept or reject the entire bill as presented by the ways and means committee.

The exception is the section which would require all married couples to file joint returns. A separate vote on this question will be permitted Monday.

The joint return provision is expected to yield approximately 300 million dollars extra revenue per year by forcing husbands and wives into the higher surtax brackets thru the lumping of their incomes.

Representative Jerry Voorhis [D., Cal.] warned today that elimination of this section will require the tapping of other sources of revenue to make up the loss. It might mean a boost in surtax rates, he said, or broadening of the income tax base to force persons in the low income brackets, heretofor exempt, to pay a tax.

HOUSE WITNESS PUNCHED ON JAW BY CONGRESSMAN

Washington, D. C., Aug. 1 (AP).—A congressman's punch to a witness' jaw climaxed a story house committee hearing today on the government's efforts to take over a Washington apartment for office purposes.

The two involved were Representative Newt Mills [D., La.] and George Reedy, former Chicago newspaper man now working for the New York newspaper PM and, on the side, acting as spokesman for the apartment's tenants.

Reedy went up to Mills after the committee session to demand he retract questions implying that Reedy once wrote stories for Al Capone.

"Without answering and without warning, he hit me twice on the chin," said Reedy.

"He called me an offensive name and I swung at him," said Mills.

BIG GOINGS-ON IN GRANT PARK; IT'S A CIRCUS!

The big top of Ringling Brothers and Barnum & Bailey circus will go up this morning on the lake front south of Soldiers' field. Performances will be given at 2:15 and 8:15 p. m. daily, starting today and continuing thru Aug. 10.

Remembering that youngsters are the circus' best friends, the main spectacle will be based on the familiar nursery rhymes of "Old King Cole" and "Mother Goose." A cast of 2,000 performers and animals will make the rhymes come to life.

Actor Flies to London as U. S. Naval Attache

LONDON, Aug. 1 (AP).—Robert Montgomery, American motion picture actor, arrived in London today in the uniform of a naval lieutenant as the latest addition to the growing staff of naval attachés at the United States embassy. Montgomery who served for a time as a volunteer ambulance driver in France during the German offensive there a year ago last spring, landed in England last night after a trip aboard a bomber from Newfoundland.

BOMBING OF AMERICAN GUNBOAT IS CALLED AN ACCIDENT BY JAPANESE

SHANGHAI, Aug. 1 (AP).—A Japanese naval spokesman declared today that damaging of the United States gunboat Tutuila in the Yangtze river at Chungking during a Japanese air raid Wednesday was purely accidental.

The spokesman, Commander N. Hazama, said the gunboat was so close to the targets of the Japanese airmen that a slight miscalculation "could result in stray bombs."

He conceded that a bomb must have fallen close to the Tutuila, but said the Japanese' objectives were on the north side of the Yangtze across the river from the warship's anchorage and the United States embassy, and that the stream is only 350 yards wide at that point.

He said the Chungking safety zone does not include the river, hence the Tutuila was not in it. The embassy was in the safety zone. The embassy was not hit, but an embassy residence was damaged.

Harriman Back in U. S., White House Indicates

Washington, D. C., Aug. 1 (AP).—W. Averell Harriman, coördinator of American aid to Britain, was placed on President Roosevelt's calling list late this afternoon. This indication that Harriman had arrived in this country unannounced followed word from London that he had left there by plane on an unannounced date. Harriman went to England in March to handle the British end of the lend-lease program and this is his first trip back.

ARMS SPENDING IN JULY REACHES RECORD BILLION

Rate Expected to Double in Another Year.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 1 (AP).—Cash expenditures in connection with the armaments program totaled about 1,000 million dollars in July, the largest sum since the World war.

Officials estimated the July total on nearly complete records. These figures showed that thru July 30 cash payments by the treasury totaled $899,488,021, and thru July 29 arms payments of the Reconstruction Finance corporation and its subsidiaries amounted to $62,053,364. Final reports, officials said, should bring the total for these two types of expenditures to 1,000 million dollars.

Taken on a checks issued basis or work done basis, they said, the month's total would be much higher, but the 1,000 million total would cover money actually paid out during the month after checks had been cashed.

Increases Over June.

The July total represented a spurt of 130 million dollars over the June figure of 868.8 millions and carried the program far past the highwater mark of 903.7 millions for the present program set in May.

Counting both treasury and RFC disbursements, here is how the program has picked up speed:

July 1940, 178 millions; August, 202.8 millions; September, 227.8 millions; October, 301.7 millions; November, 387.4 millions; December, 486.3 millions; January, 592.4 millions; February, 615.2 millions; March, 793.7 millions; April, 821.7 millions; May, 903.7 millions; June, 868.8 millions; July, 1941, approximately 1,000 millions.

These figures included reports, available for the first time, of RFC spending. That agency and its subsidiaries have armament commitments of approximately 2,800 million dollars, and cash disbursements are just beginning to loom large.

483 Millions for Army.

In the first 30 days of July treasury expenditures included $483,239,694 for the army, $327,005,357 for the navy; $32,865,708 for lend-lease; $14,611,037 out of the special defense fund of the President; $2,446,086 for administrative expense of selective service; $7,071,513 for emergency merchant ship construction; $3,377,018 for National Youth administration and other barnches of the federal security agency; $18,824,004 for defense housing and other activities of the Federal Works agency; and $10,047,600 for emergency Panama canal and other miscellaneous expenditures.

Officials have estimated that in another year the arms program may cost 2,000 millions a month. The budget bureau has estimated that treasury expenditures for armament in the fiscal year which began July 1 will be 15,500 millions.

Vehicle Tax Collections Pass Last Year's Total

City Collector Louis Rixman announced yesterday that during the first seven months of 1941 the city received $5,665,610 from vehicle tax collections, or $213,792 more than was collected during the entire 12 months of last year.

TELLS OF $15,000 MORALS SWINDLE IN THE CITY HALL

R. C. Ware, 55 years old, of 4711 Woodlawn avenue, complained to the confidence detail yesterday that he had been swindled of $15,000 by two men posing as policemen who told him he would have to post the money as bond after making a false morals accusation against him.

Ware said that last Sunday he was sitting on a park bench across from the Chicago Beach hotel when a stranger, about 62, sat down beside him and began talking about the weather. When Ware got up to leave, the stranger volunteered to drive him home. The two fake policemen, displaying badges, stopped the car, accused Ware, and, while one remained questioning him, the other drove off with the owner of the car. Upon returning, this second "policeman" said, "I locked him up." One of the pair ostensibly went into Hyde Park police station to see if Ware had a record. He came back and said, "I think we'll let you go."

On Thursday, however, the pair came to Charles C. Davis & Co., cotton goods jobbers, at 221 North La Salle street, where Ware is employed, and told him he would have to go to a court in the city hall and post $20,000 bond. They accompanied him to two banks, where he withdrew $15,000, which they termed satisfactory, then escorted him to the eighth floor of the city hall, where they took the money, told him to wait, and entered a door, supposedly to post bond. They did not return.

Revive Woman Overcome by Gas in Suicide Attempt

Mrs. Stella Mocini, 26 years old, telephoned her husband, Julius, a restaurant owner at 4756 North avenue, last night and told him she intended to kill herself. Mocini called police. Policeman Rollo Grutzmacher of Chicago avenue station hurried to the Mocini home, 745 Sedgwick street, forced open a door, and found Mrs. Mocini on the kitchen floor, with gas escaping from the range. She was quickly revived.

OUSTED CONSULS SAY RED FIGHTING SURPRISES NAZIS

But Report Morale of the German People Good.

New York, Aug. 1 [Special].—Germany, invading Russia without the help of the spies and Quislings who prepared the way in other countries, now finds herself with a far bigger job on her hands than her general staff dreamed when first she tackled the bear that walks like a man.

This seemed the concensus today of the American consular officials, expelled from the axis countries, who arrived from Lisbon, Portugal, aboard the United States naval transport West Point. All told, the former United States luxury liner carried 388 passengers, of whom 84 were foreign service officers.

Among the passengers was Prince Carl Bernadette, nephew of the king of Sweden, who flew to Lisbon with Frederick A. Sterling, American minister to Sweden. Prince Carl said he was here on a business mission.

Bring First Hand Information.

Many of the officials had spent many years in Europe. Despite the heavy hand of the state department, visible everywhere, tapping its agents on the back and enjoining silence, many of the consuls, bursting with first hand information, talked a little in "don't-quote-me" fashion. Added up, the story they told was this:

Neither Italy nor Germany is starving; in fact Italians are eating better than the peoples of many other European countries. Neither Hitler nor Mussolini face rebellion. The morale of the common people is good in both countries.

The Italians are chagrined at the poor showing of their army and navy, but, since they never did have great faith in either, their battle losses have not greatly affected their morale. There is no sentiment whatever in either country against Americans.

Fear U. S. Will Enter War.

The Germans are apprehensive and fearful that America will enter the war, but there is no "hate America movement." In Italy, because so many Italians have been in this country or have relatives here, the feeling toward Americans is warm and friendly.

Italy may be a puppet government under Hitler, but, if so, the man in the street is not aware of it and the king and Mussolini are still great men in his eyes. There is definitely no truth in the stories of Germany putting down revolts in northern Italy. There have been no rebellions and no strikes.

Altho they were extremely chary of expressing opinions on Germany's chances of ultimate success, the consuls seemed to feel that she was well equipped for a long war, and that unless Russian-administered reverses consumed her resources at a much greater rate she could hold out for a long time.

JUDGE HAS DATE WITH YOUNG LADY IN CUSTODY CASE

Circuit Judge Michael Feinberg took a young lady to lunch yesterday, but it's all right—she is 9 years old. His companion was Constance Brewer, and the judge asked her over glasses of milk which of her parents she preferred to live with. He got a lawyer's answer: "Aren't you the judge? And isn't that something for you to decide?"

So the judge, who had been hearing the habeas corpus petition for custody of the child brought by her father, Hugh G. Brewer, 47, of Utica, N. Y., manager of a soft drink bottling plant, brought Constance back to court and decided that Brewer might have her during August. Brewer was required to post a $1,000 bond as surety that he would return her for a final hearing Sept. 1.

The girl has been living with her mother, Mary, 39, of 5525 Melrose street, who divorced Brewer in 1933 at Dallas, Tex., and won an order for custody of the girl last year in Buffalo, N. Y. Brewer disputes the validity of the Buffalo ruling.

ABORTION DEATH WILL BE STUDIED BY CRIME BOARD

Rudolph Dvorak, assistant operating director of the Chicago Crime commission, said yesterday the commission would make an investigation of the abortion death of Mrs. Rose Smith, 23 years old, 1956 Sheffield avenue, mother of five children.

Dvorak acted on the complaint of the dead woman's husband, Beve Smith, that he had been unable to get justice in the case. On Thursday the grand jury voted a no-bill on the grounds it did not have sufficient evidence to fix responsibility for Mrs. Smith's death. Assistant State's Attorney Samuel Papanek, who handled the inquiry, was absent on vacation.

Mrs. Magdalene Motzny-Stegeman, midwife and wife of Police Lieutenant William Stegeman, former member of the state's attorney's staff, was arrested in connection with Mrs. Smith's death. Later charges against her were dropped in the Felony court by the state's attorney's office.

OIL MAN DAVIS, REPORTED PEACE MESSENGER, DIES

Houston, Tex., Aug. 1 (AP).—William Rhodes Davis, 52 years old, internationally known oil man, died today. Last January he figured in a statement by Verne Marshall, chairman of the No Foreign War committee, that Davis once carried to the United States a Nazi offer to negotiate peace with Germany's foes. From March to November, 1938, he shipped Germany an estimated 12 million barrels of Mexican oil, which was refined at Davis' refinery in Hamburg. From December, 1938, to June, 1940, oil circles said 8 million barrels more of crude oil left Mexico for Italy under Davis' direction.

ASCAP AND NBC AGREE ON PACT COVERING TUNES

New York, Aug. 1 (AP).—The American Society of Composers, Authors, and Publishers agreed today to terms of a new contract with the National Broadcasting company, foreshadowing a quick return of the society's voluminous portfolio to NBC's two networks.

No ASCAP tunes have been carried by NBC since Jan. 1 when the old contract expired and a controversy over rates developed. The nation's two other major broadcasting networks, Mutual Broadcasting System and Columbia Broadcasting System, also excluded ASCAP. MBS has since returned ASCAP music but CBS has not.

Niles Trammell, NBC president, said a contract covering the terms would be drawn up soon for signing after which arrangements would be made to carry ASCAP music again.

The contract would not become effective, he added, until NBC's affiliated stations agreed to refund to NBC 2½ per cent of the station's compensation on network business except in those states where refunds are prohibited by law. A telegraphic poll of the stations is being taken, Trammell said.

TAMMANY PICKS DEWEY AID FOR N. Y. PROSECUTOR

Action Regarded as Blow for La Guardia.

New York, Aug. 1 [Special].—Tammany Hall today upset the apple cart in the confused New York City political situation by drafting Frank S. Hogan as its candidate for New York county district attorney. Hogan, who helped send James J. Hines and other Tammanyites to jail, was one of four assistants recommended to the Republican and Fusion parties by Thomas E. Dewey Wednesday in announcing he would not run for reelection to the office that brought him national fame as a racket buster and contender for nomination for the Presidency.

Frank S. Hogan.
[A. P. Wirephoto.]

Hogan had dinner with Dewey tonight to discuss whether he would accept the nomination. Hogan said he was "flabbergasted." Dewey, calling the turn of events a "miracle," said he was "amazed."

"My first inclination would be to urge that he accept," continued Dewey. "Offhand, it does appear to take the district attorney's office out of politics." This is a step Dewey long has urged.

May Affect Mayoral Race.

Hogan's acceptance, political observers generally agreed, would weaken the chances for Mayor Fiorello La Guardia's election to a third term. La Guardia won a grudging indorsement from Fusionists and a majority of Republican leaders only after an assertion that they thought Tammany's defeat more important for good city government than recollections that La Guardia turned his back on Republicans to campaign for President Roosevelt's reelection.

Tammany's move today was interpreted to mean it is willing even to make a tacit plea of guilty to past corruption exposed by Dewey if it can oust La Guardia. The city-wide Democratic organization's nominee for mayor is William F. O'Dwyer of Brooklyn, who has a good record as King's county district attorney.

Altho enrolled as a Democrat, Hogan never has been a member of a Tammany club or organization.

Aids Are Close Friends.

The Hogan choice became the more surprising when it was recalled that Paul Lockwood, leading favorite for the Republican-Fusion-American Labor party nomination as prosecutor, is a fraternity brother and bosom friend of Hogan's since college days. Lockwood as executive assistant and Hogan as administrative assistant, have been major cogs in Dewey's smoothly-functioning office.

While most of Tammany's political opponents refused to comment, Thomas J. Curran, New York county Republican leader, indicated that Lockwood still is his choice. He gave no indication of a possibility that the Republicans also might name Hogan. Lockwood urged Hogan to accept the Tammany offer.

Christopher Sullivan, ageing Tammany sachem, said it all was very simple. Many eminent people, some outside the organization, had recommended Hogan, and it was decided he was outstanding, Sullivan said.

OFFERS TO FREE CITY FROM DEAL TO HAUL REFUSE

B. M. Lockard, president of the Illinois Development company which last year received $345,730 from the city on a refuse disposal contract, told an aldermanic committee yesterday the city may break the contract any time it wants to.

"The committee, headed by Ald. Paul Douglas [5th], has been named to find a satisfactory method of disposing of the city's refuse. Lockard's company operates three railroad loading stations at which city trucks dump refuse. The company loads the refuse in railroad cars and hauls it to dumps.

"The government wants my 12 cranes for unloading coal at plants that have national defense contracts," Lockard said. "I would get $100 for each eight hour day a crane worked. And it would be cash. I only get 10 per cent of my city pay every 60 days and you still owe me $220,000." The committee continued its meeting to tomorrow.

COURT REJECTS ACTION TO FORCE REDISTRICTING

Edwardsville, Ill., Aug. 1 [Special].—City Judge William P. Boynton of Alton, sitting in the Madison County Circuit court here, denied an application today in which Attorney W. Daly, Alton attorney and member of the legislature, sought an injunction to prevent state and county officials from expending money in connection with the 1942 April primary and general November election. The action was a move to force the legislature to pass a congressional redistricting law.

Assistant Attorney General P. C. Otwell, Belleville, told Judge Boynton that the judiciary was without legal authority to compel the legislature to perform a specific act. Judge Boynton said he believed the redistricting act of 1901 had become inadequate thru changing conditions and agreed with counsel that the legislature should act.

Meekers Open Santa Barbara Home for Tour

BY JUDITH CASS.

FROM Santa Barbara, Cal., comes word that Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Meeker are opening their home, Constantia, in Montecito for a house and garden tour today. It is sponsored by the Garden club of Santa Barbara and Montecito in cooperation with the Santa Barbara Horticultural society.

Constantia is one of the show places of Santa Barbara, which has, perhaps, as many beautiful places as any community in this country. Constantia was designed by the Meekers' son-in-law, Ambrose Cramer, who was so struck by the similarity of views in Capetown, South Africa, and Montecito that he decided to build a South African house for the Meekers. Mrs. Meeker will serve tea this afternoon and assisting her will be her daughter, Mrs. Francis V. Lloyd, Mrs. Sellar Bullard, and Mrs. Arthur Bissell, among others.

Mr. and Mrs. Cramer may spend a few days with the Meekers toward the end of the month. The Cramers departed last night to spend three weeks at Jasper park in the Canadian Rockies, and hope to return to Chicago by way of Santa Barbara. The Sterling Mortons currently are on a holiday at Jasper Park lodge.

Keith-Reed Wedding to Take Place Today.

Other Canadian Rockies visitors will be Stanley Keith and Mrs. Kersey Coates Reed, who are being married quietly today in the Church of the Holy Spirit in Lake Forest. The ceremony is to be absolutely private, not even their children having been invited. The Rev. Joseph C. Mason of Lockport, N. Y., will read the service in the absence of the Rev. Herbert E. Prince, the rector, who is away on his vacation. Mr. Keith and his bride will make their home in her North Lake road residence in Lake Forest when they return Sept. 1.

Delicate seed-pearl earrings which belonged to her grandmother, the late Mrs. Magnus Swenson, will be worn by Miss Anne Dinsdale Harding when she becomes the bride of Dr. Alexander Spoehr at 5 o'clock this afternoon in the chapel of the Winnetka Congregational church, the Rev. Ross Snyder officiating. Mrs. Charles F. Harding Jr. will give a small home reception in Winnetka for her daughter and new son-in-law.

Miss Helene Harding will be her sister's maid of honor. Mrs. John Riggs of Elmira, N. Y., will be matron of honor. The bridegroom's sister, Miss Hortense Spoehr, who is here from Palo Alto, Cal., with her parents, Dr. and Mrs. Herman A. Spoehr, will serve as bridesmaid with Miss Patricia Bolling of Greenwich, Conn.

The bride's older brother, Charles, will give her in marriage, and another brother, Magnus, will usher with Frederick Owen of Chicago and Thomas Coulter of Evanston. James Brown of Pittsburgh, Pa., will be best man.

Robert Victor Brundage Being Married in Virginia.

Another of today's weddings of interest is taking place in Leesburg, Va., where Miss Mary Elizabeth Lee Rust and Robert Victor Brundage will be married at 8 o'clock in St. James' church. A reception will follow at Yeocomico, the Leesburg home of the bride's mother, Mrs. William Fitzhugh Rust. Mr. Brundage is a son of Mrs. Edward Jackson Brundage and the late Mr. Brundage of Lake Forest.

The bride's sister, Miss Jane Rust, will be maid of honor, and the six bridesmaids include the bridegroom's sister, Miss Jacqueline Brundage of New York. Huntington Harris, a former Chicagoan, now of Leesburg, will be best man.

Mr. Harris' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hayden B. Harris, were present at the marriage in Rockville, Md., on Thursday of Mrs. R. Townsend McKeever and Merrill C. Meigs, both of Chicago. The ceremony took place in the Presbyterian church, the Rev. Henry K. Pasmy officiating. Mrs. James Hamilton Lewis, another old friend of the bride, also was present.

Mr. Meigs, Chicago publisher, is in Washington with OPM in the aviation section. He returned from a trip to London in connection with air production for Britain 10 days ago, and he and his bride, who is well known here, will make their home in Washington for the present.

The Percy B. Eckharts are entertaining at Ravinia park tonight and tomorrow afternoon for the final concerts of the Chicago Symphony or-

Cheers Greet Former Music Fete Winner

Festival Tickets

Tickets for the Chicagoland Music Festival, to be held Saturday night, Aug. 16, in Soldiers' field, are on sale at 50 cents and $1 in THE TRIBUNE'S Public Service offices in Tribune Tower and at 1 South Dearborn street. All seats are reserved. Mail order checks should be made payable to Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc.

Julian Stripe, crippled tenor who was adjudged to have the best male voice at the 1933 Chicagoland Music Festival, provided a surprise treat last night for more than 400 persons who attended the tryouts for north side singers at the Edgewater Beach hotel.

Catherine Steinorth.

Introduced by Philip Maxwell, director of the Festival, Stripe and Mrs. Stripe sang a duet, "Make Believe," from "Showboat." Then Mr. Maxwell asked Stripe to sing "I Love Life," which he sang at the 1933 Festival. However, the accompanist, Dorothy Bloom, did not have the music for that number.

As the audience settled back disappointedly, an 18 year old blind girl, Dorothy Dykema of 1771 Granville avenue, walked down the aisle behind her "Seeing Eye" dog, Commander, and offered to play the accompaniment. When the number was finished, both singer and accompanist received enthusiastic applause.

Miss Catherine Steinorth, 22, of 741 Melrose street, cashier in a loop restaurant, won first place in the dramatic soprano division and a chance to appear at this year's Festival.

Miss Steinorth said a friend suggested that she try out for the Festival after hearing her sing at a W-G-N audition. Miss Ethel Frances Koplin, 21, of 6765 Sheridan road, a salesgirl, was second, and Miss Mary Frances Crowley, 29, colored domestic servant in the H. H. Brandt home at 3001 Normandy place, Evanston, was third.

In the lyric soprano competition the winner was Miss Betty Collins, 20, of 927 Brummel street, Evanston, a theater cashier and a sophomore at Northwestern university. Second place went to Miss Georgia Anagnost, 21, of 4445 North Rockwell street, and third place to Miss Pearl Adams, 21, 3501 North Racine avenue.

Joseph Appleby, 18 year old Lane Technical High school senior and a member of the High School Glee club, was adjudged the best in the bass contest. Appleby, who lives at 4553 North Clark street, plans a voice career. Second was Lawrence G. Rickert, 19, of 6811 Greenview avenue, and Charles B. Fries, 20, of 4144 Sheridan road, was third.

Virginia Crane, 24, of 195 East Chestnut street, a voice student, won top honors among the mezzo sopranos. Miss Maxine Lagerstrom, 26, of 4441 Malden street, a voice teacher, took second, and Miss Louise Yates, 20, of 745 MacLean avenue, Kenilworth, a junior at Northwestern university, was third.

Miss Eve Harvey, 19, of 3753 Fremont street, a typist, won the judges' nod in the coloratura soprano contest. In second place was Dorothy Froelich, 25, of 1341 Addison street, and in third place was Mrs. Emily Auli, 26, of 1907 Montrose avenue, a school teacher.

Judges of the contest were Mabel Sharp Herdien, William Phillips, and Edwin Kemp.

Chiffon Makes Perfect Garb for Sultry Day

BY REA SEEGER.

Filmy chiffon appears equally cool and beguiling in daytime, evening dress or the current showings of matched nightgown and housecoat duets. Yards of pastel tinted chiffon, or effective gayly printed sheers make picturesque units with which to combat the stickiest summer heat waves. Bonbon pink shades are irresistible, the gowns are simply cut and fashioned with extremely wide skirts usually cut in circular formation.

The matching housecoats are made with gathered long full sleeves ending in narrow band cuffs. Some of the nightgowns have a panel of rosy flowered chintz appliqued over the front midriff. Others are unadorned except for a bit of fine shirring or smocking high on the shoulders. Wide satin ribbon is used for belt and tie sash on both gown and coat.

A heavenly shade of blue, buttercup yellow, and plenty of snowy white twosomes are likewise finds for the sultry hours ahead. Many of the coats can be worn with other gowns, assuring plenty of ideas for color contrast, pink with blue, yellow with blue, white with black and so on. Even the prints are equal to this contrast trick, a green, pink, or blue gown under the printed coat.

There are exquisite lace negligees that will revive the urge to dress for tea time, for they look as picturesque and flattering as a tea gown should. There are creamy white laces with long sleeves, delicate pink affairs with short cape sleeves and the same models in blue.

These lace finds can be worn with a simple satin slip [long of course] to make a costume. Accordion pleated chiffon outfits are exceptional because of the color schemes. Quaker gray over a pink satin slip, chartreuse green over a peach colored slip. These chiffons are the sure answer to how to keep cool no matter what the temperature.

Garden Tour Reveals Rare Rural Beauty

BY BETTY BROWNING.

Take a hilly countryside with a lake in every other valley, with golden grain fields set between dark woods, and, in the distance, highlands deeper blue against a blue horizon.

Scatter half a dozen charming houses and gardens along curving byways, add brilliant sunshine, an occasional cool breeze, and in each of the houses some one to offer informal hospitality. The sum total is a general impression of Barrington's eighth annual country house and garden tour yesterday.

No committee, it must be noted, ever did a better job of planning for the pleasure and the comfort of its visitors. Besides the arrows that left no twist of the route in doubt there were numerous state policemen and Boy Scouts to give directions. After doubling back almost to its starting point the tour ended with tea served in the Alexander Riechmanns' cool woodland garden.

Particularly inspiring to any country dweller, actual or would-be, was the Samuel D. Rowes' hilltop garden overlooking a lake, with their converted farmhouse home on one side and a guest house, converted from a shooting club's tiny shack, on the other. The Rowes have done all the planning and most of the work themselves, Mrs. Rowe taking responsibility for the interiors, Mr. Rowe for the outdoors.

The farmhouse, made light and airy by the addition of window space, remains still the perfect background for the Rowes' period furniture, much of it from the historic Garrison house, still in the possession of Mr. Rowe's family in Hingham, Mass., and much of it chosen by Mrs. Rowe.

The Orin Wolds had not intended to open their home to visitors, but so many people who visited their gardens begged for a glimpse of the inside of this story book cottage, with its gabled roof, shutters blue against white walls, and its tiny front garden inclosed by a picket fence, that Mrs. Wold had not the heart to refuse.

The interior fully justified expectations. Its small, low ceilinged but perfectly proportioned rooms are a setting that best suits the period furniture.

The Edwin Seipps' "Woodland acres" more than lives up to its name. From the walled and terraced garden behind the house a path winds down thru deep woods to a lake. In the outdoor dining room that seems part of the woods Mrs. Seipp had set a formal dinner table with unusual silver and white lusterware and a brilliant green and yellow arrangement of flowers for contrast at either end. The Seipps' house and farm buildings are in an old world style, half timbered, with quaint sloping roofs and blue shutters.

The Warren McCrackens' white brick house overlooks a wide sweep of valley, and the outdoor living room, white with stands of begonia for contrast, takes full advantage of the view. Indoors Mrs. Hugh Foresman, Mrs. McCracken's mother, had provided some of her distinguished flower arrangements: Purple dahlias in twin niches of almost the identical color in the white entrance hall, several shades of green leaves in a brilliant green vase on the piano.

The Andrew Dallstreams' handsome stone and frame house, set on a well wooded hill, is called Pennsylvania style, Mrs. Dallstream gayly confessed, because no one has been able to think of a better description. Especially distinguished are its entrance hall with extraordinary Swedish pewter light fixtures and twin chairs painted blue and gold, the curving staircase with a hanging light originally intended for the Williamsburg restoration, and the living room, all in soft smoke blue, with its delicate mantel. The hunt breakfast table, set in the dining room, was graced with an epergne skilfully combining orange and fuchsia flowers.

Looking at Hollywood

By John Chapman

Hollywood, Cal., Aug. 1.—Altho a man in the barber shop remarked this morning to the bootblack that it was only eight weeks to the beginning of the football season, summer isn't over yet and screen society should by rights be plodding along in its usual off-season shorts and scandals. But this week it has had two events—David O. Selznick's stock theater première at Santa Barbara, and last night's world première of Jack Benny's "Charlie's Aunt" at the Chinese.

Altho David O. is a man of the movies and not of the theater, his opening at the Lobero was more like a Broadway first night than anything else your reporter has witnessed in this land of oversized melons and undersized cocktails. Everybody was dressed — not screamingly overdressed, but just dressed; critics had aisle seats; everybody elbowed everybody in the lobby at intermissions . . . and quite a lot of the thuttah was represented.

The occasion was the presentation of Ingrid Bergman in O'Neill's 20 year old shocker-docker, "Anna Christie." Those who motored up from Hollywood and took quarters for the night include the Gilbert Millers and Dr. Lois Shurr—and they alone were Broadway from A to Z. Also present was Robert Edmond Jones, who is staying at Santa Barbara and who was interested because he designed the first "Anna Christie" for Arthur Hopkins. Few holders included directors like William Wellman and Alfred Hitchcock, magnates like Samuel Goldwyn [erratum: there couldn't be anybody like Samuel Goldwyn], stars like Jane Wyatt and Kay Francis, comedians from 21 like Robert Benchley and Marc Connelly—and an assortment of high chested glamor girls from the photo galleries, mostly named Peggy or Kay, whose mission it is to be seen every night with a different fella.

With John Houseman and Alfred De Liagre Jr. to run things, Selznick's new theater venture has started well. "Anna Christie" is a fine show piece for Miss Bergman. The big, beautiful Swede is, for this correspondent's money, a top-rank actress, and she is going to be a very hot number after the public glimpses her with Spencer Tracy in "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde." Miss Bergman is unique in Hollywood: She uses no makeup whatever—not even face powder.

Time Is Turned Backward in Park Concert

BY EDWARD BARRY.

At Grant park last night they turned the clock back 30 years. The Peter A. Cavallo Symphonic band gave a concert of the type that the popcorn eating, hand holding audiences of the innocent prewar and preradio days used to delight in.

Instead of Beethoven and Brahms and those other intruders who have crept onto outdoor programs these last few years we heard Rossini and Waldteufel and Verdi. Instead of a concert violinist playing the Tschaikowsky concerto we heard a piccolo soloist, Joseph Salemme, in an opus called "The Turtle Dove."

The program reached its climax with one of those descriptive pieces in whose very existence the present generation refuses to believe in. It was called "The Death of Custer," and it was complete with an Indian war dance, the sound of cavalry hoofs, a battle scene, and the burial of Custer.

As an added bit of realism the men of the band emitted war whoops at strategic moments. So convincing were they that half the people in the audience were nervously holding on to their scalps.

Only the first half of Mr. Cavallo's program was devoted to memories of the old-time band concerts. The second part was more up to date.

Front Views and Profiles

Chinese Film.

Rey Scott, who is in town for the opening of his picture, KuKan, at the Playhouse, has some interesting tales in connection with the making of the picture. He smuggled much of the film out of China by means of inserting it in hollowed-out bamboo poles. Coolies carried his luggage on the poles and, altho the Japanese authorities stripped and searched Scott frequently, they did not examine the poles. The Japanese would have destroyed the film, of course, for much of the picture shows the heroism and determination of the Chinese and their courage under fire.

Scott said the three bottles of Scotch he took with him were helpful in getting his fine pictures in Tibet. He handed out the Scotch almost by the drop and the three bottles lasted eight months.

A Mouthful.

E. M. Davis reports the plump dowagers who were having luncheon at one of the fashionable hotel dining rooms. When the waiter asked what they would like for dessert, one of them asked for deep dish blackberry pie with whipped cream.

"Would that increase my weight?" she asked archly.

"One minute in your mouth, ma'am," said the waiter with solemnity, "one hour in your tummy, and the rest of your life on your hips."

Severest Critic.

Dr. James P. Simonds, head of the pathology department of Northwestern Medical school, often reads his lectures and radio talks to his wife before giving them to the public. These she receives with more or less enthusiasm. One night after he had finished reading one of his articles to her she exclaimed: "That's wonderful. Why, it's good enough to have been written by somebody else."

"A Debt Is Paid"

SYNOPSIS.

When Kathleen Murray, New York secretary, inherits an income and a home on Lake Willow, in California, she resigns her job and goes to live in her new home. There she meets Hugo Lang, whose play is being produced in the local Summer theater, and they fall in love. A rich girl, Carol Keyes, is backing Hugo's play and insists that she and her current infatuation, Maurice Reed, play the lead rôles in spite of their mediocre ability. Talented Jeanie Payson and Ellen Mount, Hugo's foster mother, who gave up a chance on Broadway to care for Hugo, have minor rôles. Kathleen sends for Toby Allerton, her clever 16 year old protége, to improve the cast. The theme of the drama is murder and promises to be a great success, but Kathleen gets an uncomfortable presentiment when Wilkie Stokes, another member of their colony, discusses the fascinations of killing. Kathleen feels that Ellen Mount does not like her and while she and Hugo are discussing financial and mother-in-law obstacles to their marriage, Jeanie comes up and insists that she speak to Hugo alone. They drive off together and early the next morning Jeanie is found strangled to death and Hugo has disappeared. Kathleen remembers a deserted cabin she and Hugo stumbled upon in the woods. In the cabin was a scarf she had seen on Jeanie. Slipping off by herself, Kathleen makes her way to the cabin and finds Hugo. He refuses to talk and sends her away. Police trail Kathleen to the cabin and arrest Hugo for murder. Kathleen sends for George Cassell, a member of the law firm where she worked, to defend Hugo, but the defense is weak as Hugo refuses any explanation, even at the trial.

INSTALMENT XVIII.

CASE RESTED.

"Miss Payson seems to have had a good head for a girl of her age," Vreeland continued. "She figured that a talent scout would find her if she had a chance to show her looks and talents in the Tilton theater, but she might never succeed at all if she left home and tried to crash Hollywood or Broadway without personal influence.

"Miss Carol Keyes, whose father is already known as a public benefactor in this county, began in 1936 to take practical interest in the community theater, with results already described to you.

"Miss Payson went to see her and talked herself into a job. Miss Keyes considered her too young and untutored at that time to be any real use, but she sympathized with the girl's ambitions and made an arrangement with her. That was, that if she would make herself useful in the Tilton House, which operates as a social and residential club for the company, she would allow her to walk on and also take small speaking parts.

"Soon after meeting the defendant, Miss Payton discovered him to be an amateur playwright and therefore a kindred spirit. She took him to the theater and introduced him to Miss Keyes, with the results you already know.

"Shortly after her introduction to Mr. Lang and her interest in his playwriting, Miss Keyes differed with her leading man on certain details of production. Mr. Lang suggested a friend of his could very easily take his place. So Maurice Reed joined the company, coming for that purpose from New York.

"Miss Keyes considered the play Mr. Lang had just finished very suitable for a vehicle for her with a certain amount of alteration. This he did and also produced it and later others of his own writing, assuming the duties of producer, stage manager, and business manager.

"This, ladies and gentlemen of the jury, has been the setup at the Tilton theater for the last three seasons.

"Mr. Lang, however, far from being grateful for the opportunity to display his talents, has been open in his criticisms of Miss Keyes as an actress and in his regret that his work as a playwright has been distorted by her control of the purse. He is clever and ambitious and self-opinionated.

"He has shown clearly that he has both the motive and the hardihood to marry a rich young woman to further his ambitions. It would liberate his talents from Miss Keyes' personal requirements to have a large sum of money under his own control."

Mr. Vreeland paused to take a drink of water and allow this insinuation to sink in. Kathleen felt the glances directed at her to see how she was taking this, but she seemed unaware of them. Her own eyes were focused above the judge's head on some point thru and beyond the courtroom wall. The torturing voice resumed the story.

"Now we come to Mrs. Payson's evidence, very fairly and moderately given in view of her grief and her relationship to the deceased. Her daughter was in the habit of spending hours in or outside the cabin of this young man. He tells us that he was interested in the girl's talent and sensitivity and was training her by supervising her reading of bigger rôles than she was given at the theater, and by teaching her to enter into the spirit of a part. It is, of course, quite conceivable that that is how the relationship between the defendant and the deceased began.

"Mrs. Payson recalls that in that first summer of their acquaintance she had a lot of trouble with her daughter. She was restless and moody, and displayed all the signs of a girl in love. She was very vehement in her denial of it. Mr. Lang returned to the university at the end of the summer—in fact, all the tenants of the cabins went away. Miss Payton continued to be difficult during the fall and winter, not so restless, but lifeless in comparison with the alert, happy girl she had always been.

"However, in the following summer, she changed again, acquiring the radiance usually associated with the happiness of a bride.

"This year, however, there was another change. Miss Payson became extremely temperamental, even giving way in public to childish rages. She was obviously bearing some secret grief which at times was unbearable. Mrs. Payson recollects that her daughter's first exhibition of this new trend in her disposition occurred in June, shortly after Miss Murray had taken up residence in her newly inherited house on Willow lake."

Mr. Vreeland recounted in damning detail several occasions when Jeanie had displayed outbursts of temper in public when Kathleen and Hugo had been present together, including the episode at the theater when Miss Keyes had asked her to go upstairs and bring down her wrap.

"Now we come to the night of Sunday, July 14. Miss Murray and the defendant have become informally engaged, but gossip of it has leaked out. We may take it that Miss Payson heard of it that night and came to the house of Miss Murray and begged her lover to come away and talk it over with her. Miss Murray herself told the mother that the girl appeared greatly distressed, refused to come in and stood below the veranda waiting, with tears running down her face, for the defendant to join her.

"Mr. Allerton and Miss Murray testify to having seen them by the light of a lightning flash walking northward on the footpath on the east shore of the lake. The last time any one but the defendant saw the girl alive. The rest is silence."

Mr. Vreeland paused again for effect. Kathleen glanced at the faces of the jury and shuddered. No healthy doubt in Hugo's favor showed on a single face. The attorney for the prosecution could have stopped there, but he went on.

"I should say the defendant chooses to be silent, but circumstances speak. Miss Payson was heartbroken at the thought of losing her lover.

"Miss Payson was not with child, but my suggestion is that she told the defendant she was in order to regain her hold over him. It is even credible that she threatened to go to Miss Murray and tell the truth about themselves if the defendant refused to give up his new love and return to her.

"The night was very dark and stormy. The defendant, driven into a corner, tired of this girl's importunities, unwilling to relinquish the woman whose wealth offered him coveted opportunity, had an impulse as dark and evil as the night they walked in. Instead of going to his cabin with her as usual he impelled her to walk beyond the hotel estate into the forest while he affected to be sympathetic to her suggestions.

"Ladies and gentlemen of the jury, you have heard the police evidence that the scene of the crime showed no sign of struggle. It would be a very simple matter for this man so well-known to her to remove her belt, knot it and slip it around her neck before he aroused suspicion. He is a strong man for his weight. You have heard evidence that he is an excellent athlete.

"Now that he has acted on his impulse and the girl lies dead, what next? He flies in panic to an abandoned cabin in the forest in the canyon which a few of the girl's finger prints have established as an accustomed rendezvous. You have heard the police evidence that the cabin shows everywhere the marks of finger print erasure with a damp cloth. The police found and looked into this cabin the day after the finding of the body, but it was empty at that time, the supposition now being that the defendant heard them coming and hid somewhere outside, afterward returning to it.

"You have heard Miss Murray's evidence that she went into the canyon and saw him there on Monday, the 27th. He was picked up by the police later that day as he was walking thru the woods. I suggest that he feared Miss Murray's knowledge of his hideout rendered it unsafe for him. Every word he has said and every word he has refused to say, combined with his actions produce an overwhelming picture of guilt. There can be no doubt in any one's mind that a conviction in this case would be right and just. Ladies and gentlemen of the jury, I now rest my case."

Kathleen did not look up when George Cassell left his chair and took the floor. In her own grief, she could be sorry for him. His client had cut the ground from under him and there was nothing left for him to say. He said that nothing with some spirit, pointing out that the evidence was insufficient and the very fact of his client's silence indicated an unknown element in the case.

'Kukan' Shows How New China Fights for Life

"KUKAN."
[Bitter Struggle.]
["Let's Get to It."]
Produced by Herbert T. Edwards.
Photographed and narrated by Rey Scott.
Presented at the World Playhouse.
Foreword by Dr. Lin Yutang.

By Mae Tinée.

Good Morning!

Once upon a time—a very modern time—a newspaper photographer named Rey Scott spake thus to a newspaper woman friends: [Not myself.]

"I'm tired sticking around here making pictures. . . . I want to go where things are popping and—be in the thick of something or other. . . ."

The lady said: "Well, now's the time to go. You haven't wife, chick, nor child. If you wait till you DO have, you'll never get away. . . ."

So Rey Scott went to China. And found himself in the thick of Kukan—"bitter struggle" and photographed The Miracle—which is China of today. The China whose new wall is the indomitable spirit of her people.

"Kukan" is a vital and fascinating pictorial account of life in China, on its high roads, by roads, fields, universities, and battle grounds.

The country has no such thing as a mere onlooker. Every Chinese is a soldier. Even the children have been trained to use their eyes and ears to their country's advantage.

Are factories bombed? Almost immediately they spring up and are operating in some other area. Are coast line universities razed? Students and teachers, undeterred, go on from there to some place in the interior. The great and the lowly are ONE in their great fight for freedom. Never before, it seemed to me, had I been so impressed by the fact that—"in union there IS strength."

The producer, Mr. Herbert T. Edwards, deserves great credit for recognizing the importance of Mr. Scott's reels and reels and reels of documentary material, and so skilfully cutting and blending them into a screen feature that has brevity, continuity, and audience appeal.

See you tomorrow.

On the House

Peanuts contain a high quality protein and are rich in vitamins. But they're calorific, too, so hefty persons should be wary of them. Peanut butter is the best form of peanuts for children. Peanut butter and lettuce sandwiches are nutritious and almost universally loved by youngsters.

Because peanuts are so very ordinary, we sometimes forget that they are relatively new. It was only about 60 years or so ago that they first appeared in this country, and peanut butter wasn't thought of until much later than that.

Chicory makes a delicious crisp salad all by itself with the right kind of dressing. Wash and chill a head of chicory and break it into wooden salad bowl which has been rubbed with a cut clove of garlic. Toss with a rather sharp French dressing flavored with a little prepared mustard and onion juice. Or add a little chili sauce to the French dressing you use with it. Watercress is good this way, too.

Banana butterscotch pie is good. Even without the bananas you'll like the flavor of this filling. And some time when you feel extravagant make it with bananas and black walnuts.

Banana Butterscotch Pie.

1 baked pie shell
1 cup brown sugar, firmly packed
5 tablespoons flour
¼ teaspoon salt
2¼ cups scalded milk
3 eggs
3 tablespoons butter
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 or 2 bananas, sliced

Blend sugar, flour and salt, add scalded milk gradually, stirring constantly to make a smooth paste. Cook until thick in the top of a double boiler, stirring frequently to keep the filling smooth. Cook 15 minutes longer. Add a little of the hot mixture to the beaten egg yolks, stir vigorously and return to the double boiler to cook 3 minutes longer. Stir constantly. Add butter and vanilla and cool. Slice bananas over the bottom of the pie shell and cover with filling. Top with meringue made by beating the 3 egg whites with ¼ teaspoon salt until stiff and folding in 6 tablespoons sugar. Brown in a 350 degree oven.

Lemonade and other sweetened summer drinks are better if the sugar is added in sirup form, already dissolved. It's smart to keep on hand a jar of sugar sirup ready for use in fruitades and punches. Make it by boiling equal parts sugar and water together for 5 minutes.

According to CULBERTSON

[Copyright: 1941: By Ely Culbertson.]

The take-out double is primarily an offensive weapon, a means of reaching the best contract, but it also has great defensive value. This is because it is so easily converted into a penalty double by a simple pass on the part of the responder. Note today's deal:

South, dealer.
Both sides vulnerable.

South	West	North	East
1 diamond	1 heart	Pass	1 no trump
Pass	Pass	Pass

In other cases West, having first overcalled with one heart, bid two clubs on the second round, but in no instance did an East-West team reach the no trump game that would have been so easy to make.

Even if that game contract had been reached, however, it would not have represented the best possible result for East-West. It would not have matched the scores that were earned via the following bidding sequence:

South	West	North	East
1 diamond	Double	Pass	Pass [!]
Pass

Here, it will be observed, West managed to make a "two way" bid. Naturally, he did not expect his take-out double of one diamond to be left in by his partner. He did not even want that action. His double was predicated on the simple fact that it was as safe as, and more constructive than, a heart overcall. This is a sound enough basis for any bid—that there is nothing wrong with it.

The result in this case was highly fortuitous. West opened the king and ace of hearts, then, since he could not tell which black suit to shift to, led his singleton diamond. Straightforward defense held the declarer to his two black aces and two trump tricks, and the defenders accordingly scored 800 points.

Good News Day Tomorrow for 100 Youngsters

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

[Activities of the Sally Joy Brown department are sponsored by Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc.]

Good news for 100 boys and girls in THE SUNDAY TRIBUNE!

The youngsters who've won invitations to see the Ringling Brothers and Barnum and Bailey circus with me will find their names listed in my column. The big day is Aug. 7, and well before that date the mailman will bring a personal invitation from me.

I'm sorry to say that a good many youngsters probably will be disappointed. We had so many letters that I had a mighty hard time selecting the winners. Some of you helped to disqualify your own letters by forgetting about our rules. In the excitement of thinking about the circus, many youngsters forgot to include either the name or address—others neglected to state how old they are, and some youngsters asked for invitations for one or two friends.

One little boy wrote a very fine letter, which would surely have won an invitation, but he wrote so hard and so fast that I simply could not make out his address, so he couldn't be selected as a winner.

However, I'm sure that all the gloomy faces will brighten when you see the second bit of good news I have for you. The announcement of our next party will certainly cheer you—so watch for your TRIBUNE.

Eastern Star to Hold Picnic at Home for Aged

The Order of the Eastern Star of Illinois will rally members from all parts of the state tomorrow for the annual pilgrimage to the Eastern Star home for the aged at Rockford, Ill. A program and a picnic luncheon will be held on the grounds of the home. Mrs. Anna Woldt of Chicago is in charge.

Numerology
By Evelyn Holmes

Aug. 2, 1941.

How to find your personal year—For those who came in late and so don't know what the "personal year" means, here is the way you arrive at what your personal year is this year. Suppose today is your birthday. You take eight [because August is the eighth month] and add the date, which is two, which gives ur 10. Now you add the universal year, 1941, which is one plus nine plus four plus one. The year 1941 adds up to 15, which we reduce to the single digit six [one plus five]. So add six to that 10 and you get 16, or the single digit seven. That means that those born on Aug. 2 are having a seven personal year this year. The explanation of this formula is given in the chart of your personal year, which you can obtain by filling out the coupon below.

Would you like to know what kind of a year 1941 will be for you? Send for your personal yearly, monthly, and daily guide.

Two Seasonal Frocks

MISS' TAILORED FROCK.

One of these frocks is a jumper model and the other is a jerkin costume. A good jumper idea, new for autumn, is to reverse the usual plaid-and-plain system and use the squares for the blouse instead of the skirt. It's striking and slenderizing. Plaids work up very well for the jerkin outfit with a plain shirtwaist blouse.

Style No. 2729 is designed for sizes 11, 13, 15, 17, and 19.
Style No. 2612 is designed for sizes 10, 12, 14, 16, 18, and 20.
Each pattern costs 10 cents.

Address orders for Clotilde patterns to Chicago Tribune, P. O. Box 537, Grand Central annex, NEW YORK CITY, including 10 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred—wrap it carefully) for each pattern ordered. IMPORTANT! Be sure to state clearly the number of the pattern and the size desired, and write your name and address plainly.

For 15 cents buy the summer Chicago Tribune book of Clotilde Fashions, on sale at the Tribune Public Service offices, 1 South Dearborn street and Tribune Tower; 10 cents if ordered with a pattern. Address mail orders to the New York address, above.

Outing of Club Chorus.

Givers Share Their Little with Ice Fund

Sometimes the story behind a gift to the Ice Fund is as touching as the stories of the families who need ice. Yesterday a donation was received from a woman who writes: "I am a guest in an old ladies' home. I have little money, but every comfort. Yesterday I sold a piece of work for a dollar. I gladly send it to you for the Ice Fund in memory of my brother who had five children."

Frequently children contribute the few pennies they earn during the summer and perhaps many other Tribune readers deprive themselves of some luxury in order to help out a needy neighbor. Contributions received yesterday follow:

Lovely Sunflower Medallion

BY ELLEN BRUCE.

Instead of using a large tablecloth for dinners, which are neither formal nor informal, one may employ the sunflower doily as perfect for any type of table service. The lacy design with the center floral motif is one of the easiest of all crochet jobs, and it is surrounded by simple chain stitches. One doily may be created in little time, and it may be made in white, ecru, or pastels, depending upon individual preference.

For instructions in crocheting the sunflower medallion, No. X-81, send 10 cents in stamps or coin to the Needlework Bureau, Chicago Tribune, 230 5th avenue, New York City.

Camp to Be Dedicated to Late Gov. Horner

Camp Wooster, a camp for underprivileged boys on Lake Wooster in Lake county, will be dedicated tomorrow by the Young Men's Jewish council as Camp Henry Horner in honor of the late governor of Illinois. Gov. Horner was one of the founders and supporters of the camp which was established in 1912.

VICTIM EXPOSES CALDWELL UNION MUSCLE TACTICS

Tells of Beating, Seizure of Books in 1936.

How violence was used by Max Caldwell and his brother in the organization of local 1248 of the Retail Clerks International Protective association was told yesterday to Assistant State's Attorney William B. Crawford by one of the victims, Sverre Moe, 5959 Northeast Circle avenue.

Moe said that he was forced out of the management of a north shore union of store employés which he had formed in 1936, that his books were taken by Caldwell and retained, that false charges of money shortages were made against him and that he was severely beaten with clubs by two men directed by Michael Pollack, a brother of Caldwell.

Still Can File Charges.

Crawford, who has been assigned to the Caldwell case by State's Attorney Courtney, said that if the beaten union leader wished to he could still file charges against Michael Pollack. Moe says he was afraid to file the charges at the time he was beaten.

According to Moe, 170 members joined his independent union, known as the Association of Food Store Employés. They were all workers in independent stores, he said, and he made contracts for them which brought their pay up to $32.50 for a 52 hour week.

"In 1937," he continued, "I was granted a charter by the International Retail Clerks association, covering all north shore territory from Evanston to the Wisconsin line. In 1938, while we were conducting a strike against a chain store in Evanston, Caldwell appeared.

Books Taken from Him.

"As an international representative he demanded and kept my books. He had an auditor, who it developed later wasn't an auditor at all charged that I was $1,100 short. My people told him at a meeting that they believed me and not the 'auditor,' who was a Caldwell henchman.

"They stuck with me until I was beaten by men driven to the scene by Pollack, who warned me never to go near my office in Winnetka again. My right eye was injured in the beating and my body was bruised.

"Caldwell collected dues from all the members and made a contract with the chain stores which gave the employés $17.50 to $22.50 a week.

Explains Airplane Ride.

Another volunteer of information yesterday was Charles F. Wills, father-in-law of Caldwell and advertising and circulation manager of the Federation News, published by the Chicago Federation of Labor. Wills is also a member of the review board of the state unemployment compensation department at $4,700 a year.

He denied that he had ever taken an airplane ride to Miami, Fla., at the expense of the union. To Crawford, who is investigating $3,706 of airplane fares so charged by one transport company in 18 months, Wills declared that the passenger listed as "C. Wills" was his daughter, Miss Catherine Wills, and that she had paid the cash to cover the fare to Caldwell because he could "get a rate."

WOMAN TRAPS ARMY FUGITIVE IN HER COAL BIN

Emmett Vandenberg, 20 years old, of Appleton, Wis., one of three prisoners who slugged a guard and escaped at Fort Sheridan Tuesday, drove up Clark street in a stolen automobile yesterday. A police squad gave chase. At Deming place, Vandenberg smashed into another car, leaped out, and fled on foot. He ran into the basement apartment of Mrs. Robert Kelly at 480 Deming place.

"Gangsters are chasing me," Vandenberg told Mrs. Kelly. "I'll give you $50 if you'll let me out the back way."

Mrs. Kelly led him to a door and said, "Thru here."

Vandenberg entered a passageway to the coal bin, and Mrs. Kelly locked the door. The police took him into custody a few minutes later.

A few hours afterward military police took into custody another of the escaped prisoners, George Tidwell, 23, of La Follette, Tenn., as he left a South State street movie theater. Tidwell's weakness for western movies, known to the M. P.'s, led to his capture.

Both men had been picked up by Chicago police last week after they had overstayed their leaves—Vandenberg from Fort Ord, Cal., and Tidwell from Fort Benning, Ga. Their companion, Alphonse Rodriguez, 25, charged with being A. W. O. L. from Camp Bowie, Tex., is being sought.

Groom Sentenced

[Associated Press Wirephoto.]

Enoch L. Johnson, sentenced for income tax evasion in Atlantic City, N. J., and his bride of a day as she cut the wedding cake.

Camden, N. J., Aug. 1 (AP).—Enoch L. [Nucky] Johnson, Atlantic City Republican leader who married a former showgirl in the resort city last night, was sentenced today to 10 years in prison and fined $20,000 on a federal court conviction of income tax evasion. A few hours later he was taken to jail at Trenton handcuffed to a United States deputy marshal after losing two moves to obtain bail.

The sentence was the maximum possible under the law. It followed a statement by Judge Albert B. Maris in which he declared Johnson's offense had been made worse because he grossly perjured himself during the trial. During the court proceeding, Johnson's bride, the former Florence Osbeck, 35, remained in the hotel where the couple went after the wedding.

A WARD HEELER GETS AN OPINION BY CANDID JUDGE

Wins Warrant for Arrest of His Successor.

Harry Schulman, battered ex-captain of the 11th precinct of the 22d ward, came to Felony court yesterday to obtain an assault and battery warrant against his successor, Morris Schwartz. He got the warrant—plus a caustic opinion—from Judge John T. Zuris.

Schulman's troubles began, he asserted, when he grew tired of receiving $208 a month as a Municipal court bailiff. As a result, friction developed between himself and Ald. Henry [Sonny] Sonnenschein. "Sonny tells me when Hershey is elected governor he'll give me the Illinois Home for the Blind. Hershey loses," Schulman recalled. Then there was the matter of some Christmas tickets which Schulman didn't sell, which ended with Schulman out and Schwartz in.

Tells Troubles to Judge.

Schwartz told him to move out of the ward, Schulman said. He refused. Last Monday they met at Ogden and Sawyer avenues and Schwartz, Schulman told the judge, punched him in the mouth and eye, broke his glasses, and kicked him when he was down.

"Look at my eye," Schulman told Judge Zuris, as he pointed to his bandaged left eye. "That Schwartz—he done it to me. He broke the glass from the glasses, too."

"I know, Mr. Schulman, of your reputation for truth and honesty," he began.

Schulman glowed and shuffled about, murmuring to no one in particular, "See, see?"

"Yes, I know your reputation for truth and honesty," the judge continued, "and I would hardly believe you under oath."

But Schulman continued to beam.

Former Bailiff for Weiss.

"This reputation you have is probably the reason you're still not a precinct captain, Schulman, and why the judges don't want you in the courts," Judge Zuris declared. [Schulman, until he resigned recently as an aid to Ald. Sonnenschein, served as personal bailiff to Municipal Judge George B. Weiss.]

"You are a citizen, tho," sighed Judge Zuris, "and you are entitled to a warrant on the facts related—altho you are hardly a man to be believed."

So Judge Zuris issued the warrant, setting Schwartz' bond at $25 instead of the customary $100 or $200. The warrant was given to the Fillmore street police to serve, and when they do Schulman will have another chance to tell a judge about the fracas.

Only one thing seems to bother Schulman. As he hustled from the courtroom, he stopped suddenly and reflected on the judge's words. "Say, what was that he said about me, anyway? What was he talking about?" he asked reporters, who shrugged and implied that Judge Zuris had made himself pretty clear.

ASK COMMISSION FOR IMMEDIATE BUS FARE SLASH

BY LAURENCE BURD.

Attorney General George F. Barrett and Ald. Paul H. Douglas [5th] jumped ahead of the city administration yesterday in demanding action on the city's seven year old petition for a cut in the 10 cent bus fare of the Chicago Motor Coach company.

At a hearing ordered by the Illinois Commerce commission, Barrett urged an immediate reduction to 7 cents, while Douglas suggested that a slash in rates to three rides for a quarter should be ordered. Both officials repeatedly have charged that the motor coach company is earning excessive profits.

City attorneys, who were ordered by the commission Thursday to start their long delayed case, yesterday asked for a few days more to amend their old petition filed against the coach company April 11, 1934.

Still Waits for Answer.

William H. Sexton, city traction counsel, explained that the 1934 petition is based on reports of the company's earnings in 1933. He said arrangements have been made to get reports for the intervening years and these will be included in the amended petition.

City officials have never prepared any evidence in the case, which was continued 83 times by the commission on the city's plea that action for lower bus fares would upset the city's transit unification plans.

Assistant Commissioners William E. Helander and Howard West gave the city until Wednesday to amend its petition and instructed John J. Sharon, attorney for the bus company, to file an answer by Aug. 11.

"This case is going to proceed without delay," Helander announced. "The full commission will hold an emergency session in Springfield Aug. 13 to hear all motions on the bus fares."

May Order Hearings.

Helander said the commission will decide then whether to follow the advice of Barrett and Douglas and order an immediate fare cut or to proceed with extended hearings on the city's petition. Under the law the commission can order a rate reduction when it finds on examination of a public utility's financial statements that profits are exorbitant.

Barrett said his suggested 7 cent fare was based on an "arithmetical" calculation. Bus line officials said such a reduction would result in a net loss to the company of nearly a million dollars a year.

FROM VACANT LOT TO BUSY FACTORY—IN 10 MONTHS

1 SEPT. 20, 1940: Packard contracts to fill fast-action order for Rolls-Royce airplane engines for the RAF and U. S. Army Air Corps. Despite vastness of Packard factory, this meant starting from the ground up—new plant layout, new buildings, new machinery.

2 GROUND WAS BROKEN on Sept. 29. By an odd coincidence, one building site was a lot on which had stood testing sheds for the Packard-designed Liberty motor, famous in World War I. As the walls went up, machines began going in.

3 TODAY, ONLY 10 MONTHS after signing contract, Packard actually starts production on these eagerly-awaited Rolls-Royce aircraft engines. A 10-month miracle—made possible by American engineering and manufacturing genius. American production has come through!

4 MEANWHILE, PACKARD CONTINUES with another vital defense assignment—huge power plants for the Navy's "Water Wasps"—the PT boats . . . an assignment recently augmented by an important order for still more of these modern high-powered giants.

HEAR HISTORY IN THE MAKING!

INTERNATIONAL BROADCAST TO CELEBRATE EVENT

5:05 P.M: C.D.S.T., AUG. 2ND—COLUMBIA NETWORK

TEN SHORT MONTHS after the signing of the contract, Packard is tooled up and ready to start actual production of Rolls-Royce aircraft engines!

A brand-new factory has been planned, buildings completed, and equipped with new and complex machines. Men have been trained. Now the production of these famous engines is no longer just conversation, but an actual fact.

Because this is an event of historic importance to both Britain and the U. S., it is being heralded in an international radio broadcast. For these engines are the famous, battle-tested liquid-cooled engines that are proving their superiority every hour in Britain's Hurricane and Spitfire fighting planes.

They are the self-same power plants that recently won this terse praise from a high British official: "They saved England."

In Britain, all that men and machines can do is now being done to get more and more of these sorely-needed power plants "into the blue"—for they are the backbone of the RAF. In America, likewise, actual production at Packard is now going "all out" to help meet the urgent demand for literally thousands of these high performance, precision-built engines.

Packard invites all its friends, and everyone interested in the progress of the Defense Program to tune in and hear Lord Halifax, foreign correspondents from abroad, RAF and RCAF pilots, and Packard President M. M. Gilman on this epic broadcast.

St. Louis, Mo., Aug. 1 (AP).—Benny Warren's 11th inning home run gave the Philadelphia Phils a 2 to 1 victory over the first place Cardinals tonight and saved a well earned victory for the veteran, Si Johnson, who had shut the Red Birds out on two hits until the ninth inning. The defeat cut the Cardinals' lead to one game over Brooklyn, which defeated the Chicago Cubs today, 5 to 4.

Enos Slaughter's single, his first hit in 16 times at bat, sent Johnny Hopp across the plate with the tying run after two were out in the ninth. Johnson pitched himself out of a hole in the tenth when the Red Birds loaded the bases with none out.

Johnson, a former Cardinal, had his ex-mates popping out consistently thruout the game, while the Phils, who had trouble of their own in solving the offerings of their old mate, Bill Crouch, finally pushed over a run in the eighth.

Lon Warneke, who followed Ira Hutchinson as the third Cardinal pitcher, threw the home run ball to Warren and was charged with the defeat.

A crowd of 20,342 turned out for the game and delayed play several minutes with a straw hat and pop bottle shower after the Cardinals tied the score. Score:

LOUIS MUST PAY $200 PER WEEK AS CASE PENDS

Mrs. Marva Trotter Louis, 24 years old, won an order for $200 a week temporary alimony yesterday from her husband, Joe Louis, 27, heavyweight boxing champion of the world, whom she is suing for divorce on grounds of cruelty. The hearing before Circuit Judge Michael Feinberg drew an overflow gallery which crowded the courtroom and County building corridor, altho Louis was not present. Extra deputies were called to keep the crowd in order.

Attorney William H. Temple, representing the champion, protested the order as excessive, calling Mrs. Louis an extravagant woman. He said that Louis has been giving her $100 a week, plus the income from a large apartment building at 4320 Michigan avenue which he deeded to her and in which she lives.

Judge Feinberg referred the divorce case and the question of Louis' ability to pay permanent alimony to Master in Chancery Dwight S. Bobb for preliminary hearings.

Louis will be in Chicago today to attend a picnic for colored children on the south side.

Pots and Pans.

"I'll not," said Mrs. Donahue,
"Give a pot or a frying pan
For them to make up into something
To take the life of a man;
This kettle o' mine has served me for years,
Cooking, preserving, and all,
It never was meant for such things as war,
Or causing a man to fall."

"If you talk that way," warned Mrs. O'Shay,
Her next door neighbor and friend,
"They'll say you're not patriotic,
Said Mrs. Donahue,
"But I'd have you know before I go
I'm as patriotic as you."

Next day when the collector's dray
Backed up at the Donahues' door,
You never by chance saw an avalanche
Like the pots and kettles that poured;
"I'm not for maiming and killing," said she,
"But I'll just show Mrs. O'Shay,
Tho I come from Mayo, I'm out to kayo
Any foe of the U. S. A.!"

Johnny Allen, the old fireball of the American league, made his debut in the National circuit as a Brooklyn Dodger yesterday, much to the chagrin of the Cubs. His newly found Dodger pals garnished his coming out party with in imposing array of base hits and,while old John didn't last out the affair, he was around long enough to be credited with winning a 5 to 4 job for the second placers, who recently have had trouble getting their pennant balloon off the ground.

Whereas Allen had a good time until near the close, when it was necessary for Rookie Tom Drake and Hugh Casey to make rescuing contributions, Vern [Lefty] Olsen of the Cub staff was in misery from the very start and never got out of it. Paced by Ducky Medwick and Dolph Camilli, the Dodgers lathered the kid southpaw in the first inning and kept it up thru every inning until the end of the seventh, when he was excused. During that period they did all their scoring and they came close to doing some more while Tot Pressnell was finishing.

The Punch Is Lacking

It was another afternoon of falling down in the pinches for the Cubs. They had Allen down in the first inning but let him escape on one run. Thereafter he was pretty tight with hits, one of them being Babe Dahlgren's 16th homer in the fourth, but when he had two on bases with two out in the seventh he was removed, leaving Drake, a fresh import from Nashville, to clean up. Drake, after allowing four hits in the eighth, followed Allen and Hugh Casey did the rest in perfect style.

Olsen's first inning would have been far more strenuous if he hadn't retired two men before trouble caught up with him. Reiser doubled and scored on Medwick's double. Camilli singled and Tom Tatum, also a recruit from Nashville, doubled, Medwick scoring. Riggs obligingly fanned. The Cubs started off with successive singles by Hack, Gilbert, and Dallessandro, Hack scoring, but Allen made shoft work of his threat. He fanned Nicholson, Gilbert being doubled trying for third and Dahlgren hoisting to Medwick.

It's Joe and Dolph Again.

The Dodgers regained the two run lead in the third, Medwick singling and romping home on Camilli's double. Dahlgren cut the lead in half

BY EDWARD BURNS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 1.—The White Sox are determined to play no favorites. Having boosted the Athletics into the first division yesterday, they today hauled the Senators out of the American league cellar. They did it by swooning, as usual, in the presence of Dutch Leonard, who has made a career of standing the Chicago boys on their heads. Today he beat them 8 to 2.

Thornton Lee, one of the last of the pitchers to break down under the rigors of Jimmy Dykes' Piggy-Back Circus, which has featured big and strong, but hitless, batsmen riding on the backs of valiant pitchers, was the loser today. Thornton gave up after five innings, the first time in 20 starts he has failed to go at least eight innings and only the third time he has failed to finish.

No Replacements Foreseen.

The loss was the eighth in 11 games on the present trip, but there still is no indication that the management will try to effect any replacements, tho it is not believed the present outfit will be displayed intact when the team returns home Aug. 11.

The scoring started in the Senators' third. Jimmy Bloodworth opened with a fly that got away from Julius Solters for a double. After Jake Early had fanned and Leonard had flied out, Bloodworth scored on George Case's single to left.

After Cecil Travis had flied out at the start of the Washington fourth, a double by Mickey Vernon, an infield single by George Archie, errors by Lee and Joe Kuhel, and a double by Case netted three runs for the Sena-

To a Tee Wins Opening Day Feature at Washington Park

BY HOWARD BARRY.

Washington Park opened its meeting yesterday with a victory by a 1 to 2 favorite, To a Tee, in the Boundless purse, a mile run which headed the afternoon's program. The 32 day session will settle into full swing today with two stake races—the $5,000 Chicago handicap and the $2,500 Princess Pat stakes.

With the inaugural program sandwiched between Thursday's Hyde Park stakes at Arlington and Saturday's attractive card, the attendance and betting handle were considerably lower than might otherwise have been anticipated. Approximately 8,000 watched the races run off under perfect weather conditions.

Delray Runs Second.

To a Tee, John Marsch's consistent 3 year old, was making his first start since the Arlington Classic, in which he had been a little over his head. He finished fifth behind Attention and Whirlaway on that occasion, but that was the first time he had been out of the money this season.

He hooked up with four rivals in yesterday's Boundless purse and he won easily enough to justify those 1 to 2 odds, getting home three-quarters of a length ahead of Clarence Davison's Delray, while T. D. Buhl's Aaron Burr, which had established quite a reputation at Detroit, was taking third place.

It's Just a Romp.

That margin of three-quarters of a length was scarcely a true index of To a Tee's superiority, for Jockey Wilbur Borton wasn't forced to urge him at all in the stretch after holding him under strong restraint during the run down the back stretch and around the turn.

Delray opened up an early lead of three lengths, with To a Tee and Aaron Burr following in that order. On the turn To a Tee began moving to the leader gradually. When Borton gave him his head in the stretch To a Tee steadily overhauled the leader and was obviously so much the best that there was no need of Borton's driving him all out.

To a Tee's time for the mile was 1:37 4-5. His mutuel payoff was $3, $2.40, and $2.20.

Technician Runs Today.

Today's two stake events have brought out fields with plenty of speed and class. Ten have been named for the Chicago handicap at six furlongs and eight are scheduled to accept the issue in the Princess Pat.

Technician, Smacked, Kings Blue, Talked About, and Equistar are among the fast steppers in the Chicago handicap. Hirsch Jacobs, who led the nation's trainers for seven years and who is on top during the current season, will send out Air Brigade and Total Eclipse. Horace Luro's South American campaigner, Somborombon, will be among the contenders.

The Princess Pat, which is restricted to fillies and mares, will mark the comeback of Misty Isle, Joseph E. Widener's speedy lassie which was one of the fastest of last year's juveniles. She had been forced to pass up Arlington engagements because of sickness.

The Woolford farm entry of Silvestra and Unerring will draw strong support. Others in the field are Montsin, Pink Gal, Dog House, Night Lady, and Happy Home.

HOMER NORTON WILL REPRESENT SOUTH ON BOARD

BY ARCH WARD.

Homer Norton.

Norton, whose 1939 and 1940 elevens were rated among the nation's top teams, is the first coach from Texas to serve on the All-Star board. Frank Thomas of Alabama was head coach in 1935 and Maj. Robert Neyland of Tennessee, Bernie Moore of Louisiana State and Lowell Dawson of Tulane were assistants in other years.

Norton is the second of the five coaches who will handle this year's All-Star squad to accept appointment. Lynn Waldorf, of Northwestern, one of the midwest's two representatives, was the first. The Pacific coast member of the staff will be announced tomorrow.

Three Weeks to Build Team.

The five famous gridiron instructors will have complete charge of the All-Stars' preparations for the game with the Chicago Bears, champions of the National Football league, on Soldiers' field the night of Aug. 28. In less than three weeks they will try to put together a team from widely scattered universities and varied systems of play that can stop an opponent which ran up a 73 to 0 victory in the National league's championship contest.

Norton in his 16 years as a head coach has turned in 102 victories, 43 defeats and 15 ties. He went to Texas A. & M. in 1934 after 14 years of service at Centenary college. For four years at Centenary he was line coach under Bo McMillin, now head coach at Indiana. McMillin, who had charge of the All-Stars in 1938, led the collegians to the most decisive victory they have won in the series with the professional champions.

Team Wins 11 Straight.

Norton's 1939 Texas A. & M. team won 11 straight games and was generally accepted as the nation's No. 1 eleven after it defeated Tulane in the Sugar bowl. His 1940 team won nine of its ten games, including a victory over Fordham in the Cotton bowl contest. The University of Texas was the only opponent able to upset the Aggies last season.

The Texas A. & M. coach made his first bid for athletic fame as a baseball player at Birmingham, Ala., high school. He later played outfield at Birmingham-Southern college where his work attracted the attention of a scout for the Birmingham Barons of the Southern association. After a brief stay with the Barons he landed with the Greensboro, N. C., club of the Piedmont league. His next stop was Lakeland, Fla., and at the end of an exceptionally good season in 1919 the Columbus team of the American association bought his contract.

It was at this point in his career Norton decided his major interest was football. He went on baseball's voluntary retired list and accepted a football coaching job at Centenary.

WIRTZ SCOFFS AT CHICAGO AS SITE FOR LOUIS-NOVA

New York Will Get Bout, He Declares.

Arthur Wirtz, executive vice president of Chicago Stadium, yesterday scoffed at reports this city may be the site of a heavyweight championship bout between Joe Louis and Challenger Lou Nova in September. He said that when and if Mike Jacobs, New York boxing promoter, conducts shows in Chicago the Stadium will serve as nominal promoter and share in the profits in accordance with an agreement entered into several months ago by the Stadium and Jacobs.

Wirtz believes the Louis-Nova encounter is scheduled for presentation in the Polo grounds on Sept. 17. So do others who are close to the situation.

Detroit Also Considered.

Sol Straus, attorney for Mike Jacobs, said yesterday that failure to obtain terms for rental of Wrigley field probably would delay announcement of the site of the bout for a week or 10 days. Straus conferred with James T. Gallagher, general manager of the Chicago Cubs, before leaving for Detroit to talk with John Roxborough, one of Louis' managers, about the possibility of holding the bout in Briggs stadium either Sept. 17 or 24.

Gallagher said he would wire rental terms to Mike Jacobs after he confers with Phil K. Wrigley, owner of the Cubs.

Meanwhile, the Stadium is proceeding with plans for four more outdoor shows in the arena adjoining the west side building before moving indoors for an extensive winter program. Dates in the Stadium outdoor arena include Aug. 13 and 27, and Sept. 10 and 24.

Mamakos Will Fight.

Steve Mamakos, Washington, D. C., middleweight, and Johnny Colan of New York are booked to top the Aug. 13 card. Promoter William R. Rand last night denied reports that Mamakos will be unable to fight until Aug. 20. Also appearing in 10 round events on the Aug. 13 program are Phil Zwick, Kaukauna, Wis., junior lightweight, and Willie Joyce, and Lenny [Boom Boom] Mancini, and Pete Lello. A four round preliminary will bring together Jimmy Joyce, featherweight brother of Willie, and Vito Rizzo.

Booker Beckwith, Gary light heavyweight, and Clarence [Red] Burman, Baltimore, are principals in a 10 round headliner on the Aug. 27 card. Beckwith has gone to Karl Ogren's camp at Stone Lake, Wis., to do preliminary training. He will establish training quarters in Catholic Youth organization center or Trafton's gymnasium on his return Aug. 12.

Tommy Cross, Philadelphia junior welterweight, will arrive today for an eight round contest against Leonard Bennett in Marigold Gardens Monday. Three supporting eight round encounters on the program involve Billy Seward, Ingomar, Mont., 140 pounder, and Annunzio Ferraro of Milwaukee; George Nyberg, Port Arthur, Ont., middleweight, and Ernie Derho of Minneapolis, and Bill Petersen, Indiana Harbor heavyweight, and Frank Greene of the south side.

KNOWLES, BETZ GAIN MAIDSTONE TENNIS FINALS

East Hampton, N. Y., Aug. 1.—Hope Knowles of Philadelphia eliminated Louise Brough, the hard hitting 18 year old Beverly Hills girl, 7-5, 6-1, in the semi-final round of the 16th annual invitation women's tennis tournament at the Maidstone club today.

Miss Brough, who yesterday upset Mrs. Sarah Palfrey Cooke of New York, led in the first set at 5-2 with her hard drives along the base line, but from then on she was outplayed and outsmarted by Miss Knowles.

Miss Knowles will be opposed by Pauline Betz of Winter Park, Fla., seeded No. 2, in the final round tomorrow. Miss Betz eliminated Dorothy Bundy of Santa Monica, Cal., the defending champion, 6-1, 1-6, 6-1.

FALKENBURG WINS BOY'S TITLE IN WESTERN TENNIS

Kalamazoo, Mich., Aug. 1 (AP).—Bob Falkenburg of Hollywood, Cal., today won the western boy's tennis championship by defeating Don Harris of Los Angeles, Cal., 9-7, 7-5.

Jack Tunnell of Los Angeles eliminated Ben Migdow of Chicago, 7-5, 1-6, 6-4, and Harry Likas of San Francisco beat John Howard of Hollywood, 7-5, 8-6, in the semi-final bracket of the junior competition.

ENTRY LIST FOR AMATEUR GOLF UNDER '40 MARK

New York, Aug. 1 (AP).—A total of approximately 650 entries, including those of six former champions, has been filed for the National Amateur Golf tournament to be played in Omaha, Neb., Aug. 25 to 30, the United States Golf association announced tonight.

This is considerably under last year's figure, when 755 filed for the event played at the Winged Foot club in Marmaroneck, N. Y. The draft is believed to be largely responsible for the reduction of the qualifying field.

Ex-champions entered are Dick Chapman, who won it last year and now is an athletic instructor for the army at Montgomery, Ala.; Marvin Ward, Spokane, 1939; William Turnesa, Detroit, 1938; Johnny Goodman, Omaha, 1937; Johnny Fischer, Cincinnati, 1936, and Chick Evans, Chicago, 1916 and 1920.

Tribune Sport Movie Plays to 603,757 Fans

Offhand, how many people would you estimate have seen "The All American Way," the sound motion picture of Chicago Tribune sports promotions, in the first six months of 1941?

Eleven times the number of baseball fans who crowded Briggs stadium to watch Ted Williams win the All-Star baseball game for the American league with a ninth inning home run off Claude Passeau on July 8?

Here are the Figures.

"All American Way"	600,000
All-Star Game	55,000
Notre Dame	450,000
Cubs	400,000

"The All American Way" carries the spectator around the calendar of Tribune sports promotions, from Silver Skates to All-Star football, and includes All-Star baseball, the golf school, the interscholastic regatta, the fly casting tournament and the Chicagoland swim events.

Plays 1,860 Engagements.

The film has played 1,860 engagements before 603,757 spectators. Of these, 1,625 engagements were handled by the Tribune Public Service bureau, 1 South Dearborn street. Public Service bureau engagements accommodated 296,884 spectators, while 306,873 persons saw the film during 235 engagements in commercial theaters.

The film is available thru the Public Service bureau in both 16 and 35 millimeter film. The 35 millimeter film was used in 26 engagements before 11,313 persons.

February was the big attendance month when the picture played before 212,732 persons. April was second with 122,904. March [99,299] and May [99,219] showed almost identical figures. January attendance totaled 33,311 and June, 36,292.

REDS BEAT BRAVES.

Cincinnati, O., Aug. 1 (AP).—Johnny Vander Meer turned in a two hit performance against the Boston Braves today to give the Reds a 5 to 1 victory. It was the fourth triumph in a row for the world champions. Displaying good control, Vander Meer walked only three while striking out seven. Two of the walks went to Frank Demaree, who scored the Braves' only run on Lew Gremp's double in the second inning. It was not until one had been retired in the ninth that Vander Meer gave the Braves their second hit, a single by Sibby Sisti.

Jim Gleeson drove in two of the Red runs with a single with the bases loaded in the first inning. Ernie Lombardi, Lonnie Frey, and Frank McCormick each drove in one run on singles. Score:

REICH, JOHNSON GO TO FINAL IN WISCONSIN GOLF

Milwaukee, Wis., Aug. 1 (AP).—Harlan Reich of Madison and Bob Johnson of Milwaukee battled their way today to the finals of the Wisconsin State Amateur Golf tournament at the North Hills club here. Reich played sensational golf to win his 36 hole semi-final from Dick Matchette of Milwaukee, 8 and 7. Johnson eliminated the tourney medalist, Andy Anderson of Kenosha on the 38th green with a birdie 3.

Reich's accurate putter enabled him to rout Matchette, who had scored a 2 and 1 victory over defending champion Lyn Lardner Jr. of Oconomowoc. Reich and Johnson will meet in the 36 hole final tomorrow.

GOMEZ GIVES UP 5 HITS; YANKEES BEAT BROWNS, 9-0

New York, Aug. 1 (AP).—The Yankees rolled over the St. Louis Browns 9 to 0 today as Vernon [Lefty] Gomez pitched five hit ball for his second shutout of the year. Today's triumph was his tenth and his eighth in a row. He walked 11 men, including three to fill the bases in the ninth inning, but Manager Joe McCarthy let him work himself out of his own jams and he did so with great effectiveness.

Joe DiMaggio hit a double and a single to extend his new streak to 15 games and now has hit safely in 71 of his last 72 games. Tom Henrich, who yesterday collected three doubles and a single against the Tigers, hit two home runs and two singles. The victory put New York 12½ games in front of the idle Cleveland Indians.

in the fourth with his 16th homer into the left field seating space. Riggs walked and Reese doubled in the sixth and this gave the enemy a two run edge for the third time. They improved on it in the seventh. Medwick singled with one out and again scored on a two bagger by Camilli.

Rookie Drake fell into a jam when Gilbert and Dallessandro singled to open the eighth. Nicholson's only contribution was a pop to Herman. Dahlgren's fly fell in short center for a single, Gilbert scoring. McCullough whistled a hit into left to send Dallessandro home. Casey then retired Stringer and Sturgeon on strikes and that ended the last Cubs' threat.

Lew Riggs, Dodger third baseman, was hurt in the third inning when he fouled and the ball struck him in the face. Riggs wasn't seriously injured, however, and continued in the game.

INDIANS ACQUIRE NEW HURLER FROM EASTERN LEAGUE

C. C. Slapnicka, general manager of the Indians, did not disclose the purchase price for the Eastern league's leading hurler, who has won 17 and lost 3 games while working in 24 contests.

Lee pitched the fifth, then was rewarded with a cooling bath. Buddy Lewis opened the inning with a triple and scored on Travis' fly.

The first two gents who faced Bill Dietrich in the sixth, Bloodworth and Early, produced a run on a double and a single and the score thus became 6 to 0.

Altho the Sox don't appear to have much professional pride, they decided to avert a shutout in the seventh. They scored their first run on doubles by Mike Kreevich and Luke Appling.

Singles by Lewis and Travis and Vernon's second double gave the Senators two runs in the seventh. The Sox added their second with two out in the eighth, when Don Kolloway singled and got home on Kuhel's triple.

SMITH VS. HUDSON

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington D. C., Aug. 1.—Edgar Smith, the perspiring blond, will try for a new sweating record tomorrow, having been invited to pitch the middle game of the series in this humid boom town. Sid Hudson will pitch for the Senators.

It was ladies day in Philadelphia yesterday and ladies day here today, which was putting awful loads on the ears of the journeying Sox who have enough to worry about, what with their batting eyes what they are.

The Sox apparently aren't worrying about their miserable showing on the present road trip. Most of them have bonus contracts based on attendance rather than their talents.

Cubs Buy New Rookie Battery for 1942 Use

The Cubs announced the purchase yesterday of Russell Meers, a left handed pitcher, and Catcher Marvin Felderman from the Nashville club of the Southern association. They will report at Catalina next spring. The deal also included cash and minor league players to be named later.

The Dodgers also had a busy day in the market. Southpaw Kemp Wicker was sold to the club's Montreal farm of the International league to make room for Outfielder Tom Tatum, who with Pitcher Tom Drake was obtained Thursday from Nashville. Catcher Angelo Giuliani was released to Montreal.

Peewee Reese, the Dodgers' agile shortstop, was out of the lineup at 2:30 p. m. yesterday, but was back in by 3 o'clock. During batting practice he was hit on the right wrist as well as over the right eye by a foul ball. Examination by Dr. John Davis, club physician, indicated only slight damage, so, after having the wrist taped, Reese returned to his position.

Larry French, the Cubs' left handed vet, will be placed in service for the second of the Dodgers series this afternoon. Kirby Higbe will pitch for the visitors.

PIRIE'S GEMINI WINS 6TH RACE IN STAR SERIES

Shrew Beats Out Gale by Two Seconds.

Gemini, flagship of the Sheridan Shore Yacht club, won the sixth race of the club's annual open race week for Star class sloops yesterday, off Wilmette harbor. Commodore John T. FARM MACHINE PRODUCERS HIT BY SHORTAGES

Large Excess of Orders Over Supplies.

Farm equipment plants are operating on a "hand to mouth" basis and have been forced to shut down briefly from time to time in recent weeks because of shortages of materials, manufacturers disclosed yesterday. Farmers are learning that plows, tractors, corn pickers, and other machinery needed on their farms are difficult to buy.

The manufacturers said that with current output estimated at only 75 to 80 per cent of what it should be to satisfy demand, orders are far ahead of supply. Some reported they were completely sold out of certain types of implements.

Production is estimated at 120 per cent of what it was a year ago, but lack of materials, particularly metals, has put production on an insecure, day to day basis.

Serious Shutdowns Possible.

Spokesmen for the industry asserted serious shutdowns are possible at any time. They said manufacturers can obtain only small quantities of steel sheets. Aluminum, special alloy steels, zinc, copper, and molybdenum are particularly difficult to get. Procurement offices of the companies were said to be working on 24 hour schedules.

Because the farmer is sharing in the general armament "boom," farm implement companies have been experiencing banner sales this year, it was said. Domestic sales of agricultural machinery so far in 1941 are estimated to be 25 per cent larger than a year ago, which was the third best year in the history of the industry.

Manufacturers believe they could sell 30 to 40 per cent more corn pickers and 20 to 25 per cent more dairy equipment if they could step up production. Farmers wanted more wheat combines than manufacturers had to sell and more grain binders were needed when the harvest started.

Get Highest Civilian Rating.

Farm machinery makers have been given the highest civilian preference rating for materials to be delivered in August, September, and October. Manufacturers do not know what ratings they will receive later.

The Washington, D. C., representative of one of the manufacturers said he believed, however, the industry would continue to receive the highest civilian rating for materials to go into new equipment. Preference ratings for materials to be used in replacement parts are expected to be in the same classification. He expects the rating for after October to be assigned within a few days. If given the A-3, or highest civilian, rank, farm equipment manufacturers would be second only to armament and transportation equipment makers.

Expect Larger Demand.

The industry expects further increases in demand as a result of the department of agriculture's "food for defense" program. Farm labor costs are rising. The draft and the attraction of high industrial wages have taken thousands of farm workers off the land.

In April, it was estimated that the farm labor supply was only 75 per cent of normal. Manufacturers assert this shortage of man power must be filled by machinery.

The larger manufacturing companies include International Harvester company, Deere & Co., Allis-Chalmers Manufacturing company, J. I. Case company, and Oliver Farm Equipment company.

NEW CHICAGO BUILDING IN JULY REACHES HIGH LEVELS FOR THIS YEAR

Building construction in Chicago during July, based on permits, was the largest of any month this year. Permits were issued for 652 buildings valued at $7,390,020. This was an increase of approximately 100 per cent in value over July of last year when 424 permits were taken out for buildings costing $3,669,299. It also was above June of this year when 549 permits were issued for buildings valued at $5,033,008.

Home building again broke records for many years with 537 permits for single family dwellings costing $2,800,145. In the same month last year there were 363 permits, costing $1,890,717 and during June of this year there were 447 home permits valued at $2,488,650.

Business buildings led all types in last month's totals in value with 86 permits issued for structures costing $4,474,375. The largest single permit was for the new plant of Revere Copper and Brass, Inc., for $1,552,000. In July last year there were 48 permits for buildings valued at $1,472,382.

SALE OF PEOPLES GAS REFUNDING BONDS IS MADE

The Peoples Gas Light & Coke company announced yesterday completion of the sale to five life insurance companies of $37,000,000 of new first and refunding mortgage bonds. Proceeds will be used to redeem all of its outstanding 4 per cent bonds. The transaction was said to be the largest of its kind ever made in Chicago.

The sale included $22,000,000 of 3¼ per cent series E bonds, due in 1966, and $15,000,000 of 3 per cent series F, due in 1956. The company on Sept. 2 will redeem at 103 and accrued interest $22,000,000 of 4 per cent series D bonds, due in 1961, and at 104 and interest, $15,000,000 of 4 per cent series B bonds, due in 1981.

GOLDEN CYCLE.

What is the main business of the Golden Cycle company? I would like a brief sketch of the company's finances and operations.—W. H.

Answer: The Golden Cycle corporation, Colorado Springs, Colo., is the largest miller of gold ore in the Cripple Creek area of Colorado. The company's own Granite-Ajax mine furnishes less than 10 per cent of the gold ore handled in its large flotation and cyanide mill. The bulk of the ore comes from two important gold mines in the area controled by interests affiliated with the Golden Cycle.

1936	$515,795	$2.76	$6.00
1937	610,401	3.26	5.00
1938	725,123	3.88	4.00
1939	705,289	3.77	4.00
1940	584,640	3.13	2.50

Dividends have been paid on the company's stock since its formation in 1896. Payments thru June 10 this year totaled $1.25 a share. A dividend of 75 cents is payable Sept. 10. There are 187,053 shares of $10 par capital stock outstanding.

CANADIAN TAX.

I have been confused by recent talk that Canada has raised its taxes on dividends and interest going out of that country to Americans. What is the situation?—H. K. T.

Answer: The amended Canadian income war tax act passed last June raised the tax rate to 15 per cent on dividends paid in any currency by Canadian companies to nonresidents of Canada. The previous rate was 5 per cent, and was applied only on dividends payable exclusively in Canadian money.

The tax is known as a withholding tax because it is withheld by the company before paying the dividend and is turned over to the Canadian treasury. Thus, a Canadian company which declared a $1 dividend would disburse 85 cents to an American stockholder and pay the 15 cents balance to the dominion. Under the old tax rate, the American would have received 95 cents, if paid in Canadian funds, or the full $1, if paid in American currency.

The provisions of the new tax law governing bond interest paid to nonresidents continue to exempt dominion government direct and guaranteed bonds and any interest payable in a foreign currency.

On interest paid to nonresidents in Canadian funds on Canadian corporate bonds, the withholding tax rate has been boosted to 15 per cent from the previous 5 per cent. The tax rate on interest paid in Canadian funds on bonds issued or guaranteed by the Canadian provinces remains 5 per cent.

RECORD PROFIT IS REPORTED BY BIG SOAP MAKER

The largest profit ever reported for any quarter year by Procter and Gamble company, maker of soap and related products, was announced yesterday for the quarter ended June 30.

Richard R. Deupree.

However, Richard R. Deupree, president of the company, disclosed that rising taxes caused net income for the entire fiscal year ended with June to fall below the earnings for the preceding fiscal year in spite of a large increase in gross sales.

June quarter profit was $10,805,454, equal to $1.68 a share, compared with $6,355,345, or 96 cents a share, in the 1940 June quarter. The former record for quarterly earnings was $8,198,490, equal to $1.26 a share, in the three months ended March 31, 1937.

Year's Net Income Pared.

After provisions for income and federal excess profits taxes for the entire fiscal year had been raised to $9,915,006, from $6,344,447 in the preceding year, the latest year's net income had been whittled down to $27,581,523, equal to $4.21 a share, from $28,628,493, or $4.37 a share, in the year ended June 30, 1940.

Deupree reported that the company's supply of raw materials has been affected by a shortage of shipping facilities. The situation is not yet serious, he said. He reported that operations in England have been gratifying, but said no English earnings have been transferred to America. Lack of materials has cut the company's English production 20 per cent, Deupree revealed. He said Canadian operations are "excellent." The net income included $673,423 transferred from Canadian earnings.

Diamond T Income Soars.

Diamond T Motor Car company, Chicago, which has contracts for military vehicles, announced a net income of $212,436 for the three months ended June 30, compared with $29,336 in the 1940 period. Of 3,107 trucks delivered during the 1941 quarter, 919 were on government contracts, the report showed.

Illinois Zinc company, Chicago, operator of zinc mines, smelters and rolling mills, announced that its net income for the nine months ended with June was up to $308,723, equal to $3.24 a share, from $69,889, or 73 cents a share, in the corresponding period a year earlier.

Birtman Electric company, Chicago manufacturer of vacuum cleaners, washing machines, toasters, and numerous other products, also reported improved earnings. Its June quarter profit was $103,576, equal to 77 cents a share, compared with $67,283, or 47 cents a share, in the 1940 period.

Reliance Manufacturing company, Chicago, work clothing and parachute maker with plants in several states, including Indiana, had a net income of $191,422, equal to 77 cents a share, in the quarter ended with June. In the 1940 June quarter, the company earned $39,087, or 9 cents a share.

Fancy Lines of Galoshes Dropped to Save Rubber

New York, Aug. 1 (AP).—Red and white rubber galoshes and other fancy waterproof footwear will be discontinued to save rubber for armaments, the Rubber Manufacturers association announced today. Colors will be confined to black, shades of brown, and olive drab, the association decided. The elimination of unnecessary parts, substitution of cloth where possible, and discontinuance of some styles will be other results of the conservation program.

National Steel Profits Back Weir Pay Plea

National Steel corporation, whose chairman, Ernest T. Weir, last April advised the industry against complaining about price ceilings and wage boosts until June quarter earnings results could be known, yesterday reported a 2 million dollar increase in profit for the period.

Weir is the big independent steel producer who created a stir in the industry during the spring wage negotiations by granting a 10 cents an hour raise to National's 20,000 workers while his bigger competitors were holding out for a smaller increase. As a result of Weir's move, United States Steel corporation and other major producers had to give in to union demands.

Urged: Let Facts Decide.

Faced by bigger wage bills and a government order "freezing" prices for steel products at first quarter levels, steelmakers generally warned that the price ceiling would have to be put higher to absorb rising costs. Weir chided them, proposing to "let second quarter facts" settle that point.

Yesterday's earnings report containing National's "second quarter facts" disclosed that profit for the period climbed to $5,291,430, equal to $2.41 a share, from $3,004,624, or $1.36 a share, in the 1940 June quarter.

The company's net income for the first half of 1941 also was larger than a year earlier at $9,721,819, equal to $4.42 a share, compared with $7,013,817, or $3.18 a share.

7 Million Tax Expected.

The figure for the 1941 half year period was after provision of $6,929,342 for federal income and excess profits taxes and, after an additional deduction of 1 million dollars for possible added federal taxes under the proposed change in the revenue law.

Steel companies are operating at practical capacity as a result of armament requirements.

CATTLE BUYERS FACE JURY IN U. S. PRICE QUIZ

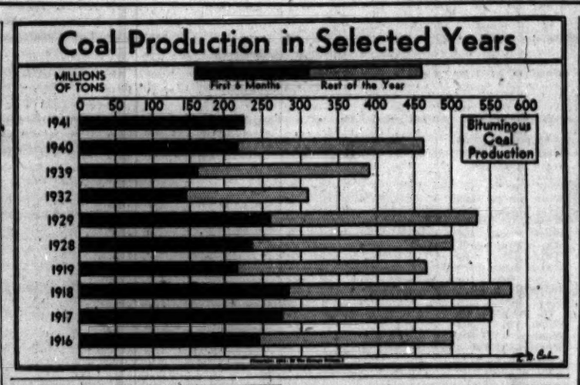
The appearance of Chicago meat packing company officials and cattle buyers before the federal grand jury recently is expected to result soon in the return of an indictment charging conspiracy to fix cattle prices, it was reported in stock yard circles yesterday. Indictments were returned recently in the hog and sheep industries, naming major Chicago packing houses and the American Meat Institute.

The government also in investigating dressed meat prices in Chicago. Daniel B. Britt, special assistant attorney general in charge of the Chicago office of the anti-trust division, would not comment on the progress of the cattle price investigation. Britt presented the evidence that resulted in the hog and sheep indictments.

BRITAIN GETS 100 MILLIONS OF BIG LOAN FROM U. S.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 1 [Special].—The Reconstruction Finance corporation today paid out the first 100 millions on the 425 million dollar loan recently granted the British government, with British-held securities and direct assets here as collateral.

Federal Loan Administrator Jesse Jones said the disbursement was made against the deposit with the Federal Reserve Bank of New York, as custodian for the RFC, or securities listed on the New York Stock exchange with an aggregate market value of 145 millions.



SALES OF DEFENSE SAVINGS BONDS TOP 1,000 MILLION MARK

Washington, D. C., Aug. 1 (AP).—Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau announced today that cash receipts from the sale of defense savings bonds had passed 1,000 million dollars exactly three months after the campaign opened on May 1. Receipts were $349,818,000 in May, $314,527,000 in June, and $342,132,000 in July for a total of $1,006,477,000, he said.

"This is great and good news," Morgenthau said. "I congratulate all those whose united coöperation has made it possible."

The 1,000 million total did not include proceeds from the sale of defense savings stamps because this money technically remains in the postoffice department until the stamps are turned in for bonds.

FIRST CHICAGO AREA TAX NOTE SOLD TO HOOSIER

The first of the new federal tax anticipation notes sold in the 7th [Chicago] federal reserve district was purchased at the Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago yesterday by Frank L. Binford of Indianapolis. C. S. Young, president of the bank, presided at a ceremony at which Binford handed to Young a check for $11,200.

Binford bought $1,200 of the series A notes, designed to help small taxpayers save up funds with which to pay federal income taxes, and $10,000 of series B notes, offered for the same purpose to larger taxpayers and corporations.

PIG IRON PLACED UNDER PRIORITY CONTROL BY OPM

Washington, D. C., Aug. 1 (AP).—E. R. Stettinius Jr., defense priorities director, placed pig iron under full priority control today in a step he said was designed to insure that iron and steel products flow promptly into armament channels.

The order requires that producers set aside certain quantities of pig iron monthly in an emergency pool for special allocation, and provides that all schedules of pig iron shipments to customers be approved by the priorities division of the Office of Production Management.

Stettinius explained that by thus assuming direction over deliveries of pig iron, he could make certain that pig iron was delivered to foundries and steel plants in sufficient quantities to fill the most important arms requirements.

Operating Rail Unions Outline Pay Demands

BY PHILIP HAMPSON.

Negotiators for the Big Five operating brotherhoods at the Morrison hotel presented to the railroad representatives yesterday arguments supporting their demands for a 30 per cent wage increase. They based their claims on five points:

1. Productivity of workers.
2. Skill and responsibility of workers.
3. Wage tendencies.
4. Standard and cost of living.
5. Business improvement.

Elaborating their arguments in a statement issued at the conclusion of their three hour meeting with the railroad representatives, executives of the five brotherhoods insisted that the railroad men are not being well paid for the kind of work they are doing.

Number of Employés Down.

They said that employé productivity has increased in the 21 years since 1920 far beyond additional railroad investment in operating equipment. Using 1923-'25 as an index of 100, they said the total number of railroad wage earners by 1938 had declined to 50.9 in 1938 and increased to only 56.8 in 1940, whereas on a basis of the same index figure physical volume of traffic in 1940 was 87.0.

They said that operation of trains carrying human lives and property demands skill and responsibility. Declaring that the present tendency in wages is definitely upward, they said that in industrial centers inexperienced high school age boys are receiving wages far in excess of those paid tens of thousands of skilled rail workers. Consequently the railroad industry should pay its skilled men higher wages, they said.

"People everywhere are painfully aware of the rising costs of living," they continued. Saying that it is fundamental to our democracy that people must not suffer a reduction in their basic living standards, they declared that railroad men are entitled to additional compensation to meet the rising living costs.

Cite Rising Rail Revenues.

Finally, they said that the railroads are sharing in increased earnings shown by all industries and the workers should participate in this improvement.

Fred G. Gurley, chairman of the railroads' negotiating committee, commented that much of the increased productivity of man power on the railroads is the result of a number of factors.

Most important, he said, was the investment since 1920 of more than 8,000 million dollars to improve the railroad plant and managerial operations. Larger engines and longer trains have helped. Diversion of traffic expensive to handle, such as less than carload freight, to the trucks and reduction in branch line operations have tended to concentrate railroad business in main line long haul operation. This has resulted in a relatively better showing in employé productivity, he argued.

Differ on Average Pay.

Gurley and A. F. Whitney, president of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, differed on the brotherhoods statement as to the average monthly wage of employés. The brotherhoods said that for 1939 the average wage of 1,376,266 employés attached to the industry was $110.33 a month, with 24.9 per cent of all workers receiving less than $600 a year.

Gurley stated that the total for employé included occasional, casual, and other workers who properly should not be included in a total used to provide the basis for arriving at an average wage. The total the railroads have been using has been 1,130,000.

The next meeting of the railroad representatives with the operating brotherhoods will be Tuesday. They meet with the 14 nonoperating unions on Monday. The two groups have been meeting on alternate days with the railroads.

Plants Face Shutdowns

New York, Aug. 1 [Special].—The American Business congress, an organization of small manufacturers, has sent a letter to the Office of Production Management asserting that the arms program is far behind schedule because facilities of small industrial plants are not being utilized.

As a result, the organization contends, thousands of small businesses face possible shutdowns, which would mean widespread unemployment.

G. J. Seedman, president, estimated that half of the nation's maximum productive plant capacity is not being utilized. He said small businesses which pay about 85 per cent of the nation's pay rolls are the most seriously affected.

In Washington, President Roosevelt was disclosed as advocating a policy by holders of government arms contracts of spreading the work thru subcontracting with small firms denied materials for normal operations. In a letter to Representative John D. Dingell [R., Mich.] Mr. Roosevelt said: "The army and navy are being encouraged to break down their orders and to stimulate subcontracting so that small concerns can obtain primary contracts and subcontracts."

American manufacturers, many of whom are facing shutdowns and financial ruin as a result of metal priorities, were surprised to learn yesterday that metals and metal products may be purchased from British companies for delivery in America.

The information came thru numerous advertisments in the engineering supplement of the Overseas Daily Mail of London, dated June 26, and just received by business men in Chicago.

Offers Complete Refineries.

To many companies, busy until recently, but who now cannot get enough metal for delivery of a single unit of such things as a pan for the kitchen or a vacuum cleaner, the following information from the advertisments proved interesting:

A company that builds parts for royal air force planes manages to find the time and the metals that enable it to take orders to deliver radiators, oil coolers, and other devices anywhere overseas.

Still Selling Thruout World.

If you are a business man in South America, Africa, the far east, or Chicago, you can order cranes, pipe lines, marine engines, trucks, steel bridges, precious metal alloys, railroad cars, buses, threshing machinery, hacksaw blades, stokers, and numerous other products from English companies that are busy with foreign trade while the American government is throttling peacetime industries in the interest of armament and aid to Britain.

Nowhere in the supplement's advertisments is there the slightest indication of doubt that the goods offered can be delivered by the British companies immediately.

Aluminum Castings Offered.

"Engineering products—Small tools, precision machining, sheet metal work.

"Vehicles—Trailers.

Hudson Motor Gives Dealers First Glimpse of 1942 Cars

The 1942 automobile season was opened in Chicago yesterday when officials of the Hudson Motor Car company gave Chicago region distributors, dealers, and salesmen a first glimpse of the new cars at a meeting at the Drake hotel. W. E. Butler, head of Butler Motors, Inc., distributors for the area, and C. R. Collins, Hudson regional manager, were hosts at the meeting.

C. G. Beeching reports on armament policy.

It will be some weeks before the cars appear in dealers' showrooms for inspection by the public. The cars exhibited yesterday featured longer, lower, and more flowing body lines with new front end and fender styling. Mechanical refinements giving greater economy and longer life were reported. Improved riding qualities were emphasized.

Details to Be Disclosed Later.

Full details of the new cars' improvements will be disclosed when the cars go on public display.

C. G. Beeching, midwest sales manager for Hudson, told the group that altho the new models are being built the company's management at Detroit is giving first call to its part in the national preparedness program.

"We have been entrusted in the national emergency with a large and steadily increasing amount of defense work, now totaling approximately $70,000,000," he said. "These assignments occupy positions of major importance in the list of defense needs and call for the highest degree of manufacturing skill.

Output To Be Restricted.

"We are glad to announce that, along with the performance of this national service, we are able to present the new 1942 cars. These new cars, while necessarily restricted as to the number we may be able to build, maintain our traditional high standards."

Beeching said that with new car production restricted, cars will have to be driven longer and will require more attention. For this reason service operations must be stressed.

OPM REDUCTION IN CAR OUTPUT IN FORCE, BUT IT MEANS LITTLE YET

Detroit, Mich., Aug. 1 [Special].—The initial 20 per cent reduction in automobile production imposed by the Office of Production Management became effective today, but it made little immediate difference to automobile manufacturers. Most plants have halted 1941 model production and the others are preparing to do so. A slack period will now ensue until 1942 model production starts in volume

Estimated production of cars and trucks for the 1941 model year will aggregate 5,247,000 units, including 4,320,000 passenger cars. Ward's Reports, Inc., today estimated this week's output at 62,146 units. This compares with 105,635 units last week and with 17,373 this week a year ago.

CORN FUTURES RALLY AFTER LOAN AGENCY LIFTS OFFERING PRICE

An advance of 2 to 4 cents a bushel in the price asked for cash corn by the Commodity Credit corporation resulted in a rise of 2⅛ cents in futures at one time yesterday on the Chicago Board of Trade. Shorts and commission houses bought freely during the early trading, but the upturn attracted large country offerings of grain and the market reacted quickly. The close was ¾ to 1 cent a bushel higher, with September at 75¾ cents.

Wheat and other grains fluctuated in a nervous manner. Wheat came within a small fraction of a cent of equaling the seasonal high price early, but closed at gains of ⅛ to ¼ cent. Oats finished ¼ cent higher and rye unchanged to ¼ cent higher. Soy beans were ¼ to ⅜ cent higher.

WARRING NATIONS SPEND 70 PCT. OF NATIONAL INCOME

BASEL, Switzerland, Aug. 1 (AP).—The ratio between public spending and national income of belligerent nations already is greater than in the last two years of the World war, the Bank for International Settlements declared today.

Public expenditure during 1941 in Germany, Italy and Great Britain will amount to 70 per cent of the net national income, it said in its report for the year ended March, 1941.

SOY BEAN CROP TO SET RECORD; CORN IMPROVED

Estimates Raised by Chicago Experts.

Chicago crop statisticians predicted yesterday that farmers would harvest the largest soy bean crop on record this year. They said July 1 conditions indicated the largest yield of spring wheat and the second largest corn crop since 1932.

Favorable weather during July with the exception of the heat wave late in the month caused the crop reporters to raise previous estimates sharply.

Estimates of Bean Harvest.

The record soy bean harvest was predicted by Nat C. Murray and C. M. Galvin. Murray estimated the crop at 106,000,000 bushels and Galvin at 100,000,000. Last year's harvest was 79,837,000 bushels. Because of high prices, a larger percentage of the acreage is expected to be harvested for beans rather than for hay, they said.

From the smallest corn acreage on record, production is expected to reach 2,602 million bushels. This is a 53 million bushel increase over the July 1 estimate of government crop reporters.

The increase of spring wheat estimates to 260 million bushels brings total anticipated wheat production this year to approximately 925 million bushels, largest since 1928. The earlier estimates were boosted 26 million bushels in latest predictions.

Oats and Rye Outlook.

The outlook for oats and rye production declined during the last month, the crop reporters said. They predicted a record barley crop of approximately 350 million bushels.

The individual estimates follow in millions of bushels:

	—Wheat— Winter.	Spring	Corn.	Oats.

Stabilization Pact for Gulf Coast Ship Workers Expected

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Defense officials announced the imminence of a stabilizing agreement for labor in gulf coast shipyards yesterday. At the same time one armament production trouble spot was cleared up and some new ones appeared likely to develop.

The gulf coast plan—one of four contemplated in the program developed by Sidney Hillman, associate director of the Office of Production Management—has been approved by the CIO Industrial Union of Marine and Shipbuilding Workers, officials said, and will be effective as of July 31 if it is approved by the AFL Gulf Coast Metal Trades District council meeting today and tomorrow at Tampa, Fla.

Pay Increases Provided.

The agreement calls for a basic wage of $1.07 an hour for skilled mechanics and "equitable increases" for other employés, officials said. It also prohibits strikes or lockouts in shipbuilding and repair yards in the area. A similar agreement has been adopted for the west coast and others are being negotiated for the Atlantic coast and the Great Lakes regions.

Meanwhile, however, possible trouble appeared on the east coast. The executive board of a CIO shipbuilders union said that a strike vote may be necessary because the union was dissatisfied with a new working contract offered by the Federal Shipbuilding and Dry Dock company of Kearny, N. J. The union claims a membership of 14,000 among the 17,000 employés at the shipyard.

Wage Boost Offered.

The proposed contract provided a modified union shop, a 12 per cent increase in a presently undisclosed wage scale, vacation adjustments, and reclassification of 1,000 employés.

Electrical workers returned to their jobs at the Brooklyn navy yard, where a $70,000,000 expansion program is under way, after their leaders agreed to exempt armament projects from the AFL union's city-wide strike over a jurisdictional dispute. The walkout continued at nondefense projects.

The union struck in an effort to force Consolidated Edison company to use AFL members on an installation job where members of an independent union are employed.

Optimism marked negotiations at the Timken Roller Bearing company plant at Columbus, O., where the CIO Steel Workers Organizing committee local struck over the discharge of five women charged with lax inspection. Harry Mayfield, union president, said, "we are very, very close" to a settlement and Federal Conciliator Hugh D. Friel said that there was "very good hope" for one.

End Hamilton, Ont., Strike.

At Hamilton, Ont., National Steel Car corporation strikers decided to go back to work at 7 a. m. today on the advice of their union executive. Prime Minister W. L. Mackenzie King told a strikers' delegation that no consideration could be given to representations by employés while a strike was on at any government controled plant.

Approximately 200 coal miners employed at Paschfrrer & Sons Coal company and the Blakley Coal company at Canton, Ill., went on strike and immediately picketed both mines. Officials of the mines said they had received no demands from the miners. The Progresive Mine Workers of America recently was granted bargaining rights at both mines.

LESS STRIKE IDLENESS.

Washington, Aug. 1 (AP).—Strikes during June caused 1,375,000 man days of idleness thruout the nation, a preliminary report to the labor department indicated today. This was a 39 per cent reduction, compared with May. In June 385 new strikes began, against 500 in May, and 181,000 fewer workers were involved.

RAILWAY SHARES ADVANCE AGAIN; OTHERS UNEVEN

Many Low Priced Issues Lead in Activity.

New York, Aug. 1 (AP).—Rails again provided the main rallying power today in another irregular stock market. Carrier issues were up from the start, aided by word that a number of the roads with mounting traffic and revenues were arranging to pay off bank loans before maturity.

The list, on balance, was lower most of the day but scattered recoveries crept in at the close and enabled the Associated Press average to finish unchanged at 44.1. The rail composite actually established a new high mark since April of last year.

Low priced stocks accounted for much activity that appeared after midday. In the morning dealings were slow. Of the 15 liveliest performers of the session, 8 sold under $10 a share. Warner Brothers led the fast movers with a gain of ¾ at 5¼.

Bethlehem Dips at Start.

An opening break of two points in Bethlehem Steel, reflecting some disappointment over the company's earnings figures which were cut sharply by heavy taxes, chilled sentiment for a time and turned leaders downward. Many other company statements for the second quarter and six months, however, disclosed large increases over a year ago and brought in bidders for individual stocks. Business generally was viewed as bullish but the cloudy tax situation was a persistent restraint, brokers said. Scant speculative stimulation was derived from far eastern or German-Russian war news.

Some oils were depressed by the gasoline sales curfew established for the eastern seaboard by the petroleum coördinator, Harold L. Ickes. General Motors and Chrysler were off a shade. This week's automotive output tumbled as most manufacturers completed their 1941 model output.

Bethlehem ended down 1⅝ at 76⅝. Declines running to a point or more were recorded for Standard Oil [N. J.], Sears Roebuck, Crucible Steel, Texas corporation, United States Rubber, Allied Chemical, Douglas Aircraft, and Western Union.

ARMOUR TO RAISE CAPACITY OF ITS EGG DRYING UNITS

Government Asks Boost to Feed British.

Armour & Co. officials revealed plans yesterday to increase the capacity of company egg drying plants from 9 million to almost 20 million pounds a year at the request of the department of agriculture. This is one phase of the program in which the government is urging larger output of dairy products and pork.

The Armour officials said the government program called for doubling the industry's output of dried eggs by the end of 1941. The department of agriculture wants 100 million pounds of dried eggs [four dozen eggs are required to make a pound of dried eggs] to give England within the next year, it was said.

Building No New Plants.

Armour will not build new plants, but will install egg drying equipment in its egg breaking plants where it has been producing frozen eggs. Eggs are prepared for drying in methods almost identical to those used for producing frozen eggs.

Work on rehabilitating the plants has begun and some of the plants are expected to be drying eggs within two weeks. The company has drying plants in operation at Springfield, Mo., and Fort Worth, Tex.

It will equip an additional plant at Fort Worth and will set up plants at Lampassas, Tex., Sedalia, Mo., and Dennison, Ia. Operation of these will require 250 additional employés.

Gets Machinery Priorities.

The officials said it would be possible to double the company's production of dried eggs by Dec. 1, because it will not be necessary to construct new buildings to house the plants. The government has given it priorities to obtain the needed drying chambers, pressure pumps, and power and refrigeration machinery.

The government's program, as outlined to egg processors in Washington last week, calls for the drying of more than 400 million dozen eggs a year. United States egg production was estimated at 3,250,000,000 dozen last year.

Armour & Co. officials made no estimate of the cost of the expansion. However, Arthur L. Israel, executive secretary of the National Egg Products association, said the smallest drying plant that can be put in operation costs at least $35,000. Israel said this cost was for drying equipment alone and did not include expenses for renovating buildings.

Canada Acts to Limit Imports of Dairy Products

OTTAWA, Ont., Aug. 1 (AP).—Authority has been given to the Dairy Products board, under the war measures act, to regulate the quantity of any dairy product that may be imported into Canada and license such imports, the agriculture department announced today.

QUIT YELLING FOR HELP, BUSINESS TOLD BY NELSON

Says Ingenuity Must Solve Problems.

Newark, N. J., Aug. 1 (AP).—Donald M. Nelson, director of purchases for the Office of Production Management, said today that American business should stop "sitting on its collective hands and yelling for government help."

Conceding that manufacturers in nonmilitary industry faced critical problems in increasing shortages of raw materials, Nelson declared their difficulties would have to be solved "if we are going to avoid something very like disaster."

Many in "Very Bad Fix."

"Neither government nor private industry has really faced the thing thru yet," Nelson said, in an address before a luncheon meeting of the New Jersey state chamber of commerce.

Some manufacturers, verging on shutdowns, are "in a very bad fix," he admitted, but added bluntly:

"American business did not become the admiration of the world thru a process of sitting on its collective hands and yelling for government help whenever the going got tough."

"Challenge" to Ingenuity.

Manufacturers should stretch out available supplies to last as long as possible, seek substitute materials and attempt to get out of their "very bad fix" by individual ingenuity and initiative, Nelson insisted.

"This situation is a direct and immediate challenge to the American business man," he continued. "As business men, we do not dare assume that our only hope is in government action, for if we do, we confess that we do not think our free competitive system will work any longer."

TRUSTEE FACES CONTEMPT RULE IN BUILDING CASE

Federal Judge William J. Campbell issued a ruling yesterday against George Pansiera, trustee under the first mortgage against the Medinah building, 505 North Michigan avenue, and Arthur M. Wirtz, his agent, to show why they should not be held in contempt of court for refusing to turn over the building to Arthur C. Youngberg, recently appointed trustee to act under a creditor's petition for reorganization of the Medinah Building corporation.

According to J. Arthur Friedlund, attorney for the Union Central Life Insurance company, holding a $460,000 first mortgage on the property, for which a foreclosure proceeding is pending, Pansiera will not turn over the building until a hearing is had on the reorganization petition on Aug. 8.

GRAIN IMPORTS BOOST CHICAGO CUSTOMS TOTAL

Joseph A. Ziemba, collector of customs, announced yesterday that collections in July totaled $908,583, a gain of $353,550 over the same period of last year. Heavy grain imports from Canada brought most of the increase.

Foreign trade with South America and Canada is serving to keep the collections at the prewar level, if not slightly higher, Ziemba said. An increase in the seven months of this year over similar periods in 1939 and 1940 was listed. The collections during those years were $5,394,546 and $5,281,180, against the 1941 figure of $6,195,776.

Bastian-Blessing Drops Restriction on Borrowing

Stockholders of the Bastian-Blessing company, Chicago manufacturer of soda fountain equipment and other items, yesterday voted to eliminate a preferred stock provision preventing the company from borrowing money for more than one year. Removal of the restriction was asked so that the company could amortize costs of a new factory building at 4201 West Peterson avenue, into which the company will move soon from its present location at 240 East Ontario street.

LAKE CARRIERS FIGHT SEAWAY AS DETRIMENTAL

No Justification for Plan, House Group Is Told.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 1 (AP).—Representatives of the Cleveland Lake Carriers' association protested today that development of the St. Lawrence waterway would be highly detrimental to the Great Lakes shipping industries. A. T. Wood, president of the association, told the house rivers and harbors committee there was "no justification at this time" for the undertaking.

"Right now," Wood said, "we are trying to build 20 large ore carriers on the lakes; if that goes thru there will be plenty of work for years to come." He explained that construction of the waterway would open the channel to foreign shipbuilding competition.

Not Needed, He Contends.

"And we don't want to do that—there is no need for it now," he contended. "In five or ten years, maybe, there might be some need for the project, but today it would be detrimental."

Gilbert R. Johnson of Cleveland, counsel for the carriers' association, filed with the committee a lengthy legal opinion in which he held that the treaty with Canada did not provide for the improvements embodied in this seaway agreement with Canada.

Proponents of the waterway, Johnson said, "have not gone to the root of the thing and distinguished the difference between a 'treaty' and an 'agreement.'"

Declares Ratification Required.

Therefore, Johnson said, "this is a pact between nations for political coöperation and, therefore, a treaty. So, under the constitution, it should be submitted to the senate for ratification."

The house committee, he held, had no jurisdiction over the project.

Wood declared that 526 ships that could have been built at Great Lakes yards now were under construction at Atlantic, gulf, and Pacific coast ports.

BUTTER FUTURES RISE ON BETTER CASH DEMAND

Butter futures registered their best gains in more than a week to close 0.20 to 0.30 cent higher at 35.35 cents a pound on the Chicago Mercantile exchange yesterday. Improved demand in cash markets offset cautious trading pending price control legislation, it was said. In the cash market prices advanced ¼ cent a pound.

Announcement of additional government purchases failed to support egg futures and prices were unchanged to 0.20 cent a dozen lower. October eggs closed at 28.60 cents a dozen, and the November contract ended at 28.80 cents.

Government Asks Boost to Feed British.

Armour & Co. officials revealed plans yesterday to increase the capacity of company egg drying plants from 9 million to almost 20 million pounds a year at the request of the department of agriculture. This is one phase of the program in which the government is urging larger output of dairy products and pork.

The Armour officials said the government program called for doubling the industry's output of dried eggs by the end of 1941. The department of agriculture wants 100 million pounds of dried eggs [four dozen eggs are required to make a pound of dried eggs] to give England within the next year, it was said.

Building No New Plants.

Armour will not build new plants, but will install egg drying equipment in its egg breaking plants where it has been producing frozen eggs. Eggs are prepared for drying in methods almost identical to those used for producing frozen eggs.

Work on rehabilitating the plants has begun and some of the plants are expected to be drying eggs within two weeks. The company has drying plants in operation at Springfield, Mo., and Fort Worth, Tex.

It will equip an additional plant at Fort Worth and will set up plants at Lampassas, Tex., Sedalia, Mo., and Dennison, Ia. Operation of these will require 250 additional employés.

Gets Machinery Priorities.

The officials said it would be possible to double the company's production of dried eggs by Dec. 1, because it will not be necessary to construct new buildings to house the plants. The government has given it priorities to obtain the needed drying chambers, pressure pumps, and power and refrigeration machinery.

The government's program, as outlined to egg processors in Washington last week, calls for the drying of more than 400 million dozen eggs a year. United States egg production was estimated at 3,250,000,000 dozen last year.

Armour & Co. officials made no estimate of the cost of the expansion. However, Arthur L. Israel, executive secretary of the National Egg Products association, said the smallest drying plant that can be put in operation costs at least $35,000. Israel said this cost was for drying equipment alone and did not include expenses for renovating buildings.

Canada Acts to Limit Imports of Dairy Products

Says Ingenuity Must Solve Problems.

Newark, N. J., Aug. 1 (AP).—Donald M. Nelson, director of purchases for the Office of Production Management, said today that American business should stop "sitting on its collective hands and yelling for government help."

Conceding that manufacturers in nonmilitary industry faced critical problems in increasing shortages of raw materials, Nelson declared their difficulties would have to be solved "if we are going to avoid something very like disaster."

Many in "Very Bad Fix."

"Neither government nor private industry has really faced the thing thru yet," Nelson said, in an address before a luncheon meeting of the New Jersey state chamber of commerce.

Some manufacturers, verging on shutdowns, are "in a very bad fix," he admitted, but added bluntly:

"American business did not become the admiration of the world thru a process of sitting on its collective hands and yelling for government help whenever the going got tough."

"Challenge" to Ingenuity.

Manufacturers should stretch out available supplies to last as long as possible, seek substitute materials and attempt to get out of their "very bad fix" by individual ingenuity and initiative, Nelson insisted.

"This situation is a direct and immediate challenge to the American business man," he continued. "As business men, we do not dare assume that our only hope is in government action, for if we do, we confess that we do not think our free competitive system will work any longer."

TRUSTEE FACES CONTEMPT RULE IN BUILDING CASE

Federal Judge William J. Campbell issued a ruling yesterday against George Pansiera, trustee under the first mortgage against the Medinah building, 505 North Michigan avenue, and Arthur M. Wirtz, his agent, to show why they should not be held in contempt of court for refusing to turn over the building to Arthur C. Youngberg, recently appointed trustee to act under a creditor's petition for reorganization of the Medinah Building corporation.

According to J. Arthur Friedlund, attorney for the Union Central Life Insurance company, holding a $460,000 first mortgage on the property, for which a foreclosure proceeding is pending, Pansiera will not turn over the building until a hearing is had on the reorganization petition on Aug. 8.

GRAIN IMPORTS BOOST CHICAGO CUSTOMS TOTAL

Joseph A. Ziemba, collector of customs, announced yesterday that collections in July totaled $808,583, a gain of $353,550 over the same period of last year. Heavy grain imports from Canada brought most of the increase.

Foreign trade with South America and Canada is serving to keep the collections at the prewar level, if not slightly higher, Ziemba said. An increase in the seven months of this year over similar periods in 1939 and 1940 was listed. The collections during those years were $5,394,546 and $5,281,180, against the 1941 figure of $6,195,776.

Bastian-Blessing Drops Restriction on Borrowing

Stockholders of the Bastian-Blessing company, Chicago manufacturer of soda fountain equipment and other items, yesterday voted to eliminate a preferred stock provision preventing the company from borrowing money for more than one year. Removal of the restriction was asked so that the company could amortize costs of a new factory building at 4201 West Peterson avenue, into which the company will move soon from its present location at 240 East Ontario street.

LAKE CARRIERS FIGHT SEAWAY AS DETRIMENTAL

No Justification for Plan, House Group Is Told.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 1 (AP).—Representatives of the Cleveland Lake Carriers' association protested today that development of the St. Lawrence waterway would be highly detrimental to the Great Lakes shipping industries. A. T. Wood, president of the association, told the house rivers and harbors committee there was "no justification at this time" for the undertaking.

"Right now," Wood said, "we are trying to build 20 large ore carriers on the lakes; if that goes thru there will be plenty of work for years to come." He explained that construction of the waterway would open the channel to foreign shipbuilding competition.

Not Needed, He Contends.

"And we don't want to do that—there is no need for it now," he contended. "In five or ten years, maybe, there might be some need for the project, but today it would be detrimental."

Gilbert R. Johnson of Cleveland, counsel for the carriers' association, filed with the committee a lengthy legal opinion in which he held that the treaty with Canada did not provide for the improvements embodied in this seaway agreement with Canada.

Proponents of the waterway, Johnson said, "have not gone to the root of the thing and distinguished the difference between a 'treaty' and an 'agreement.'"

Declares Ratification Required.

Therefore, Johnson said, "this is a pact between nations for political coöperation and, therefore, a treaty. So, under the constitution, it should be submitted to the senate for ratification."

The house committee, he held, had no jurisdiction over the project.

BUTTER FUTURES RISE ON BETTER CASH DEMAND

Butter futures registered their best gains in more than a week to close 0.20 to 0.30 cent higher at 35.35 cents a pound on the Chicago Mercantile exchange yesterday. Improved demand in cash markets offset cautious trading pending price control legislation, it was said. In the cash market prices advanced ¼ cent a pound.

Announcement of additional government purchases failed to support egg futures and prices were unchanged to 0.20 cent a dozen lower. October eggs closed at 28.60 cents a dozen, and the November contract ended at 28.80 cents.
